

Victoria Hospital.

Interesting the School Children in the Enterprise.

Mrs. Bomer's Letter to the Principals, on Behalf of the National Council of Women.

The following is a copy of a letter sent to the principals of all the city schools, asking their co-operation with the women of the Local Council who are acting for the jubilee committee in the matter of bringing before the children the proposal that they, too, should take a share in the efforts of the citizens to build a hospital on the occasion of the Queen's diamond jubilee. The contributions of the children will be especially asked for a children's ward in the new hospital.

"To the Principals of the School:

"Dear Sir,—The Local Council of Women, having undertaken to assist the subscription committee of the new Victoria Hospital, by a thorough canvass of the schools, we desire to enlist your hearty cooperation and practical co-operation, and that of the other teachers in your school. It seems to us good to interest the children in this undertaking for various reasons:

"1. On account of the loyal and patriotic feeling which characterizes the children of this city, we can scarcely hope that these children will reach manhood and womanhood before the reign of Queen Victoria will have ended, and when in after years they recall their recollections of the most glorious reign in the history of the world, they will remember with pride that they helped to raise to our loved and honored sovereign a memorial worthy of her.

"2. Because as our future citizens, it is fitting and pleasing that they should take their part in procuring what is a necessity for our growing city, and will be an ornament to it for many years to come.

"3. Because it is good for the children themselves to help with an undertaking of such a philanthropic character. To have their sympathies aroused for the sick and suffering, to be asked for practical help, to be called upon to use some self-denial for the alleviation of the pains of their fellow-creatures, to feel that even the little they can do is gladly accepted and duly recognized, not only by our jubilee committee, but by the highest authority of all—cannot fail to make them better boys and girls, more thoughtful, more unselfish, more sympathetic. Everything which calls out such feelings must help in the development of a beautiful character.

"We hope within a few days to have at least one member of our Local Council call at your school, to speak to the various classes on the subject, but we are well aware that the daily influence of the teachers is more potent than that of any passing address, so we trust that you will use your most hearty endeavors to help such a worthy cause.

"We would suggest that either the teacher or some pupil should receive the contributions in bags or boxes, that purpose, keeping the donations from each class separately; that a special day, say the last Friday in May, be set apart for the children to bring in their offerings, and that the teachers be also invited to send in their contributions. On the same occasion to those of their respective classes, the several amounts being duly acknowledged, under the heading of each school and probably of each class therein.

"May we ask you kindly to aid our representative by arranging so that she can speak to as many of the scholars as possible at this time, and also to let your assistants have an opportunity of reading this letter.

"Perhaps it would be well to state that this canvass of the schools by the Local Council of Women has the sanction and hearty approval of Dr. Niven, who had previously undertaken the arrangements for the same. Counting upon your kind co-operation, I remain, sir, very faithfully yours,

"For Local Council of Women,"

DIVORCE AT 74.

An Old Couple to Separate After 50 Years of Married Life.

St. Louis, May 8.—Mrs. Margaretta Walter, aged 74, has just secured a suit for divorce at Clayton from her husband, one year her junior.

They have been married 50 years, and have six grown-up children.

BUSINESS OUTLOOK.

Bradstreet's and Dun and Co.'s Review of the Situation in Canada.

Bradstreet's says: There are no new features of general importance in the Canadian Dominion, relatively the greatest activity being among dealers in groceries, hardware and dry goods. The whole trade there is dull and the new tariff is reported to have closed some factories temporarily. Halifax there is no important change in business, and collections are disappointing. St. John, N.B., reports the largest exports of lumber to the United States for any week during the season. The Newfoundland sealing season is much below the average.

There are 39 business failures reported from the Dominion of Canada this week, compared with 31 last week, 35 in the week one year ago, 27 two years ago, and 30 in the like week of 1895.

The week's bank clearings at Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax amount to $2,112,000—about 2 per cent more than last week and 1 per cent more than in the like week last year.

Dun's review of Canadian trade says: Canadian reports show no material change in the course of business, though such changes as appear are on the whole favorable. With food retail trade at St. John and a good lumber business, wholesale trade is fairly active. Weather retards trade at Halifax, but collections are improving. Navigation is fairly open, and Montreal notes fairly new arrivals from sea, with pretty liberal shipments of grain, but only moderate increase in general business. At Toronto trade is moderate in dry goods and hardware, and quiet in groceries, while grain is slow and in small demand. Winnipeg reports continued improvement in groceries, hardware, dry goods and clothing, and retail trade improved by good weather, though collections are slow. Victoria reports no change except that payments on May 4 were not satisfactory.

Neuralgia's Persistent Agency.

Has but one source of relief. Nervine—nerve pain cure—penetrates to the irritated nerves, soothes them into repose, and affords relief almost instantly. The whole range of medicine affords no parallel to Nervine as a pain reliever.

For Peace.

Spain, Cuba and Uncle Sam Try to Settle Matters.

The United States Senate and the Arbitration Treaty.

New York, May 8.—A special to the Journal from Havana says: Your correspondent is able upon high authority to confirm the report of Washington reports as to negotiations pending between Secretary of State Sherman, Dupuy Lome and Estrera Palma, looking to a peaceful solution, by purchase or otherwise, of the Cuban question.

Washington, May 8.—The failure of the Senate to make public its action on the arbitration treaty has created an unusual condition of affairs. There is no official information that the Senate has taken any action or that the defeated treaty was different from the one originally submitted. All that is known officially is that a treaty was concluded by Secretary Olney and Sir Julian Pauncefote, and sent to the Senate, which then went into executive session, so that no official information has been given as to the amendments made and the final action taken. The secrecy of the executive session does not permit the State Department or the British Government to be notified as to what has occurred. It is felt to be due to the other contracting party to that treaty that some notice should be given as to what has been done, and as to the form of the treaty when it was rejected. In case the Senate never should make its action known, the last of the record of that treaty would be its submission to the Senate four months ago.

Romaine's Cook Revolts.

The Stray Cat His Wife Brought Home the Cause.

Mrs. Romaine Asked the Cook to Get It Some Milk—The Cook Refused, Was Discharged—Wouldn't Take a Check for Her Wages and Raised Cain.

New York, May 7.—Benjamin F. Romaine, a lawyer, residing at 24 East Tenth street, and his wife, witnessed the Grant parade and attendant ceremonies on Tuesday, after which they dined with a friend, it being the cook's evening out. On their way home, about 10 o'clock, Mrs. Romaine picked up a forlorn little kitten and took it home. On their arrival Mrs. Romaine met Margaret Lawrie, the cook, who had also just returned, in the rear hall, and asked her to get some milk for the kitten. This request precipitated trouble that lasted for hours afterwards, and precisely kept the house awake all night.

The cook instantly reminded Mrs. Romaine that it was her evening out, and that she was not supposed to do anything more until the next morning at 3 o'clock. When Mrs. Romaine appealed to the housemaid, and asked her to get the milk. But the housemaid, a member of the Housemaids' Liberty Union, decided it was time to assert her rights, and announced that she was not to be troubled by the housewife's demands. When her husband interposed and said that with a houseful of servants she was not supposed to wait upon herself, and that if some one of them couldn't get the milk it would be a good idea to get a new supply of servants in the morning.

Again Margaret was appealed to, this time by Mr. Romaine, who exceeded no better than his wife. He told Margaret that she was discharged, at which she consented, and it was thought the trouble was ended for the night at least.

Half an hour later Margaret arose, donned her clothes, including hat and jacket, and hauled her trunk in the hall, where she sat upon it, and announced in a loud voice that she had been discharged; that she wanted her money, and that she would have it at once or be put out by main force. Mr. Romaine, with an experience born of many an hour's battle with obstinate witnesses, endeavored to get the cook to reverse her decision and go to bed. Finally giving up the vain attempt, and in sheer desperation, he went to the Mercer street station, and got a policeman. The latter arrived for an hour, and then did as the cook desired; but after putting her out, he searched her on to the station, something Margaret had not bargained for. A night in a cell had by no means pleased her, and she was as irate and argumentative when arraigned in the Jefferson Market Police Court yesterday morning as she was the night before.

"Your Honor," began Margaret, "it's all the question of a girl's rights, and if you wants to know what they are, it's meself, Margaret Lowen, that will tell ye."

"Yes," I should like to know," replied Magistrate Wentworth. "My wife and I have been trying for years to find me, I'll be obliged."

"Well," resumed the cook, much elated, and not appreciating the magistrate's irony, "a girl's got an evenin' out, and it matters not whether she remains out at night or she do come home, the evenin' is her'n, and it's presumptuous any mistress is that asks her to stay out at night."

"That's proper, and if the young lady prefers to remain home and entertain her company, the policeman in the dining room she is entitled to, and it's audacious and brazen the mistress is that comes in the room pretending to look for something she doesn't want. If her rules are lived up to, she there will be no trouble, and the mistress will receive decent treatment, so she will, sir."

"Thanks, Maggie," replied the magistrate, "you are very kind, but I'll have to fine you $2."

The cook paid the fine.

SETTLED BY MARRIAGE.

Kington, May 8.—The case of Thos. Jennings, arrested for seducing Ethel Walsh, was settled by the marriage of the pair, the police magistrate permitting the couple to go to St. George's Cathedral, where Rev. G. R. Beamish performed the service.

That tried feeling is due to improper eating of food. Enrich the blood with Hood's Sarsaparilla and be strong and vigorous.

Government's May Report of Crops in Ontario.

A Late Season—Seeding Delayed—Fall Wheat Doing Well in Some Sections, but Poorly in the East.

Toronto, May 8.—The May bulletin issued today by the Ontario Department of Agriculture on the condition of crops and live stock in the province on May 1 says:

The weather the past winter was milder than usual. December was the only month below the average, having been ten degrees colder than the average of the previous fifteen years. March was seven degrees warmer than in the two previous years, and April was four degrees colder than in 1895. There were heavy frosts throughout the province on April 19 and 20.

As May opened the season was hardly advanced as usual, but it was thought that as there had been plenty of rain, there would be rapid growth when the warm weather came. Fruit buds on trees were ready to burst into bloom, and gooseberries and currants were nicely leafing. Very little sowing of spring crops had occurred, owing to the wet and rather cold weather prevailing.

Live stock may be said to have come through the winter in good condition. Horses are perhaps a little thin, but apart from odd cases of distemper, they have been almost completely free from disease. Cattle have also done well, although some of the animals are allowed to get too lean. Sheep generally are in excellent condition, and lambs are abundant. Swine have not done as well as usual. Many litters have been lost. In Essex and other Lake Erie counties there was an outbreak of hog cholera, and importations from that district and other cases appearing in parts of Lambton, Middlesex, Oxford and York. The disease appeared in the province promptly stamped out. There was a lively movement in cattle during the winter and spring, especially the western part of the province, where a large number of heaves were purchased and shipped to the United States and other American markets, good prices being given. A considerable number of horses have been purchased for export to the United States and other foreign markets. The disease appeared in the province promptly stamped out.

Reports regarding clover are not varied, but in many instances they are contradictory. Young clover are doing better than old meadows in the western half of the province, on a prompt and careful analysis of the land. In the eastern part of the province there are more unfavorable reports than in the western half. In a number of localities it is "playing out" to a discouraging extent, and spring frosts have done more injury there than in the west. In the east and the west alike has done much better than red clover.

In the western half of the province correspondents are practically unanimous in reporting the fall wheat good. Very little injury was done on the winter. On some low-lying lands spring frosts and later spring rains did some damage, but the general opinion is that above the average. When we go to Eastern Ontario, however, the reports are quite different. Special local sections come reports of poor condition and the crop being a failure; but most of the fall wheat of the province is grown in the western half, the good fall wheat acreage greatly exceeds the poor, and the prospects on the whole are very fine. The crop of this year will yield the crops of the two preceding years. It has come through the winter in splendid condition, more especially where sown on light soils.

NON-SECTARIAN.

Divines All Meet on a Common Love and are of One Accord in Praise of the Healing Powers of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder—It Relieves in Thirty Minutes.

"When I know anything is worthy of a recommendation, I will do my duty to tell it," Rev. Jas. Munro, of Harrisburg, Pa., says this of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, after having been cured of a very malignant form of catarrh. He is not the only great divine on this continent who could, and who has preached little sermons on the wonderful cures effected by this famous remedy. What is more familiar to Canadians than the Rev. A. Sweetman, Lord Bishop of Toronto, and Dr. Langtry, of the Church of England; Rev. Munro Fraser, of Knox Presbyterian Church, Hamilton, or the noted Methodist preacher-traveller, Dr. W. H. Withrow, of Toronto? All these men have proven what is claimed for Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder, and have given their written testimony to it. Sold by C. McCallum and B. A. Mitchell.

FAGGED OUT—None but those who have become fagged out know what a depressed, miserable feeling it is. All strength is gone, and despondency has taken hold of the sufferers. They feel as though there was nothing to live for. There, however, is a cure—one box of Parmelee's Vegetable Pills will do wonders in restoring health and strength. Mandrake and Dandelion are two of the articles entering into the composition of Parmelee's Pills.
