THINK IN AEONS DO GEOLOGISTS

Nor Do They Recognize National Distinctions in Research Work.

Professor Coleman Delivers Address to International Conference.

One sure indication of the importance of the Geological Congress, which held its second day's sessions yesterday at the university, is the privilege accorded its members of walking without molestation on the university lawns. The university constables, who are accustomed to all varieties of the academic human, seem awed in the face of such an array as throngs the halls and corridors, and the grass is allowed to suffer. Even if the American and Japanese representatives should organize exterminating committees and proceed to settle the national differences on the front campus, it is doubtful whether they would be disturbed.

No scenes of strife have marred the cosmopolitanism of the congress as yet, however, for the delegates do not recognize national distinctions as affecting scientific research. The national boundaries of the world are all products of a few centuries, but geologists think in aeons. Yesterday's program included an address by Prof. A. P. Coleman of Toronto, dealing with pre-glacial times in America, and a talk on the volcanic cycles in Sardinia, delivered by Henry S. Washington, of Washington, D.C.

Glacial geology occupied the entire time of section 3, which met at 2.30 in the afternoon, following the ladies' luncheon in the parliament buildings at noon. Papers were read in each of the three official languages of the congress, and covered the topic as it is manifested in Canada, the United States, North Germany and the British Isles. Section 1 at the same time devoted itself to the question of magmamic differentiation, introduced by six papers, of which four were prepared by geologists on this side of the Atlantic.

To Explore Hamilton.

A number of the delegates took advantage of the excursion to Hamilton to escape for a day from the atmosphere of speeches. Still others left at 5 o'clock in the afternoon for Madoc, where the rock formation will be examined and noted.

"We will really not know what good this congress has done until we get back home and have a look at our notes," said a delegate yesterday. "There is so much to see and hear that one cannot digest a fraction of it."

A marquee has been erected in the University College quadrangle and there tea was served in the late afternoon. Mayor Hocken and Mrs. Hocken were present, as well as several members of the university faculty. No sessions were held in the evening.

Today's work at the congress will begin at 10 o'clock in the morning with a general meeting in the amphitheatre of the physics building, at which the topic of discussion will be, "The Physical and Faunal Characteristics of the Palaeozoic Seas with Reference to the Value of the Recurrence of Seas in Establishing Geological Systems." Papers relative to the subject will be delivered by T. C. Chamberlain Chicago; Gustave Steinman, Bonn, Germany; Charles Schubert, New Haven; Paul Krusch, Berlin, Germany; Olaf Holtedahl, Christiania, Norway; E. O. Ulrich, Washington, D.C., and T. C. and R. T. Chamberlain, Chicago.

Discuss Tectonics.

At 10.45 a special sectional meeting will discuss tectonics. At 2 o'clock in the afternoon the committee on the geological map of Europe and the world will meet. At 2.30 a series of nine papers on miscellaneous subjects relating to economics and chemistry will be read before section 1 in the University College building.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Dunlap will entertain the delegates at a garden party at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, and the day's program will conclude with an illustrated lecture on Western Canada by Cy. Warman, at 8.30 in the evening.

Excursions to moraines and to Muskoka will leave during the day.

TANGO SHOCKS 'EM UP IN MUSKOKA

Management of Hotel Will Prohibit Popular Negroid Dance.

MUSKOKA, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Quite a stir was created amongst the guests of the Windermere House last night when it was rumored that the management had decided to prohibit any more of the "tango" dances in the hotel dance hall. Since the summer season opened the "tango" has been the popular dance here, almost to the exclusion of all others. When properly and becomingly executed the dance is not objectionable, and no objection would have been made to it had the dancers kept within the proper limits. A few bold spirits, however, with more boldness than discretion, succeeded in vulgarizing the dance to such an extent that it has attracted the attention of the manager of the hotel, who says he "cannot permit the dance to go on while the dancers continue to introduce so many objectionable features."

Opinion of the other guests of the hotel is very much divided, but the majority express the belief that the management will make no mistake in cutting out the dance entirely.

DID O'BRIEN MAKE ANY CONFESSION ?

KINGSTON, Aug. 8.—(Special.)—Jack O'Brien, arrested at Sudbury in connection with the sensational mail bag robbery at the outer station on Jan. 22, was brought to Kingston this afternoon by Inspector James Parkinson of the Dominion police force. A report from Sudbury stated that O'Brien had confessed.

T. J. Rigney, counsel for O'Brien, had an interview with the prisoner upon his arrival and afterwards Rigney stated that the report about the prisoner having confessed was not true. Inspector Parkinson, when asked if the accused had made a confession, stated that he had. Apart from this he had nothing to say.
