Cab Fares.

The City Council seems to us to have decided wisely in agreeing to the publication of the schedule of cab fares, which will come up for discussion at the next meeting of the City Council. The two parties concerned are the cabmen who provide the horses, vehicles and labour, and the general public who hire them. The object of the Legislature in giving the City Council power to fix a tariff was to protect the general public without injuring the cabmen. As the power was conferred in the public interest, it would have been most unwise to agree upon any schedule without giving the public a chance of seeing it in advance and expressing, if any members of the public wished to do so, their opinion on it.

But these remarks have particular force in connection with this schedule which is somewhat complicated. It would be interesting to hear from any of those who had to do with making up the scale, the reasons on which it is based, and why a simple time or distance scale has not been suggested for adoption.

The Rosalind Here.

The Rosalind, Capt. Williams, arrived in port from Montreal via Charlottetown and Sydney at 8 a.m. to-day after a very good run. She brought a full cargo including 1000 barrels of flour and 55 head of cattle. She has 20 round trip passengers besides Mrs. P. F. LeMessurier and a few others. She sails again Tuesday.

Won First Place.

Master Edward Crawford, 17 years of age, established a record in taking the first place in the whole island in the Associate Grade. It is the first time that a student has achieved such success after only one year's study in the Associate Grade. Master Crawford is a native of Bonavista Bay, and is son of Mr. H. Crawford, Purchasing Agent of the R. N. Co. We extend our congratulations to his parents and St. Bonaventure's College.

Man Reported Missing.

To-day the mother of a young man named Fitzgerald, a resident of Barnes Road, reported to the police that he has been missing since Thursday evening. He has been drinking heavily of late, though a black lister, and the woman fears that some ill has befallen him. He was last seen on A. J. Harvey & Co's wharf Thursday evening before the Adventure left, and it is believed he went away in her.

Stephano's Passengers

The S. S. Stephano sails for Halifax and New York at 10 o'clock to-night. She takes a large cargo of fish, oil, etc., and will have a full passenger list, including 26 round trippers, who remained off from a previous ship and 76 who came down on the vessel this time. Her passengers from here are Mr. Alexander, Mr. Parsons, Mr. Ash, Miss Neil, Mrs. Clatney, Miss A. Henley, Miss Curran, Miss Comerford, Miss Hand, Misses Tapper (2), Mr. Coward, Mr. and Mrs. Neilson, Mr. Burke, Mrs. McLeod, S. B. Kesner, Mr. Cameron, Lillian Easterbrook, Mrs. Williams, Mr. Stirling, Mrs. Tobin and 25 steerage.

York Harbor Mine.

York Hr. Mine has evidently petered out altogether. The present manager will remain on the property for a short time only. There was a great flourish of trumpets when the present management took charge but even Engineers with degrees have not succeeded in doing any more than was accomplished by our local managers who made no pretence to great experience in other lands.

The present manager states that former unskilled mining methods have made further work very expensive. This of course lets the present management down easily even if it throws the onus on our local engineers. Great things were expected from this property, and we regret that the present company do not intend to continue the work. It must not be taken for granted however, that the mine is unprofitable to work however. A John Hays Hammond might find it rich in possibilities.—Western Star.

Furness Steamer Here

The Furness Line steamer Rappahannock arrived here this morning from Liverpool, 8½ days out from London, with a load of general cargo to J. & W. Pitts. The saloon passengers were Mr. Harold Winter and bride, and a few others.

Train Notes.

The west bound express reached Port aux Basques on time last night. The express from Port aux Basques arrived at St. John's at 12.30 p.m. to-day with the local from Carbonear bringing 50 passengers including J. McNamara, J. Grant, J. Russell, T. Graham and J. B. Lord.

An Ancient City Discovered.

Long Lost Umma Found Accidentally by Arabs in Mesopotamia.
London Sept. 8.—Arabs in Mesopotamia have accidentally discovered one of the ancient Chaldean cities, Umma, of the old times at the site known to-day as Youkha. For twelve months past clay tablets have been offered for sale from mounds at Youkha and recently four hundred specimens have arrived in London, but proof that they belong to the long lost city of Umma, rival of the famous old Babylonian city of Lagash, has not been derived from them, because they have not yet been read, except from a marble tablet bearing fifteen lines of arrow-head writing, now in Paris.

Italy's Queen Won Pardon for Convict.

Milan, Sept. 9.—A pathetic wedding was celebrated recently in a wretched garret in the Trastevere quarter of Rome between a hand-cuffed convict and a young woman in the last stages of consumption.

The convict was sentenced eight years ago to twelve years' imprisonment in a Sardinian penitentiary for killing a man in a street fight. On learning of his sweetheart's serious state of health he presented a petition to the Minister of Justice to be allowed to marry her. The petition was granted, and after the wedding the convict husband took a passionate farewell of his bride and was driven off to prison.
Great interest has since been taken in the case by the public and several newspapers started subscriptions to enable the wife to spend her last days in a sanatorium. The Queen of Italy also interested herself in the case and induced the King to sign a pardon. The announcement of her husband's release created such a marked improvement in the woman's condition that the doctors believe she will be able to see her husband before she dies.

Declines to Grant Hell Incorporation

Albany, N. Y., September 9.—The Secretary of State has refused to incorporate "hell." A New York city law firm recently forwarded a certificate of incorporation with that name for a proposed concern to conduct cafes and restaurants.
The Secretary returned the papers with a letter in which he said: "While the statute with reference thereto does not specifically prohibit the use of such a name in my opinion it would be against public policy to permit it."

THE ROYAL

City Council Meeting.

Full Board: Mayor Ellis presiding. Mayor Ellis made known that Messrs. T. Kent & Co. who had been given the contract on the new water cut would begin the work at once. A letter was received from the Premier stating that the representatives of St. John's West were qualified to see their way clear in regard to providing new lights in the suburbs.

Councillor Mullaugh asked about the lighting of the East End. The subject was first brought up by him last February but nothing appeared to have been done yet. The Council were willing to bear their share of the cost and it was not their fault that the work had not been done.

Mr. E. M. Jackson offered to sell his property at New Gower, Adelaide and George Streets, suggesting that it would be suitable for a market place. The Secretary was ordered to make enquiries.

S. G. Collier and G. Sheppard asked that a light be placed on The Port Alley, off George Street.

Geo. M. Barr sent in a complaint that some of the bridges over the drain at Circular Road were too low to admit the free passage of drainage after rain storms. Enquiry will be made by Road Inspector.

E. Whalen asked to be appointed Janitor of the City Hall.

Engineer will give street line to J. Stafford on the west side of Duntod Street.

E. Cuddy will repair his house at Danbrick Street.

J. Conway will be given street line near King's Bridge.

P. Devereaux was given the contract.
