Two Hundred Miners Killed. PRAGUE, June 1 .- A late dispatch from

Przibram states tha! 500 men were working in the mine when the fire broke out. Latest news from the scene of the disaster indi-cates that the loss of life is much larger than was at first reported. After investiga-tion it is reported that the list reaches the startlingly large number of 200. At last accounts 25 dead bodies burned and blackened in a terrible manner had been re-covered from the mine and 25 of the covered from the mine, and 25 of the miners were rescued from the death trap in a very precarious condition. Most of the victims, including three men who lost their lives while bravely engaged in the work of rescue, died of suffocation, being overcome by the fatal gases which pervaded the mine.

The mines belong to the state. They are the deepest in the world, and yield fifteen tons of pure silver annually.

Jules Simon's War Opinions

Paris, June 2.—Jules Simon was asked yesterday whether war was likely to result from the fetes that are to be held at Nancy next week. His reply was: "Neither France nor Germany has any desire or intention of provoking a war, but we can never be sure. Some accident, trivial, even absurdly insignificant in itself, may precipitate the struggle." In answer to another question Mr. Simon said: "If there is war between France and Germany it is my fire prescription to be held at Nancy was a surface of the struggle." it is my firm conviction that France will be the victor in the fight."

No Religious Ceremony Needed. Berlin, June 2 .- The town council of Gelenau, Saxony, having discovered that one of their number, named Hoffman, had one of their number, named Hoffman, had never been married by religious ceremony, but only according to the civil code, seized upon this pretext to practically expel the delinquent, who was not popular among his fellows. They, therefore, refused to allow Hoffman's vote to be recorded on any question that came before the body. Hoffman appealed to the High Court of Justice of Saxony, which has just rendered a decision in the case, holding that a civil marriago being valid in law, Hoffman bad committed no act which would disqualify him from sitting as a member of a municipal council.

Rev. Dr. Antliff, of Montreal, was transferred to this conference; Rev. Mr. Wigle was transferred to the Manitoba Conference. All the ministers' characters passed without question or compaint.

The question of the reception of probationers into the full work of the ministry was the first business. London district had recommended A. Fowler, B. A., for reception into full compayion and reception into full connexion an ordinations, but exception was taken to his cigibility this year. He was received on probation last conference, and one year was then allowed him for the year's work done under direction of the chairman. It was claimed that the discipline allowed him two years as a graduate in arts without being on probation. Objection was taken to this and a lengthened discussion ensued. Both sides had some good reason for their ordinations, but exception was taken to his eligibility this year. He was received on Both sides had some good reason for their contention. If the recommendation was adopted on the contention for him then it was possible for a young man after one year's probation to be ordained. Strong arguments were used to show that this year's probation to be ordained. Strong arguments were used to show that this certainly was not the intention of the law. As the president must decide the law, he was allowed till the afternoon session to consider his decision.

John Morrison, C. P. Wells, B.A., and D. E. Martin were also recommended by other districts and received.
