

To those who have adopted the Motto,

"For the wrong that needs resistance,
For the right that needs assistance,
For the future in the distance.
And the good that I can do,"

This book is gratefully dedicated.

NEW YORK, 1898.