ALL SORTS.

A kind word to the cook never spoils the dinner.

Great Britain and Ireland imports 1,500,000,000 eggs a year.

It is estimated that there are 50,000,000 English sparrows in Massachusetts.

"Something must be done with those boys of mine at college," exclaimed a staid old citizen. "They're wilder than March hares and in hot water all the time."

"Oh, well, they're young yet, and you must make allowances." That's what's keeping me poor.—Detroit Free Press.

The Boston Herald tells this story: "Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Gilbert of Salem, who were married fifty years ago, have been fortunate beyond most people. Six children were born to them. They also have ten grandchildren and one great-grandchild, and every one of their descendants is still alive and well. Not a break has occurred in the family from the day of the marriage, fifty years ago."

There was a country wedding in Ford county, Kan., the other day, which was attended by 300 guests. "One large beef," says the local paper, "had been slaughtered and cooked, three hogs had been roasted, seventy-five pies and fifty cakes had been baked, fifteen gallons of canned peas had been prepared, ten gallons of pickles were set before the happy throng, and thirty chickens were cooked, and, besides, there were bread, ham and vegetables in proportion. That layout was doubtless sufficient to provide all the wedding guests with a square meal."

A unique violin has been made by a Missouri man. The back is of cherry from a table more than a century old, which formerly belonged to the Howard-Payne college. In the center of the back are inserted twenty-one pieces of wood from the Holy Land, one being from a grapevine that grew in the garden of Gethsemane. Around the margin are set in a row small pieces of wood, diamond shaped, gathered from all over the civilized world. In one end of the back is inserted a horse-shoe made of castor wood, and in the other end is the image of a rabbit carved in cherry. There are, in all, over 150 pieces of wood, and the only tools used in the manufacture of the instrument were a pocketknife and a half-inch chisel.

The report that Siegfried Wagner was to marry an opera singer proved, like the story of Paderewski's second marriage, to be a canard, but a German musical paper supplies its place with another Wagnerian anecdote. The story goes that Siegfried took his first composition, a polonaise, to his father, and asked for an opinion. Wagner, however, refused to look at it, saying that only fools wrote polonaises. Siegfried pointed out that one of his father's earliest compositions had been a piece of that kind. "A boy twelve years old ought to mind his books," said Richard. "Mozart began composing when he was six," replied Siegfried. "You are not Mozart." "No, but I am the son of Richard Wagner." After that there was nothing for Siegfried to do but look through the polonaise.

The popular game of "best books" has taken on a new lease of life in England. Rival newspapers are selling the "Hundred Best Books" and the "Hundred Best Novels," and the selections are coming in for wide discussion. Labouchere asked the readers of Truth to select the twenty best books in the world. A consensus of the replies published in a recent number reveals this selection, in the order given: The Bible; Shakespeare; Homer; "Paradise Lost"; "Vanity Fair"; Dante; "The Pilgrim's Progress"; Gibbon; "Decline and Fall"; "Ivanhoe"; "Robinson Crusoe"; Carlyle's "French Revolution"; "The Imitation of Christ"; Boswell's "Johnson"; "Picklewick"; Tennyson; "The Arabian Nights"; Virgil; Moliere; "David Copperfield"; "The Vicar of Wakefield."

That Queen Wilhelmina ordered all the famous Waterloo battle pictures "moved from the apartments where the peace delegates are meeting is cited as an evidence of her tact."

Joe Juneau, founder of Juneau, Alaska, died very suddenly at Dawson, May 13, of pneumonia. He made four distinct fortunes on Alaskan mines and spent everything.

Mark Twain told the London Authors' club that he worked eight hours on this pun: "Since England and America have been joined together in Kipling may they never be severed in Twain." This, the Cleveland Plain Dealer thinks, is a very poor testimonial for the eight-hour day.

Theodore, duke of Bavaria, famous as the only royal oculist, has just gone to Munich, after completing his 1,000th consultation, and his 155th successful operation, principally for cataract. The duke is transferring his Tegernsee clinic to Munich, where he will open June 20th the largest private eye clinic on the continent.

President McKinley has been giving Mr. Peixotto, the well-known artist, a number of sittings for a portrait for the Union League club of Chicago. The new picture is to be entirely different from all the other portraits of the president. It represents him during the war seated at his desk and studying a map of the campaign of our army against the Spaniards.

Cures Weak Men Free

A most successful remedy has been found for sexual weakness, such as impotency, varicocele, shrunken organs, nervous debility, lost manhood, night emissions, premature discharge and all other results of self-abuse or excesses. It cures any case of the difficulty, never fails to restore the organs to full natural strength and vigor. The Doctor who made this wonderful discovery wants to let every man know about it. He will therefore send the receipt giving the various ingredients to be used so that all men at a trifling expense can cure themselves. He sends the receipt free, and all men are asked to send his name and address to L. W. Knapp, M. D., 1710, Hull Bldg., Detroit, Mich., requesting the free receipt as reported in this paper. It is a generous offer and all men ought to be glad to have such an opportunity.

SLEEPLESSNESS MOST COMMON AMONGST WOMEN.

The Trouble is Easily Controlled.

Paine's Celery Compound

PROMPT AND PERMANENT CURES.

When women are afflicted with sleeplessness and the many ills arising therefrom, they should be aware of the fact that they can, by their own efforts, control and banish all troubles.

By the use of Paine's Celery Compound, the impure blood that underlies the stomach and the nervous system, can be purified and enriched, and the number of red corpuscles increased. Sleeplessness that causes much of the nervous prostration among women, is a trouble that Paine's Celery Compound never fails to cure.

Paine's Celery Compound, by its well known nourishing powers, enables the nerves to get back their control over the circulation; so that the blood supply becomes greater where it is most needed, as in the stomach after eating, and least where its presence can only do harm, as in the brain sleep is needed.

If worried, worried, weak and nervous women desire full health and a happy life, we urge them to give Paine's Celery Compound a fair and honest trial. Paine's Celery Compound has a marvelous record of rapid and permanent cures that embraces every city, town and village in our Dominion. No other medicine in so frequent use, frequently prescribed by our best physicians, as Paine's Celery Compound, can so surely meet the ailments of afflicted women.

South Bend, Ind., a city of 41,000 people, had no less than fourteen hotels of various grades. Among them is the Oliver, which was built at a cost of $600,000, and is considered by traveling men the finest in Indiana, if not in the West. Mr. Oliver, who built the hotel, was reproached by a friend for putting so much money in an enterprise that was sure to lose him his money. He replied that he built the hotel as a monument. "And," said he, "if it does not cost me more than $30,000 a year, I will not complain."

They Changed.

At a dinner party the other day a well known and deservedly popular dramatist took a lady down to dinner, neither knowing who the other was, as it is so often under similar circumstances.

"I can't think why they have revived that piece at the King's," the lady said. "I never liked it and it's so worn that I should have done better than that?"

"Yes," the dramatist replied, "perhaps so. It was one of my first pieces, however, and I had not had much experience when I wrote it. Let's change the subject."

The lady was quite ready to do so and wished, no doubt, that she had known who her neighbor was. He presently said:

"Are you interested in the Fenton case?" speaking of a cause celebre that was in progress.

"Yes, I've read all the evidence," was the reply.

"He'll lose it, of course," the dramatist went on. "He never could have had the faintest chance from the first. It's a marvel to me how any lawyer could have been idiot enough to allow such a case to go into court."

"Well," answered the lady quietly, "my husband was the idiot. Let's change the subject."
