A Modern Miracle.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

9275

Into a certain home there came some months ago a little woman of uncertain years and not particularly prepossessing appearance. She was an elderly cousin of the father of the family. Her husband and all her children had died leaving her "the last leaf upon the tree" and she was practically penniless, this man felt it his duty to offer her a home.

She had had a rather narrow life in a small country town; she had never travelled much; she had worked hard all her days at that familiar woman's task of trying to make "two hundred dollars do the work of nine." Furthermore, she was a plain little woman, had quiet manners and wore the simplest of clothes. Naturally, the city family who received her, although they made up their minds to be kind and good to her, did not expect to find her any acquisition to their family circle.

That was five months ago. And this is what has happened. She has become the intellectual centre of that family. The father talks politics with her, while his wife listens, feeling almost like an outsider. They hark back to old campaigns with which she is astonishingly familiar; they weigh the issues of the day, of which he, a man, actually is forced to admit that she has a better grasp than he. The son, who is a college senior, finds her not only an interested but an intelligent listener when he talks about the new discoveries in the science of chemistry in which he is "majoring." The daughter, who is reading Tenny-

NO ONE STRONGER THAN HIS STOMACH.

The celebrated Dr. Abernethy of London was firmly of the opinion that disorders of the stomach were the most prolific source of human ailments in general. A recent medical writer says: "every feeling, emotion and affection reports at the stomach (through the system of nerves) and the stomach is affected accordingly. It is the vital center of the body." He continues, "so we may be said to live (through) the stomach." He goes on to show that the stomach is the vital center of the body. For weak stomachs and the consequent indigestion or dyspepsia, and the multitude of various diseases which result therefrom, no medicine can be better suited as a curative agent as

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery.

"Several months ago I suffered from a severe pain right under the breast-bone," writes Miss M. M. MURKIN, of Corona, Calif. "I had suffered from it, off and on, for several years. I also suffered from heart-burn, did not know what was the matter with me. I tried several medicines but they did me no good. Finally, I was told it was my liver. I did not dare to eat as it made me worse. Whenever I swallowed anything it seemed that I would faint—it hurt so. I grew very thin and weak from not eating. Was told to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I took five bottles of it, and could feel myself getting better from the first dose. I could eat a little without pain and grew strong fast. To-day I am strong and well and can do a big day's work with ease. Can eat everything and have put on flesh wonderfully. I will say to all sufferers write to Dr. Pierce. He has my undying gratitude."

Miss M. M. Murkin.

Household Notes.

Buttering bread or cracker on which cheese is to be toasted improves the flavor. Mixing paprika with the butter is also good.

When serving any of the rich cheeses like Brie, Gorgonzola or Roquefort many hostesses now pass cream cheese or some milder cheese with it.

Have you tried cheese balls rolled in egg and bread crumbs and fried in boiling fat? They are delicious when served with lettuce hearts and Virginia ham.

A length of strong wire fastened by two nails driven in the wall above the shelf of pots and pans makes a very neat and convenient support for tin lids and covers.

Did you ever fill celery stalks with a mixture of Roquefort cheese and sherry or brandy? You must beat it until it is soft and smooth. It is simply delicious.

When bedquilts or blankets are too short, sew a stout piece of cloth to one end. This can be tucked under the mattress, and the bed clothing is held firmly in place.

Make cheese balls some time with cream cheese, mixed with grated green paprika cheese, and see what an appetizing addition to your salad course you will have.

When using melted cheese on sandwiches or rounds of croquettes remember to melt it in a hot oven; take off before it is cooked to harden in point and serve immediately.

Nothing is more objectionable than a sponge that has become slimy. To

Dear Sirs,—Please ship by next express, if possible, 3 doz. Mathieu's Syrup. It is the best Cough Mixture on the market. Yours truly, W. STERLING.

CHURCH POINT, July 31, '08. Blacking & Mercantile Co., Ltd., Amherst, N.S. Dear Sirs,—Nearly one year ago I had my first order of 'Mathieu's Syrup' from you. It was not known in this country, and I gave samples to several families whom I knew would use it. After a few weeks I began to have a call for it, and trade has increased wonderfully since. I have not the least doubt but that it will soon be the best selling remedy for coughs, colds, etc., on the market. In my store here sales are good, and our people ask for it. Several stores in this country now keep it in stock and report sales increasing. I have bought from you since Aug. 1st 1907. 4 Gross and have only three dozen on hand at this date, and which I am holding for retail trade in my store. Yours truly, LOUIS A. McLANSON.

remedy this, soak it in strong borax water, wringing it out and renewing the water until clean.

When making pies, before baking put two or three pieces of macaroni in the center of the crust, so as to allow the steam to escape without the juice running over the top.

A person who uses gasoline freely for cleaning purposes says she adds a few drops of oil of cedar to the last rinsing of gasoline. It helps to remove the odor of the cleansing fluid.

It is always better to have an upright piano placed against an inside wall, if possible, as the outside walls of any house are apt to gather moisture, and this will, in time, affect the piano.

Many housewives tire themselves almost to exhaustion when, if they had a rocking chair in the kitchen, a multitude of small matters, which do not require standing on the feet, could be done.

Carbolic acid may get into the eye by mistake. Alcohol in some form is the thing to use, either pure or in the form of whisky or brandy. One part of this to three parts of water is the strength required.

When, in the process of laundering, you come across spots or stains of whose nature you are uncertain, as a first remedy, before trying pure kerosene, using a small brush dipped in the oil to scrub the spot with.

The use of crepe paper for translucent curtains in summer cottages is a new idea. It is tacked in plaits along the top and can match the color scheme in any room. It looks fresh and dainty, and can be replaced at slight cost.

Place the right side of the article to be ironed upon a heavy Turkish towel, which has been folded in several thicknesses. Then iron on the wrong side. The embroidery will stand out remarkably well if treated in this way.

Yellow, dingy lace curtains are most speedily restored to their former purity of color if boiled in a strong soapuds which is half milk and half water. Boil them thus thirty minutes and proceed to finish washing them as usual.

Chiggers.

Because of the chiggers, those who are blamed little diggers, no more dare I bask in the green woodland nook, no more draw a measure of sweet wholeness from seeking the groves with a leaf and a book! A man can give battle to serpents' that rattle, to all the wild creatures infesting the woods; but chiggers defy him; as soon as they spy him they camp on his frame and deliver the goods. With swatters and beaters he fights off the sickers, with smudge fires he baffles their cousins and aunts; the chigger bird senses his rattle defenses and calmly crawls under the leg of his pants. A man on the leaf'll meet polecat or weasel and come out the victor if given a show; the coon and the 'possum—he's able to boss 'em. he'd whip seven owls if they stood in a row; but ah, what a figure he cuts when the chigger gets into his system, a-dripping for oil; he gets on his knees and his yells bust his weasand, he claws up the grass and bites chunks from the soil. The woods are deserted where erstwhile we flirted with Susan Mirandy and t'other nice maid; the tall poplars wonder why no one sits under—the chiggers have driven the boys from their shade!

The Optimist.

BY H. L. RANN.

The optimist is a retail dealer in spontaneous sunshine, contagious good humor and the helpful boost. He is distinguished by many amiable characteristics, a m o n g which is a total inability to contract a frown. The optimist arises in the morning with so much good nature in his system that it bubbles out in jokes which dispel the gloom caused by burned bacon and the sudden flapjack. Even in sleep his face is wreathed in smiles. He goes down to work with a blithe step and sunbeams radiating from his person, and when he confronts a hard knock he tells it a good story he has just heard and keeps on smiling. There are several kinds of optimists. The baseball optimist is one who sticks for the home team whence all but him have fled. In the darkest hour of defeat, when everybody else has gone out on a rant, he rises up in the bleachers with a megaphone and a perennial spring of hope and requests somebody to bury the ball in the farthest confines of space. The business optimist is one who meets a wet, backward spring with an undaunted front, and a half-page advertisement. The musical optimist is the kind which can see unlimited possibilities in a voice which nobody else can hear twice in succession without a danger of rigor mortis. The political optimist is a variety which wades knee deep in gore through a primary election without losing his faith in human nature or bolting the ticket. The social optimist is one who steadfastly refuses to believe evil of anybody until the grand jury has reported, and then backs up on the mitigating circumstances. The optimist always lives to a ripe old age. The good may die young, but the optimist swings into three score years and ten with the heart of childhood and the sweet and sturdy confidence of youth. If it were not for the optimist, this old world would be as full of cheer as an embalmers' convention, no smiles would be produced except as the result of an operation, and the human face would be about as susceptible to a play of emotions as an October gourd. The optimist ought to be encouraged by law and pensioned by a grateful republic.

Abolition of Pain

New York, June 15.—A London cable says: The abolition of pain resulting from injury or operation is promised by the new anaesthetic process described in the London Lancet fulfills its discoverer's claims.

Dr. F. W. Forbes Ross makes the announcement in the Lancet, and from the fact that it receives publicity in that conservative publication, the claim of Dr. Ross may be considered to have received orthodox approval. McCreover, Dr. Forbes has met the official requirements by giving his discovery to the public.

At the operation the patient is put under a general anaesthetic in the ordinary way, and the five to ten cubic centimetres of a 1 per cent solution of quinine and urea-hydrochloride are distributed over the nerve supply of the part concerned. The effect of such injection is to produce a total loss of the sensation of pain. Popularly speaking the affected part is put to sleep.

Surveyors to Start for Site of New Outlet.

Steamer Beothic Will Sail From St. John's Shortly and Will Have Number of Engineers on Board to Inspect New Site.

A party of engineers, numbering twenty-five, will leave shortly for the Hudson Bay for the purpose of looking over the proposed terminals at Nelson, for the railway that is being constructed either to that port or Fort Churchill, as the official decision has not yet been given out by the department at Ottawa. The party will sail from Montreal on July 2nd on board the S.S. Beothic, which is to make the initial trip to the bay, of the Hudson Bay Steamship Company, which is understood to be a part of the syndicate or company organized to building a railway from Montreal to Nottawa, on the James Bay. The ship is 1,400 tons, sails fourteen knots an hour, and is expected to make Churchill the tenth day out from Montreal, Nelson, the twelfth and will most likely arrive at the mouth of the Nottawa in fourteen days from Montreal. The promoters of the James Bay Railway are also sending by the same steamers, monthly trips to the Bay from the St. Lawrence, a number of engineers, who are to make a permanent survey to the several ports around the Nottawa region, with a view to ascertain the best site for the terminals of the Montreal and James Bay system, which is announced to be started at both ends, viz., at the Transcontinental crossing and at the northern terminus, early next spring. It is expected that sufficient work will have been accomplished by the end of the present season to enable work to go ahead rapidly next season especially north of the Grand trunk Pacific, and it is contended that he section by the G. T. P. can be completed in two years from the time of the first sod.—Sydney Herald.
