And His Presence Is Protection to Threatened State Officials.

Murray, Ky., Jan. 11.—In line with his announced intention to give the mob "a chance to lynch the governor of Kentucky first." Governor A. O. Stanley arrived here early today and took charge of the situation growing out of the threats made yesterday by a mob against the lives of Circuit Judge Charles Bush and Commonwealth Attorney Denny Smith.

The judge and attorney spent the night at a hotel here guarded from a mob by a heavy force of deputies. The anger of the mob was aroused against them yesterday when a continuance was granted in the case of Lube Martin, charged with the killing of Guthrie Duigiud, a white man.

The fact that a continuance had been granted was kept secret for a time, and then publicly announced by Judge Bush, who stated that he would be tried next month. Howls and jeers from the crowd gathered in the courtroom greeted this statement. The mob called for the prisoner, and when he was not produced demanded that Murray, Ky., Jan. 11 .- In line with

This further aroused the fire of the mob, which demanded that the judge order the return of the n.gro, declaring that in event of this failure to comply with their demand their intention to lynch him together with the commonwealth's attorney, or to dynamic the hotel at which they were staying. After a hasty consultation of the occasion and of what is now between counsel and Judge Bush, it was anounced that the negro would be brought rack and placed on trial this morning.

A hurry call was put in for Governor Stanley and he left Frankfort on the first available train.
