The tail end of the hot wave that our cousin's have been experiencing for the past few weeks passed over the province the first of the week and remained here for a few days. On its arrival the mercury went up several degrees and a number of thermometers registered between eighty and ninety in the shade. Sunday and Monday were scorchers. We heard several who have been in the States say it was cool to what they had been experiencing but for all that it was warm for here.
