LADIES' FELT SAILORS, all colors, worth 89c, for 69c each.

Ethics of Amusements.

We clip the following extracts from a lecture delivered in Buffalo by Moses Hull on the above subject. He took as his text, "To everything there is a season and a time."

"The author of this sermon gives the history of humanity as his own experience. He finds a world filled with vanity. He tries wisdom and knowledge; both prove to be vanity. In much wisdom is much grief, and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow. In this the writer of this sermon is right; I apprehend that an intelligent man has but little sorrow or grief. I may add to this, that the more knowledge increases happiness, as well."

"This next writer tries mirth; then wine, as thousands have done before him, and since, with similar results. He then tried great works, wealth, music. In fact, he says, he tried everything and proved them all vanity. Finally, in the last chapter, the question was solved, in telling what was the whole duty of man."

SOME SPECIFIC EMOTIONS.

"We are not here particularly to investigate either the writer or the character of this book, but to talk about some of the things to which our text leads. After telling us there is a time for everything, the writer specifies, 'Among the numerous things mentioned is, 'A time to laugh and a time to mourn.' The fact is, we are all creatures of emotion, and the power which placed within us the impulse to cry, put the element of laughter in our nature. One is as Divine, as much a part of God as the other."

"It is said that man is the only animal that can laugh. I once heard a great professor lecture on laughter, and the good that comes from it. He went so far as to say that if one could not feel to laugh, he would be benefited by getting up an artificial laugh, that would shake up the diaphragm; it would be to the physical system what the burning of soot out of a chimney would be to the chimney; it might always be depended upon to bring beneficial results."

"Confirmed dyspeptics and hypochondriacs seldom laugh. Do not trust the man who never laughs; nor would I feel, to trust very far the man who never jokes. I know 'the fool is known by his much laughter,' so the villain is known by his lack of it."

Asthma.

You've tried almost everything for it, haven't you? And we presume you are about discouraged. Now what do you think of our idea of breathing-in the medicine, bringing it right up to the diseased part?

It looks reasonable, doesn't it? And it's successful, too.

When you inhale Vapo-Cresolene your breathing becomes easy, the wheezing ceases, and you drop to sleep. For croup and whooping-cough it's a quick cure.

Vapo-Cresolene is sold by druggists everywhere. The Vaporizer and Lamp, which should last a lifetime, and a bottle of Cresolene complete, $1.50; extra supplies of Cresolene 25c and 50c. Illustrated booklet containing physicians' testimonials free upon request. Vapo-Cresolene Co., 210 Fulton St., New York, U.S.A.

known by his seldom laughing, excepting a kind of sardonic laugh, when he supposes he has his victim in his grasp. There is very much of character expressed in a laugh. Ella Wheeler Wilcox said, 'Laugh and the world laughs with you; weep, and you weep alone.'

"Amusement means pleasurable excitement. To amuse is to divert; to entertain, gratify; to beguile one's thoughts for the time being, away from troubles and sorrows. There is no medicine better for those afflicted with bodily or mental pain than laughter. If I were as young as I once was and knew what I now know, and felt as I now feel, there would be one more medical school founded; I would call it the laugh-opathic system. I would teach my students to administer to the sick heroic doses of laughter. If the first, second or third dose did not effect a cure, I would instruct them to double the dose."

"The orators who have made the world think and move have first made it laugh. The world laughs at good jokes. There is a science of joking. A science which not everyone can learn, although all may profit by its study. There is a science in poetry; yet not everyone who understands prosody and the laws of rhythm and rhythm can be poets."

"A joke consists mainly in putting two things together which do not belong together. The one who can do this successfully can generally hold his audience."

"Amusements can be of the baser sort, or they can have an upward tendency. The trouble with the world has been that they have connected amusements with the evils which have followed some of them. This is as bad as to connect eating with dyspepsia. Nearly all dyspeptics have contracted the disease by over-eating, or by eating unwholesome or ill-prepared food. There is no more reason for denying all amusements because there are some bad amusements than that we should denounce all food because some eat too much and too often of badly prepared food."

Napoleon on English Character.

The London Spectator, reviewing Lord Rosebery's 'Napoleon,' quotes from it some conversation the great prisoner had with Cases and Gourgaud, two of the members of his military court. 'The English character,' he says, 'is superior to ours. Conceivably, one of the leaders of a great party, committing suicide at 60 because he had lost his wife. They are in everything more practical than we are; they emigrate, they marry, they kill themselves with less indecision than we display in going to the opera. They are also braver than we are. I think one can say that in courage they are to us what we are to the Russians, what the Germans are to the Italians. Had I had an English army I should have conquered the universe, for I could have gone all over the world without demoralizing my troops. Had I been in 1815 the choice of the English as I was of the French might have lost the battle of Waterloo without losing a vote in the legislature or a soldier from my ranks. I should have won the game.' Lord Rosebery rightly considers this a remarkable tribute, coming from such a source.

THE CHINESE 'EMPEROR'

Talks About Returning to Peking Immediately.

Officials Alarmed at Rumors of Another Expedition of Allies Into Yang-Tse-Kiang Valley.

London, Dec. 2.—Chang Chih Tung has received a dispatch from Sian Fu, says the Shanghai correspondent of the Standard, directing him to stop the forwarding of further supplies to the province of Shen Si.

It is rumored that Emperor Kwang Su will return to Peking immediately, and that the empress dowager will follow if the reception given him is satisfactory.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Times also reports that it is believed in well-informed circles that the Chinese court is anxious to return to Peking, but he says that such a course would not be agreeable to Li Hung Chang, who hopes to gain an advantage from dissensions among the powers.

CHINESE ALARMED.

Shanghai, Dec. 1.—Chinese officials here are alarmed at the reports that the allies mediate an expedition into the Yang Tse Kiang Valley, and there is renewed activity on the defenses. Munitions of war, including twenty 200-pound gun cotton mines have been sent from Shanghai to the Kiang forts.

The Shanghai correspondent of the Times writing yesterday, says: "Reports of uneasiness at Tien Tsin continue. Chinese regulars and Boxers are believed to be returning to that district secretly, and a general alarm is being spread before the port is closed for the winter."

VANDALISM.

Dr. Morrison, writing to the Times from Peking, says: In pursuance of their regrettable policy of appropriation, the French and German generals, with Count Von Waldersee's approval, have removed from the wall of Peking the superb astronomical instruments, erected two centuries ago by the Jesuit fathers. Half of them will go to Berlin and the rest to Paris. The explanation of this act of vandalism is that, inasmuch as the return of the court is so improbable, such beautiful instruments should not be exposed to the possibility of injury when Peking is no longer the capital. Russia, it is understood, at Tien Tsin, will transfer the Shan Hai Kwan Railroad to the Germans on Dec. 15.

PUNITIVE EXPEDITIONS.

Count Von Waldersee expresses some solicitude, says the Peking correspondent of the Morning Post, as to the expediency of punitive expeditions in the surrounding country, but he believes that they are necessary and salutary. Most of the British officers approve them. "Sir Robert Hart, in the course of conversation," said the correspondent, "expressed his opinion that the British should not be party just and the outgrowth of the last sixty years of treaty relations. He seemed to think that the settlement would be a difficult problem. Chinese military forces are being formed everywhere, and even if the importation of foreign armaments is prohibited, a supply would be easily obtainable from Chinese arsenals. A body of 100 American soldiers, sent to the Peking Chinese officials to Tien Tsin."

MESSAGE FROM THE COURT.

Li Hung Chang has received a dispatch from the court, which has agreed either to behead or otherwise kill Yu Hsien, formerly governor of Shan Si, who personally killed many Christians. Members of Li Hung Chang's staff say the emperor will probably send Yu Hsien a silk cord, which is an intimation that he must hang himself.

W. Ragsdale, United States consul at Tien Tsin, reports increasing activity among the Boxers in the neighborhood of that city.

JAPAN'S ACTION CAUSES SURPRISE.

London, Dec. 1.—The Japanese consul here, says the Shanghai correspondent of the Daily News, "acting under instructions from Tokio, has withdrawn his assent to the consular proclamation forbidding the importation of articles used in the manufacture of war materials. This action has caused general surprise, as it is known that the Chinese are actively purchasing arms and munitions, and that the custom officials are conniving at the passage of false declarations, under official instructions."

LIVE WORMS IN ARSENIC.

Detroit, Dec. 3.—Lambert & Lowman, manufacturing chemists, received a cask of arsenic of the white powdered variety, which is supposed to be a deadly poison to all animal life. Their surprise about 25 little worms were found wriggling in the cask. Some of them were placed on slides and sent to the Smithsonian Institute for classification.

Cancer Sufferers Shrink From Chloroform and Cutting

No Further Need for Dangerous and Painful Operations Since the Introduction of the New Constitutional Treatment.

People naturally dread the surgeon's knife, the chloroform and the operating table. More especially is this so in the case of those suffering from cancer, as the most skilled surgeon will tell you. This is the reason why no hope of a permanent cure by operation, and that the disease is as likely to return as not within a year. The new method of treating cancer by a constitutional remedy, taken internally, has been so wonderfully successful, that within the last few years it has practically superseded all other forms of treating this disease. The principle on which it is based is that the cancer is a virulent poison in the blood, and removing the lump or growth simply, does not get at the cause of the disease. The new remedy, when taken into the system goes directly to the root of the trouble, searches out the cancer poison, neutralizes and destroys it, and builds up the weakened organism. It is a pleasant preparation to take and will not upset the stomach, or the most delicate. Messrs. Stott & Jury, Bowmanville, Ont., on receipt of two stamps, will be pleased to send further information about this remedy, to anyone desiring it.

FELL UNDER THE CARS

Toronto: Man Killed at Thamesville—Was Stealing a Ride.

John Hudson, whose home is in Toronto, was stealing a ride on a Wabash train yesterday, and when near Thamesville he in some manner fell under the cars, the wheels passing over him, cutting off both his legs. The unfortunate man only lived a short time. Hudson first claimed this city as his home, but later stated that he lived in Toronto.

THE KILTIES IN CHICAGO

Forty-Eighth Gordon Highlanders Regiment Band Get a Great Reception—Their Tour a Success.

Chicago, Dec. 3.—The provenance of a certain portion of her majesty's subjects taking their pleasures painfully were refuted by the Scotch cheers that punctuated the "Kilties" concert at the Coliseum last night.

Although the well-filled hall held a representative Chicago audience, the one-time natives of "Bonnie Scotland" and their descendants were predominant, and the first strains of one of the ancient melodies led to the heart of the Scot revealed their location in the auditorium. The waving of kerchiefs and the vociferous demands for encores were smilingly acceded to by the band, and the spirit with which the airs were rendered proved the enthusiasm had reached the "Kilties."

The tour of the organization, which is the band of the celebrated 48th Gordon Highlanders Regiment of Toronto, has been an artistic and financial success, and the greeting accorded the members on their arrival in Chicago from Indianapolis was a cordial one. As the Kilties are a decorated band, stepped from their train they were greeted by representatives of many local Scotch and English societies. Headed by a platoon of police and the mounted constabulary, the band, with the welcome accorded to them on their last Canadian tour, the "Kilties" marched through the downtown streets led by their gigantic drum major, Roderick Donald MacLay. The band, which has taken a great deal of voluntary shiver to many spectators as they gazed at the unclad knees of the sturdy marchers.

An audience of 6,000 cheered impatiently the efforts of the band, the feats of the dancers, the drone of the pipes, and the Scotch songs sung by the male chorus. Suggestions of airs to be played were shouted to the leader, and in several instances responded to. The concert and several songs of the Kilties were mildly applauded, but the first strains of "Bonnie Dundee" caused an outburst of enthusiasm that caused a cessation of the music for a few moments. Many encores were demanded, and the members of the organization were assured that they had scored an emphatic success.

The "Kilties" will visit every part of the United States before returning to their home. They are greatly pleased with the reception given them and the goodwill shown.

The Sunday Rest Congress.

[New York Independent.]

One of the most significant facts of the time is the attention being given in Europe to the question of Sunday rest for employees. Three years ago an international congress on the subject was held at Brussels, followed this year by another in connection with the Paris Exposition. The attention given to it by the Paris Journal, and the membership indicate the hold the question has on the public mind. The presiding officer, Berenger, was a member of the French Senate and presided, and among the delegates were representatives of various industries and of the states of Europe. The discussions took up the various phases of the question in relation to manufacturing, commerce, transportation, public service; but the point that occupied far more attention than any other in the congress was that of legislative intervention for the protection of personal liberty. It was urged by one hand, delegates from Belgium, Germany, Austria, Great Britain and Switzerland where Sunday laws are now enforced to a greater or less extent, urged the justice and necessity of a general convention to protect the rights of the great majority in any branch of business against the selfish competition of the few, on the principle so generally accepted in that country, that every citizen has the right to rest for each day of the week, and that each depends upon a law of rest for aid, while on the other hand all such legislation was earnestly opposed, especially by the French members of the congress, as involving infringement of personal liberty. It was urged by them that after all such laws could not be enforced, except so far as they accorded with the customs and convictions of the people, and that reliance for the procuring of Sunday rest must be placed upon the good will of employers. It was conceded, however, by both sides, that it was the duty of the state to set the example of according Sunday rest to all engaged in the service of the state, and that it was necessary to question (which was necessary for a time likely to divide the congress) was finally settled by the adoption of a resolution affirming the right of the civil law to intervene in favor of the Sunday rest, refraining from expressing any judgment as to the application of this principle in different countries.

PNEUMONIA AND CROUP.

"I take my pen in hand to inform you of the great cure effected by your medicines. Some time ago my husband was taken down with lung fever. It came on him with a chill in the night. It happened I had a supply of your medicine in the house at the time. I rubbed his chest and back with the Radway Ready Relief. I gave him a teaspoonful in a little hot water to drink, to help warm and stimulate him, and in about half an hour three of the Radway's Pills. By the time the doctor came the next morning he was much better. The doctor wanted to know what I had been doing. I told him. He said that was good, that they were good medicines. Another case I had was with my little nephew, who was staying with me. He was taken with croup. I rubbed his chest, throat and back with the Ready Relief, gave him doses about an hour apart, followed it by a dose of pills. By the next day he was about all right. I have been using this medicine, with my family and my neighbors, for about 30 years, and never knew it to fail, when the directions were carefully followed. I would feel greatly obliged to you to please forward me 'False and True,' one of your publications, for which I enclose stamp, for I absolutely need it at once. If you please. You are at liberty to make use of this testimony, as you may think proper. Yours respectfully,
