to Pacify Mohamedans In China.

They had Never Heard of the Sultan and Turks Couldn't Find Them.

Steamer Queen Adelaide brought news that Enver Pasha and suite of the Turkish mission to China, have left Shanghai to return home via Vladivostock and the Trans-Siberian Railway, thus ending the fiasco. The Sultan of Turkey was persuaded by the German Emperor, says the North China Daily News, to despatch the mission "to pacify the Mahomedans in the northwest provinces of China in the event of their causing the authorities trouble." There were serious rumors that a Mahomedan religion could be most usefully employed in pacifying the Mahomedans in China had never heard of the Sultan of Turkey, and the Mahomedan subjects of the Emperor of China.

But the Mahomedans in China had never heard of the Sultan of Turkey, and their whole idea of Mahomedans was that it was a religion which prohibits the eating of pork. When Enver Pasha arrived at Shanghai, he found that is the first place there were no Mahomedans handy to be pacified, and in the second place that the name of the Sultan of Turkey and their whole idea of Mahomedans in China had never heard of the Sultan of Turkey, and their whole idea of Mahomedans was that it was a religion which prohibits the eating of pork. Another Prize.—The president of the Trades and Labor council yesterday received a most welcome letter from Mr. H. D. Helmcken, M. P. P. In it the this afternoon from the family residence, Cook street, and later at St. Barnabas' church.

The secretary presented the following interesting report:

In accordance with the instructions of the last committee meeting, I paid a short visit to the upper country, stopping at Vernon, Lumley, Kelowna, Salmon Arm and Ashcroft. Faddressed meetings at the three first of these places. I did not consider it advisable to hold an auction sale in the Okanagan, and took ordens for one car of stock, which has just been distributed. In Salmon Arm I also placed a small order. At Ashcroft I found a good deal of interest taken in the work of the association, but did not find it very feasible to secure orders for stock, and in spite of the fact that most of the stockmen had made all their arrangements for the season and had already purchased bulls, I thought that the demand would justify the importation of one car of stock for sale. After consultation, but did not find it very feasible to secure orders for stock for sale. After consultation with the president and committee, a straight car of twenty Shorthorn bulls was ordered and sold at Ashcroft on the 18th of June with success. The stock was very highly thought of, and the venture will advertise the work we are carrying out better than would have been possible by any other means, and will I think, ensure the success of a much larger sale in the near future.

There is throughout the upper country from Penticton to Chilcoten, a good demand for better stock both from the larger and smaller breeders. Practically for some years the bulls for the whole of the upper country has been drawn from one herd, and there is no doubt that our breeders recognize that it will pay them to secure some fresh strains, and if auction sales of pure bred stock are held in the upper country has been drawn from one herd, and there is no doubt that our breeders recognize that it will pay them to secure some fresh strains, and if auction sales of pure bred stock are held in the upper country in rood time, after being advertised, they will be well attended.

It is, I think, in the interest of the l In accordance with the vere red averaged as follows in Kansas City's market:

32 steers at $5.40 brought $45.29.

74 helfers at $5.35 brought $40.60.

The 18 poorest helfers at $5.15 brought $38.20 each. The average weight for the lot was 800 pounds each.

This experiment is as much in the line of the farmers of our lower country as in that of the stockmen of the ranges, and it is particularly a lesson to all of us of the advantage of feeding stock from the beginning and selling it young. It is a recognized fact that it costs less to put a pound of meat on a young pig or a young steer than on an older one. While at Vernon I had the pleasure of meeting Colonel Dent and his staff. Mr. Anderson had kindly advised me of his visit, but I did not think that our organization was sufficiently established to furnish any assistance of value in this direction. A little system and organization was badly needed and would have been the means of bringing together I think, a more suitable class of horses and more of them to Col. Dent's notice.

I regret to note that these gentlemen had

PRECEDENCE OF BISHOPS.

Sir: Canon Beanlands entirely mis-understands my position, if he thinks that I desire that all the ministers of the several churches should have places in official functions. As I explained in my former letter. I see no reason why any of them should be treated as holding official relations to the state, when, as

But in any case, the recognition apparently is given to the name of the office rather than to the office itself. The basis of discrimination relates to the use of a word, and so the remedy for these churches that feel slighted at being ignored, is to use that word to designate their chief officers.

It is a very simple remedy. So simple, indeed, that one wonders why it should be necessary.

TENDERS FOR STONE.

Sir: At a meeting of the board of aldermen yesterday afternoon, the matter of awarding the contract for stone for the James Bay causeway was settled after being under consideration for over two weeks. After the tenders were received it was found that Mr. J. Mortimer was the lowest tender for both cut and rubble sandstone, but did not satisfy the board, who yesterday took up the next lowest tenders, and it shows that my tender was the lowest whole tender, but that Mr. Wood was the lowest for cut stone when separated, and the board awarded him the contract accordingly, which is a when separated, and the board awarded him the contract accordingly, which is a saving to the city of $1,420, and my tender for granite rubble was the lowest, being $9,200. The board awarded the contract for sandstone rubble to Mr. John Haggerty for $11,000, making a difference of $1,800; also reducing the weight of the wall, as sandstone is not nearly so heavy as granite. By this it will readily be seen that the board was not justified in their actions, also doing me a great injustice.

Thanking you for your valuable space.

FRENCH MOTOR MEN AND WOMEN.

Cronberg, Ang. 6.—In accordance with the expressed wish of the deceased Empress, the funeral services will be as simple as possible under the circumstances. The body will remain on the bed where she died until ready for the coffin. The roses, in which it is almost buried, are from her private garden, many of the bushes having been cultivated with her own hands.

Emperor William had a long interview with Count von Bulow today. He drove from Homburg to Freidrichschoff and soon after his arrival the following official announcement regarding the funeral arrangements was made:

"On Thursday the royal family will attend the funeral services in the castle accounted the funeral services in the castle accounted to the amount of business some deea as to the amount of business for private garden, many of the bushes having been cultivated with her own hands.

Emperor William had a long interview with Count von Bulow today. He drove from Homburg to Freidrichschoff and Spence's Bridge. Probably one-third to one-half this number will be shipped this year to the coast from north up the Carlboo road and south and east to the Boundary and Kootenay districts.

"On Thursday the royal family will attend the funeral services in the castle some idea as to the amount of business some idea as to the amount of business."

The send that satisfactory arrangements could be made with the Canadian Pacific railway to run stock back at reason. The dukes and duchesses who have count as motormen and motorwomen function of the ranges; In the cast two cars of mixed stock could be sold; sheep should be sold at the funer should b thoroughfare in Paris, where there are no refuges or policemen to regulate tratitets.

These figures, if rather crude, will give some idea as to the amount of business done. From what little knowledge I have of this subject I anticipate a considerable increase of business in the near future. The successful growing of alfalfa, sanioin and other large crops, and the increased area brought into cultivation by irrigation, will ensure a greater supply of winter feed, while the introduction of better sires of earlier maturing qualities and better feeding in the winter, will allow of the steers being turned off at an earlier date. This will allow of a larger number of breeding stock to be kept on the same range.

In this connection I would like to draw your attention to a recent experiment made in Kansas. One hundred and thirty calves were fed for some seven months, and at a year old averaged as follows in Kansas. I regret to note that these gentlemen had to meet on more than one occasion, to say the least of it unbusiness-like methods on the part of the sellers. I cannot help referring to tactics such as bringing in horses, a second time with a different rider, or asking exhorbitant prices as calculated to discredit the Canadian breeder and to deter any future purchase.

I may add that the war office, having laid down a certain standard of their requirements as to age, height, etc., which was duly announced in the press, it remains for us to produce this class of horses is to my place to abuse the war office or their officials for not preferring any other class of horse.
