AND MEN HEAVY.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS
IN FRANCE, July 7.
The obstacles which the British troops, particularly in their attack north of the Ancre from Gommecourt to LaBoiselle, have had to encounter have been prodigious. Their valor and tenacity have been superb and because of these their losses in officers and men have been heavy; nothing is to be gained by concealing this fact. Many units have suffered dire losses on this northern end of the attacking line. There are regiments, in some cases only remnants of regiments now, whose names will ring throughout Britain when the time arrives for the full story of the battle to be told. Some of them are: South Wales Border Regiment, King's Own Scottish Borderers, East Lancashires, York and Lancashires, Seaforth Highlanders, Middlesex, Dublies, Warwicks, Royal Irish Fusiliors in the village after capturing five hundred yards of the German front. North of Fricourt the British drove the enemy from two woods and captured three, lines of trenches.

OFFICIAL.

The text of the statement is as follows: 8.44 p.m. Despite stubborn resistance on the part of the enemy our infantry, well assisted by artillery have pushed the advance with the utmost gallantry throughout this morning, and gained several important successes south of Thiepval. After fierce preliminary bombardment a further portion of an immensely strong work known as Leipzig redoubt was carried by assault. This redoubt is situated in a salient of the German line. The enemy exerted all his ingenuity over its forti-BRITISH HEADQUARTERS

Agreement was reached to-day by members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to take up next Wednesday Senator Martin's resolution, requesting President Wilson to urge the British Government to grant a stay of execution of the death sentence against Sir Roger Casement until new facts be presented. Senator Martin introduced the resolution last week, at the request of Mrs. Agnew Newman, Casement's sister.

A VILLA VICTORY.

WASHINGTON, July 7.
On instructions from General Carranza, the Mexican embassy to-day advised the State Department of the virtual destruction of a 'de facto' government on Wednesday by a large Villa band at Carralites Chihua-hua. It is suggested that the American border patrol exercise all possible vigilance to prevent the outlaws from raiding in the States.
