THMGARBONEAB HERALD LND OUTPORT TELEPLONE

| LITRRARY. |  |
| :---: | :---: |
| THEPATTER ORT |  |
|  |  |
| When the angry pasaion gathering my'mother's fice 1 see, And she leads me to the bed roos |  |
| gentiy lays mee on her lmee,Then I knew that I will catch it, |  |
| Then I koew that I will catch it my Aesh, in fancy, itchroc; |  |
| I listen for the patter of the |  |
| Every tinkle of the shingle has a eoho and a oting,  And a thousane burningpifancies int active being sprung,  And a housana bees and hornet 'seath my cost tail seems to swan |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
| In a sudden intermtesion, which pears my only chance, |  |
|  |  |
| I say: "Strike gently, mother or split my"Suday pants;" |  |
| She stops a moment, draws he |  |
| says ; I led not thought |  |
|  |  |
| y Mosee ! a |  |
| And thou; 0 taming dily dootor pat a good |  |
| soft poultice on; |  |
| And may I with fools and dunces ev lasting mingle; |  |
| If I ever mey a word, when my mothe |  |

Pride and Jealomsey,

-Or, a Wronged Husband. 'I am "ready tu"moet it,' saic Grace bravely
'Bless you for that look, my wife,' returned Hugh; 'hold t it, for it hallows the past i redeems the future.'
${ }_{i}$ Go on, dear husband tell m? all,' said Grace, with a brıght expression.
-My worn out prediction are fearfully realized at last, eaid Hugh, with kis ted, 'I am ruined.'

The brightness fadered from his wife's face as she laid he head on his breast and clung a ound his neck. Through me!' through me: she sobked Sn you the stroke flls, I still reqources, in these hands, this brain. Some ferw hundr. d pounds of my fortune are dr. d pounds of my fortune still left when skilfully em ployed may ensure ne a moder ate bompetencs.
Grace shrank from his embraceff ${ }^{18}$ a though flasbed upon her that seemed to burn gher brain.

You do not know,' said she struck my foolish pride-
' I do know,' interrutped Hugh; 'calm your fear the debt is annulled.
'A nnulled !' echoed Grace in surprised; how conkl you learn.'

Clemency, told me: h quietly replied. 'I have seen agreed to take the dimons back and anulg the contract. Thi ruin has not come upon me like a summer atorm. I have seen it gradually approaching for years; Ithave tried intvain to warn you ot "it ; but my words were unheeded. You seemed to regard me as a harsh gloomy pillar, standing in your light, and a temptation has oftentimes beset me to end al tion. Then, again, my betto angel bad-me to look beyond I did no, and sew you purfied of your evil vamity, saw you shining in the richners of woman's brightest ornaments, loye, and by that promised

h

happin
cest miser "Oh, Itugh ! IIugh!" she cried; 'all that you have never found in mo, but ever hoped for shall be jours, Those tin ies I have thought so mneh of are indeed poor and indifferent trifies in the balance of your affection.'
"lluman virtues work out theiry reward, while human folfespatand stand before ture happiness ike mocking spectres has fallen has not streached me helpness, Ne man can scy sure loying word will he cenbanquet soe wal but afford that luxury and survive it. The errors of the past will be your beacon light of life of active toil opens before and I have already made arrangements to begin it. Our old friend Rudderforth has a vancacy of a clerk in his sta tion. He mentioned the ${ }^{7}$ cir cumstance incidentaily to me q few day ago since little dream ing that I should be a candi date for the toffice, but this morning I have written to him morning I ha respecting it.
'A clerkship in John Ruds derforth's bank, murmered Grace,as a spasm-passed across her face.
'The salary is a rising one commencing at two hundred pounds a year,scid ${ }^{*}$ Hugh, hog uant of my fortune, whil sec ant of my fortune, whl sec moypraybuat this fitter end may be permitted to pass by ne.
'Ignominy ! exclamed Hu:g No there is ignominy in the eggits alms, in the depend eggits alms, in the depend nts bounty, in the sumtuou is willing hands, inherits the ightfal title of inder endenue Hugh stopped lier wit's iss, and nestled her weep ing face 'spon his\%brenst At that time the drawing. J. ha Rudd was opened, and ha Rudderforth entered, fol advanced and took the hand of his frieud in silence, while Clemency clung with a loving embrace round Grace neck.
'Welcome my kind friends, velcome,' said Hugh. 'Yo have come in time to witress if not to share the happiest hour of myllife'.
'What ?' "eried John, bright ening up; then that note of Sent, I smpose, to make a sort of April tool of me. Oell, well I forgive yors.

- Alas; old frend, 'aid Hug? my ruit reality.
'Kh, what ?' exctaimed John with a shiver; it is true then. ' Quite,' replied Hugh, 'my in friznd's inreadulous started 'Hang it, don't laugh, there's fellow, said John, very greatfully disho nered cheque, with no laughing matter. But I am richly compenstated, said

'Gom  John.

Jub Printing of every depscri-
tion neatly executed at the gffice of this paper,

Advestisements.
GUNN & CO.,
CHEAP DRY GOJDS 129-water staner--129. SIGN OF TIIE RED LAMP:
RICHARD HARVET,
Having comploted hissfall importa-
tians is now oftoring them at a very ow price.
Winceys from..................... 23 per yarid. Sheeysings...
Fhannel, Fian Moleskin..
Blanketin,
Dress Gioo

naxis sic

Nex
1- chiono blot New Teas,

|  |
| :---: |
|  |

WAATED

A LOAN OA £220
For furthe: particulars apply to
NEW GARDEN SEEDS
JUST RECEIVEO
THOMPSONSI
нBuical halli Habor araca
NOW LANOIME Ex Lady Bird and Harriet from Nevy 100 Barrels Choree E M PURK,
53 Barrels LDiNS
50 Barrels Packet BEFF 44 Half brls ditto ditto
25 Barvels BEEF CUICING
10 lierces hamls

FOR 1880 FISHEATE

We are prepared to supply to nay
exteat, made from bost Now Orleana Cottoo and bard laid TVINE-th very best-all our STAVDABD NEI'S sEINES, pat together- Roped, Corked and Leaded in the most a piroved ed and Leaded in the most approved AMERICAN NEF & TWINE Co

JUS' RECEIVED.

Ex, O. Oulton tromi LV
(1)
biverite se, dic
a card.
T. W SPIK

Notary Public,
"EXPRESS" BUILDINGS ST. JOHX'S NFLD.

Vol 2

HAR

