

settlers had arisen to such a height, it was thought most adviseable to postpone it until there should be a stable peace, and till the whites and they were reconciled; but that never will be the case until we are in possession of Niagara and Detroit. Farewell.

FINIS.

How can these vile Americans with any propriety complain of oppression, while they so deliberately contemplate
the extinction of the native Indians?
— only — 57,500 — Men!!