framing is also a feature in his line. Mr. H. has fourteen years' experience in these lines and Campbellford is a field open to an energetic pushing man and the assortment and cleanliness of his store shows him to be the right man.

The Northumberland Paper and Egg Case Co, Campbellford, think they will be able to secure a full supply of straw in their vicinity this year. Last year they were obliged to bring in large quantities from Chatham and Montreal. They consume upwards of 2,000 tons a year. One stack now on their premises contains 600 tons, probably the largest stack of straw in America. We believe this company are the only manufacturers in Canada of box board, white on one side. That which strikes the visitor on entering this mill is the extreme cleanliness of all parts of the buildings and machinery. They manufacture tarred and plain building paper, the capacity being ten tons plain or twelve tons tarred per day. Mr. Burke, the proprictor, gives his personal supervision at the mills and is continually adding additional facilities from year to year to meet the mcreased demand for building paper. He is erecting a large dry kiln that will be in operation in a few weeks. He is also putting in a large new boiler manuactured by the Polson Co., of Toronto, which will furnish additional power, much needed. These mills are beautifully located on the Trent River, one mile from Campbellford, in a healthy climate and consist of 200 acres of land. It is believed that there is both oil and natural gas on the premises, which will, no doubt, be developed by the proprietor at no distant Gower & Co., Montreal, are the only steel pen manufacturers in Canada. They send out a nice sample case, fourteen varieties, to the trade on application. In a future issue we will give a description of the different processes in which steel pens have trigo through (fourteen in number), and those who think a perfect pen is from a bit of steel thrown into a machine will discover their mistake and wonder how they can be handled so many times and be sold at the present low prices.

The music publishing houses of Edwin Ashdown and the Anglo Canadian Publishers' Association, have been amalgamated, under the management of Mr. Sidney Ashdown, with head office at 13 Richmond Street West, Toronto. Mr. Ashdown has compiled a complete list of the musical compositions registered at Ottawa between 1886 and January 19th, 1889, which he will supply to the trade for one dollar and fifty cents a copy. It should be of service to dealers.

The Methodist Book and Publishing Co. have moved into their large and commodious premises on Richmond Street West, which will be known as the Wesley Buildings, a cut of which appears on another page. They now have a showroom and manufacturing establishment second to none in the Dominion, and it can be safely said that their pressroom for size, light and cleanliness, is the best in Canada.

An action brought by Mr. Sydney Ashdown against another music publisher is expected to come up at the November Assizes. Mr. Ashdown alleges that the firm in ques tion failed to enter many publications that they labelled "Entered." He claims that there is no record of something like sixty of them, and under the following Acts of Parliament relating to copyrights, seeks to enforce the penalty prescribed on such cases of omission. "Every person who has not lawfully acquired the copyright of a literary, scientific or artistic work, and who inserts in any copy thereof printed, produced, reproduced or imported, or who impresses on any such copy, that the same has been entered according to this Act, or words purporting to assert the existence of a Canadian copyright in relation thereto, shall incur a penalty not exceeding three hundred dollars: Every penalty incurred under this section shall be recoverable in any court of competent jurisdiction, and a moiety thereof shall belong to Her Majesty for the public uses of Canada, and the other moiety shall belong to the person who sues for the same. 38 V., c. 88, 5, 17."

OFFICE - ROOM - IN - TORONTO.

Having secured the Most Centrally Located Offices in Toronto, at No. 6 Wellington Street West, North Side, a few doors west or Yonge Stawe will provide

DESK ROOM, HEATING

→ AND →

OFFICE ATTENDANCE

For Loronto Agents of MANUFACTURERS of JOBBERS.

Rent Moderate, Good Attendance, Centrally Located

J. B. McLEAN, "Books and Notions," Toronto.

BF Our Offices have not yet been moved from 5 Jo.dan Street, as a short time will be required for properly fitting up the new premises.

के हैं कर कर के हैं है है के के के के के के के के

RED ... [ETTER SERIES

Select Fiction

-: OF :-

NEW ISSUES.

No (col
67. Marooned. By W Clark Russell	3
66. A Crooked Path. By Mrs, Alexander	. ا
65. The Piccadilly Puzzle. By Fergus Hume	. 3
61. The Rival Actresses. By Georges Ohnet	.3
63. The Duchess of Rosemary Lane. By B. L.
Fargeon	. 3
62. Mr. Stranger's Scaled Packet By Hugh McColl	. 3
or. Seventy Times Sevin, By Adeline Sergeant	. 3
fo. Under Which Lord? By Mrs. E. Lynn Linton.	. 3
59. A Little Pool. By John Strange Winter	. 3
58, A Troublesonie Girl. By the Duchess	. 2
57. The Last Coup. By Hawley Smart	. 3
56. Lord and Lady Piccadilly. By the Earl of Desart	. 3
55. Harvest. By John Strange Winter	3
51. Under a Strange Mark, By Lieut, Frank Burnet	113
53. The Pog Princes. By Florence Warden	3
52. The Pretty Sister of Jose. By Frances Hodgson	n
Burnett	. 2
51. Lightly Lost. By Hawley Smart	. 3
50. Mehalah, By S. Daring Go J	. 4
49. The Girl from Malta, By the Author of "Th
Mystery of a Hansom Cab "	. 3
48, Landing a Prize. By Mrs. Edward Kennard.,
47. John Herring. By Rev. S. Barring-Gould
46, A False Scent. By Mrs. Alexander
45. St. Cuthbert's Tower, By Florence Warden
44. Dolly, By Justin McCarthy	. 2
43. In Exchange for a Soul. By Mary Linskill	. 3
42. Englishman of the Rue Cain. By the Author o	t
"Passenger from Scotland Yard"	3
41. The Match of the Season. By Mrs. Alexande
Frascr
to, Long Odds. By Capt, Hawley Smart
39. The Man Hunter. By Dick Donovan
38. The Ladies' Gallery. By Justin McCarthy and	d
Mrs. Campbell Praed.
37. A Crown of Shame, By Florence Marryatt	•
36. The Maddoxes. By Jean Middlemas	_
That Frenchman. By A. C. Gunther, author of
"Mr. Barnes of New York," etc. Can, copyright edition.	·•
Manon Lescault. By L'Abbe Prevost. Trans
lated by A. W. Gundry. Nearly 300 Illustra	١.
tions. In lithographed cover	. 5

The Toronto News Company,

The Montreal News Company,

Publishers' Agents.