We well remember his genial presence and the fine impression he made when on a visit to this country in 1874. He was with us some days during the session of the Rock River conference that year. That was the session during which a telegram came informing us of the unexpected translation of Dr. T. M. Eddy-gone home like a seraph clapping his wings of fire, and shouting, "Eternity dawns! Hallelujah !" Those who were present at the anniversary of the Church Extension society at that conference will not easily forget Dr. Smith's address on that ccasion. The representative of the society present at that time was what Chaplain McCabe calls the "Extension" part of it. Dr. Kynett. The doctor in his speech went into a considerable self-complacency concerning this "great country of ours," and endeavored to show at some length how it exhibits all the variations of the climates and the zones, from the chills and frosts of the north down to the palms and magnolias of the South, etc., etc. Some felt a little sensitive that the excellent secretary should happen to put on so much of the Yankee boast just then in the presence of our English visitor. But when, after the doctor sat down, our guest was called on, he proved himself at once equal to the emergency. His mirthfulness and humor seemed toud

Wilson came promptly to the front and advances almost pari passu with the first name : Linus Parker comes up with a strong following ; J. G. Granbery is close behind him ; and R. K.

Hargrove soon runs well ahead of many other names receiving votes. There is unwonted silence throughout the packed audience while the counting goes on. Intent ears are listening and busy hands in all parts of the house are keeping tally. Wilson has scored twenty-four tallies, one more will elect him bishop, and scarcely has the name been called again when a clapping of hands and applause resounds from all parts of the large audience. Some professors of religion consider every affection short of ecstasy as nothing worth. Hence many, it is to be feared, substitute mere animal excitement for joy in the Holy Ghost, and thus deceive themselves. A person may bring forth the fruits of the Spirit, have much of the meekness and gentleness of Christ, and yet not be able, from some mental cause, to exercise that filial confidence toward God in which the Spirit of adoption in a great measure consists, although none can possess this Spirit without bring-
