

He asks only for justice. Nothing less than justice will stay the movement of negroes from the South. Its continued refusal will drive in the next two years a third or more of its negro population to other portions of the country.¹

¹ From an address by W. T. Andrews at the South Carolina Race Conference, Columbia, South Carolina, February 8, 1917.