CASUALTIES.
The following casualties have been reported during the past week.
Missing:—
J. W. Ahern, Nigado, N. B.
Frank Gerrard, Campbellton.
Killed in Action:—
J. Lynch, Chatham.

DESERPTIONS.
It is reported that there are several deserters from the 462nd Battalion in this vicinity—men who were fed and clothed and trained for a year in Chatham and Valcartier, and skipped out when the time came for going to the front. These men will, we presume, be rounded up after a time, and either shot or sent to the penitentiary.—World.

A. R. Gould says he gave J. H. Crockett that celebrated $1,000 of Valley Railway money just because Crockett wanted it. And now Mr. Crockett intimates that a firm of railway contractors has given him $2,500 just for love, or merely in recognition of the fact that he promised to put in a good word for them when they were trying to get paid for their work. Just so, and this reminds us that Mr. Flemming was given $70,000 by the lumbermen as a free-will offering and without solicitation or consideration. All of which proves that our railway contractors and lumbermen are altruists, and philanthropists, with a burning desire to distribute their profits among their friends, and not selfish and soulless seekers after wealth.—World.

Young Mr. Halliwell was not much of a preacher, but much to his own surprise, and everybody else's, he was appointed chaplain on a battleship. He desired to amuse as well as instruct his men, and to that end he arranged a magic lantern lecture on Bible scenes and incidents.

A sailor who possessed a gramophone was secured to discourse appropriate music between the slides. The first picture shown was Adam and Eve in the Garden of Eden. The sailor cuddled his brains, and ran through his repertoire, but he could think of no piece exactly appropriate.

"Play up, play up!" whispered the chaplain.
Suddenly an inspiration struck the sailor, and, to the consternation of the chaplain and the delight of the audience, the gramophone squawked out: "There's only one girl in this world for me."

"You impudent mammothrept!" That's what a Southern girl called Jack Donovan, an amateur photographer who had bet he could snap six of the prettiest young women in the Harvard summer school within 72 hours.

The pictureman's first victim was the pretty blonde from Alabama. He sighted her flashing orbs and returned the fire doublefold.

"You impudent mammothrept!" she cried.
Disabled, but with exposure No. 1 in his possession, the photographer retreated, not knowing what he had been called but fearing the worst.

Whereupon he consulted numerous authorities and finally found, in a dictionary, this:

"Mammothrept: a child reared by its grandmother; a spoiled child."

Nearly every one of his friends had suffered from the caprices of the practical joker. Happily the joker had weak points of his own. One of them was a dislike for night air. One morning about 2 o'clock there came a tremendous thumping at his front door. The joker hopped out of bed, opened his front window, and leaned out. "In heaven's name, what is the matter?" he said. "One of your windows is open," said a man on the sidewalk. "Which one?" said the joker. "The one you've stuck your head through," was the reply.

Standing in front of one of Peterson's pictures were several young women. One young woman, who was gazing at the picture ardently, suddenly exclaimed: "Oh, if I only knew the artist who did this!" "Pardon me," said Peterson, stepping forward with great delight at the evident prospect of being taken up by the social set. "I am the artist." "Ah!" she cried, with a particularly winning smile, "then in that case won't you please tell me the name of the dressmaker who made that perfectly stunning frock you model wore?"

Suspicious.—As Widow Watts bent industriously over her wash-tub she was treated to police conversation by a male friend, who presently turned the conversation to matrimony, winding up with a proposal of marriage. "Are ye sure ye love me?" sighed the buxom widow, as she paused in her wringing.

Te man vowed he did.
For a few minutes there was silence as the widow continued her labor. Then suddenly she raised her head, and asked:

"You ain't lost yer job, 'ave yer?"

The family have the sympathy of all in their bereavement.

The Real One.—A lady employing a colored man asked him his name. "Mah name is Poe, mah'am."

"Poe? Perhaps some of your family worked for Edgar Allan Poe?"
The man's eyes opened with great surprise. "Why," he gasped, pointing a dusky forefinger to himself, "why Ah am Edgar Allan Poe."

An officer lately returned from Alexandria brings home a story of the British soldier's humor. A certain curio-collecting captain had prevailed upon two privates to move his effects. They managed everything save a weighty packing-case, which defied their united efforts. As they paused to wipe the sweat from their brows one asked:

"What the deuce is in it, Bill?"

"T' Pyramids," answered Bill, promptly.
Fatal Kindness.—Minnie—"So sorry to hear of your motor accident!"
Lionel—"Oh, thanks; it's nothing. Expect to live through many more."

Minnie—"Oh, but I hope not!"

TAKES OFF DANDEUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderrine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderrine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.
Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderrine. Save your hair! Try it!
