The work has been done, and, with some miaor exceptions, has been well done. Of the permanence of the Confederation there is now no doubt; that Canada possesses possibilities of material progress and wealth equal to the most sanguine expectations formed thirty years ago is now conceded by all. The eyes of the world are upon our country, and the verdict of all observers is favorable. As a part of the glorious Empire, Canada occupies a singularly proud and conspicuous position. She has struck a keynote to which the whole vast realm has responded. Every—

Whether or not it did so in Mr. Higgins is mind, it would be impertinent to induity. Higgins is reported to have said that the government by the Cassiar railway bill had alienated 4,000,000 acres of mineral and alienated 4,000,000 acres of mineral and alienated 4,000,000 acres of mineral district to the condition of serfs. Before the case, which creates the most surplication of the condition of serfs. Before the case, which creates the most surplication of the condition of serfs. So far as we have observed the only papers which approve of it are the two Rossland dailies, and we do not do these papers any injustice when we say these papers any injustice when we say these papers any injustice when we say the case of thur consideration.

While the speculation in the shares of mining companies have collapsed and the promoters of mining compani day completely demonstrates the witdom of the fathers of Confederation.

A GREAT DISAPPOINTMENT

The Vernon News is greatly disappointed over the failure of the Federal government so far to subsidize a railway into the Boundary Creek district. "Last the Toronto Clobe For this much solution and the federal genius of the federal government so far to subsidize a railway projects in British Columbia." So says 4,000,000 acres was only 3,300,000 acres was only 3,300,000 acres. Thus trappears that genius. Then they shook hands like brothers and projects in British Columbia." We beg to remind the Globe that British Columbia does not apthe most cheerful nature; now the outlook is gloomy in the extreme." Speaking of the proposed arrangement for the beginning of work at Penticton this commence construction from the Penticton end; and it was generally understood that construction would also be vigorously carried on from the eastern extremity. This meant to us the introduction of a period of increased busiduction of a period of increased business activity, which would be of untold advantage to the farmers, merchants and other classes of our population. We shared the joy felt by the residents of the rich Boundary Creek and Kettle River districts, and rejoiced that the valuable mineral producing sections would at last be opened up. Probably several million dollars would have been spent this year in the construction of this line, and the stringency of hard tumes, felt so keenly of late, would at least be opened on the construction of the province is being increased at the rate of over $1,000,000 a year.
