It was a delightful day for sailing yesterday and all the yachts at the Ean were out merrilly skipping over the water,

The church service Sunday night a week ago was not sufficiently appreciated to warrant its being repeated last night.

About seventeen attended Sunday School at the residence of Judge Houston yesterday afternoon. The afternoon was very profitably spent. A. F. Falls rowed Dr. McKeough over to Shrewsbury Saturday night, where Mrs. McKeough met him with the automobile and they had a pleasant ride to Chatham. Mrs. A. C. Woodward was brought into Chatham Saturday night and taken to the hospital, suffering from another acute attack. Dr. McKeough went out on the five o'clock train and superintended the removal of Mrs. Woodward to the train.

Mrs. C. C. Greening and the Misses Greening entertained the cottagers to a delightful taffy pull and bonfire on the shore of old Lake Erie near Osceola Cottage. It was a beautiful evening and the moon furnished a soft light in contrast to the flickering flames of the bonfire on the beach. As the fire burned the gath-ering sang in chorus or individually. E. B. Northwood was the choir leader E. B. Northwood was the choir leader and accompanied the singing on his guitar. C. H. Gunn who was present, rendered several charming solos. Mrs. Greening made it pleasant for all the guests and visited with them during the musical program. The singing however, was suspended when the taffy appeared and all busied themselves pulling it by the light of the moon. The taffy, which was made

Arrival of the Black Watch.

Toronto, Aug. 29.—Yesterday the band of the Fighting Forty-Two, the Black Watch, arrived here shortly after 5 o'clock. The crowd was enormous, and sent up a yell such as only an enthused Toronto reception crowd can give. President Mc-Naught and Dr. Orr received them on behalf of the Exhibition, and massed military bands of the city regiments gave a musical welcome. The streets were crowded the whole way to the Armories, where the civic welcome was given.

DR. BATTISBY MADE PROTEST

Says Police Must Get Busy in Putting a Stop to Sunday Disturbances.

Gathering at St. Andrew's Yesterday Much Annoyed by Street Speeding of Horses.

All summer divine worship at St. Andrew's church has been disturbed either by shunting trains or by the speeding of horses on the brick pave-ment on William street. The pastor, Rev. Dr. Battisby, has born the in-terruptions patiently, but last night they came too frequently and the doctor was moved to speak about it forcibly.

doctor was moved to speak about it forcibly.

A week ago Sunday night a shunting train disturbed the evening service at St. Andrew's church. At that time the doctor said that he hoped that those in authority would endeavor to have this stopped in the future. future.

Last night it seemed that everyone who owned a last horse was speeding it down William street, and both worshippers and pastor were moved to resent this in so far as it interfered with the church service. The doors were closed but this afforded but little relief. After several interruptions Dr. Battisby paused in his sermon to say that if Chatham had a Chief of Police who could turn around quickly that the church wouldn't have half the bother with fast horses. He was sorry that the wouldn't have half the bother with fast horses. He was sorry that the pavement had been put down since it contributed to the disturbance of the service. People who owned fast horses, too, should have a little more consideration for others than to recklessly spoil the church service. Just because they didn't care to go to church was no reason why they should become a nuisance to others.

A prominent member of Jir Bat church was no reason why they should become a nuisance to others.

A prominent member of Dr. Battisby's church heartily endorsed the latter's protest this morning. He said that it was simply disgraceful the manner in which the service had been interfered with. The same cause of complaint could be registered against parties driving on the King street west navement. They were bestreet west navement. They were bestreet street west pavement. They were be coming a nuisance

BURGLARS

Entrance was secured to Mr. Brisco's store by prying a board off the back door. The thieves had to go up through the store to reach the till, which they robbed in plain sight of pedestrians on the street. They also took ten watches. Who ever the thieves are they are not lacking in nerve. They secured four or five dolumers. theves are they are not lacking in nerve. They secured four or five dollars in money. The burglars also entered the store of Knight & Co. They secured admittance by breaking a glass in the door. They took some tobacco and a cent from the till, but the joke is all about the safe. They found this piece of jewelry open and after rumaging it and finding nothing they thought it ought to be locked, and lock it they did. Now the firm have forgotten the combination and will have to send it to Toronto to get an expert to open the safe.

A MIDNIGHT SHOT

Saturday night at midnight P. C. ames Dodson was standing on the James Dodson was standing on the Hotel Garner corner looking for crooks when he was somewhat startled to hear from above the Standard Bank remarks something like this, "put that gun down, you d— fool, put it down, etc." Two fellows were apparently disputing about a gun Shortly, afterwards the report of a apparently disputing about a gun. Snortly afterwards the report of a gun came from the room across on the opposite corner. The policeman hustened across expecting to find a murder. When he went up to the room he discovered the tenant sitting including a shot gun and his face was as white as a sheet. Jim expected every moment to stumble over the body of the other fellow. The man with the gun said that he had accidently discharged the gun but that he hadn't killed anybody. The charge had gone under the bed. The other fellow had gone home. To prove the latter statement the missing link put in an appearance at this time and verified his friend's statement. The policeman says that the shooter was so pale with fright that he couldn't tell whether he was under the influence or not, but there was no doubt about the second fellow. The shot lodged in the baseboard and bored a hole right through it. A shot gun at short range makes quite an impression. P. C. Dodson said that from the sound he thought that a cannon had been fired.

McAllen had spent mearly eighteen years in the army as a dispenser, and in other positions in the Army Medical Service Corps and had seen service in South Africa, the rigors of the campaign there breaking down his health. having much enjoyed the brief respite the holiday afforded.

In an interview with The Planet to-day the Mayor chatted most entertainingly of the trip.

"Leaving by the Wabash on Tuesday inght." he said, "we disembarked at the main estrance and started right in sight-seeing early Wednesday morning.

"On Wednesday we visited the Manufacturers', the Liberal Arts, the mining, the Education and the United States Government buildings. The exhibits of all nations except Russia are very extensive. Canadians feel proud of their country wherever they go. Canada excels in the mines and agricultural buildings. Canada's mining exhibit is really the best of all, being a huge mantlepiece and fireside, artisucally designed and made in gold quartz. The space for the fire is covered by thick plate glass, behind which is a vauit containing $60,000 worth of gold dust and quartz in glass shelves and dishes. By clever arrangement electric light is thrown upon all in such a manner as to represent a fire glowing in the grate.

"On the second day we visited the various industries, also the electric, machinery and transportation buildings. We also saw the mummies and Queen's jubilee presents in the administration building, and tac Canadian beavers in the Fish, Forest and Game building. Mr. Goddard, who has charge of the Canadian exhibit, was tery courteous and kind throughout. In the horticulture building we met Mr. August Dupuis, the French gentleman who has charge of the Canadian fruit exhibit, who always accorded a warm welcome to Canadians.

"On Thursday afternoon we af-accorded a warm welcome to Cana dians.

"On Thursday afternoon we attended the reproduction of the Boer tended the reproduction of the Boor war,—a very thrilling, spectacular performance. Over 1,000 British and Boer soldiers take part and scenos from the principal battles are reproduced with great realism. There were 10,000 spectators and the Americans cheered heartily when a successful Boer manoeuvre was depicted. "A visit to The Pike was always enjoyed, as there are a myriad of things to interest. We dined each evening at the Inside Inn and did not find prices extortionate. Nice lodgings were obtainable for $1 per night and the Fair can be seen comportable in the second second control of the second control of longings were obtainable for $1 per night and the Fair can be seen comfortably in three days, and is well worth the trip to St. Louis. "Saturday we spent in the city, which is a bustling place of 600,000 inhabitants with narrow streets and sky-scrapers. It has many fine stores and an excellent car service. Mules are used extensively and asymptotic streets. are used extensively and paving is going on in many streets. We noticed Warren's bitulithic being laid in several parts of the city."

Mayor McKeough and party returned to this city yesterday morning considerably tired but well pleased and benefitted by their short visit to the Big Fair.
