

Sons of Ignatius in Spain

judge, their extensive experience and their love for their profession and scientific studies, stifled prejudice, silenced jealousy and finally drew forth the public confession that no other body of men in the Christian world had in that decade so many sons illustrious in the sciences of astronomy and meteorology as the distinguished Order of Jesus. The late Father Perry, the present astronomical director of Stoughton, E. Corbie, S. J., the late Father Scola, S. J., of the Vatican, Father Vines, S. J., of Belmont, Father North, S. J., Spiritual Father of the "La Cuesta" Marzosa, Father Heart, S. J., Father Aligne, together with the late Father Faura formed a brilliant constellation of astronomical talent peerless in the wide world of science. But his labors were not exclusively directed to science, but in Spain's metropolis, where he became one of the honored canons of the Basilica, that this illustrious prelate was revered, and his name treasured as a household word, as one of the most energetic and able, both by his eloquent counsel and gifts, and by the fervidly extending devotion to our Divine Lord in the Tabernacle of His love—a devotion the flourishing condition of whose numerous confraternities, from the Biscaia to Andalusia, from Santiago to the Bay of Biscay, was in a prominent manner due to his Eminence Cardinal Sanchez. Yes, to him is due that encouraging "Excoisior," that glorious "Votivo Adoremus," which previous to Spain's first Eucharistic Congress he addressed to the clergy and people of the Peninsula. This was that onward momentum of his devotion to our Divine Lord by day and by night, which now brightens the religious life of Spain and whose daily progress nothing now can arrest. At the second National Eucharistic Congress held last autumn at Logroño, for the first time a Bishop, he displayed his rare qualities as a writer and orator. To him was then assigned the inaugural address at the opening of the Sessions, in which with brilliancy of expression and beauty of diction he graphically pictured the surpassing love of Spain from the early days of its Christianity for Jesus in His hermit home in the Tabernacle, tracing it step by step to the present day. At once he captured the convictions, the reason and the affection of the heart of an audience so critical and so learned that its unanimous voice was that the executive committee of Spain's sacramental city had not made Dr. Capperro's selection in vain. Many are the acts of charity and of alms-giving of his illustrious prelate that are writ large in the memories and hearts of his afflicted dioceses, to whose custody, instead of the friends of his youth, he demised his mortal remains, that they might rest in the ancient Basilica. Yes, this, and many other deeds of his illustrious prelate, given just reason to Signeura to lament the death of one whose episcopal career promised a brilliant future. His premature death with those of the Bishops of Teruel and Avilla formed a triumphant prelude to his death in succession the year after, neither having concluded the first year of their proclay. R. TWO MONTHS TO LIVE.

THAT WAS WHAT A DOCTOR TOLD MR. DAVID MOORE.

The Remarkable Experience of One Who Was an Invalid For Years—His Doctors Treated Him Without Benefit—He Gave His Renewed Health to Following a Friend's Advice.

From the Ottawa Journal. Mr. David Moore is a well known and much esteemed farmer living in the county of Carleton, some six miles from the village of Richmond. Mr. Moore has been an invalid for some years, and physicians failed to agree as to his ailment. Not only this but their treatment failed to restore him to health. Mr. Moore gives the following account of his illness and eventual restoration to health. He says:—"My first sickness came on me when I was 69 years of age. Prior to that I had always been a strong healthy man. I had a bad cough, and was growing weak and in bad health generally. I went to North Gower to consult a doctor, who after examining me said, Mr. Moore I am very sorry to tell you that your case is very serious, so much so that I doubt if you can live two months. He said my trouble was a combination of asthma and bronchitis, and he gave me some medicine and some leaves to smoke which he said might relieve me. I took neither because I felt sure I had neither trouble he said, and that he did not understand my case. Two days later I went to Ottawa and consulted one of the most prominent physicians there. He gave a thorough examination and pronounced my ailment heart trouble, and said I was liable in my present condition to drop dead at any moment. I decided to remain in the city some time and undergo his treatment. He wrote a few lines on a piece of paper giving my name and place of residence and trouble, to carry in my pocket in case I should suddenly. I did not seem to be getting better under the treatment and finally left the city determined to consult a doctor nearer home. I was made worse by an attack of la grippe, which left behind it a terrible pain in my neck and shoulders. This became so severe that I could not raise my head from my pillow without putting my hand to it and lifting it up. I went on until I was trying my sixth doctor, and instead of getting better was getting worse. The last doctor I had advised me to wait until the heat of summer was over when he would blister me for the pains in my neck and shoulders, which he felt sure would relieve it. I was very much disappointed to undergo this blistering when I met Mr. Geo. Argue, of North Gower, who told me of the wonderful cure Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had wrought in him, and advised me strongly to try them. I went to the doctor and instead of going to the doctor's I bought some Pink Pills and returned home and began using them. Before I had finished my second box there was no room to doubt that they were helping me. I kept on taking the Pink Pills, and my malady, which the doctors had pronounced to be successfully diagnosed, was rapidly leaving me. The pain also left my neck and shoulders, and after a couple of months treatment I became strong and healthy. I am now in my 77th year and thank God that I am able to go about with a feeling of good health. I still continue taking the pills occasionally, feeling sure that for a person of my age they are an excellent tonic. After the failure of so much medical treatment I think God that nothing else than Pink Pills could have restored me to my present condition." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured all other ailments and failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the triumphs of modern medical science. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from impostors, refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.
