A NATIONAL PARK FOREVER.

Hon. Frank Cochrane has done a lot for the idea of provincial parks in Northern Ontario, and we trust the good work is only begun.

Why should it not be possible to lay out a great big new recreation and hunting ground forever about Lake Nipigon which soon must be touched by the line of the Canadian Northern from Sudbury to Port Arthur.

Here is a forest primeval and virgin lakes and rivers which neither lumberman nor settler has yet touched; and when the railway line is located the government should insist on its going so as to serve the idea of access to such a park as well as serving traffic.

One of the things against the Algonquin Park is that the lumberman has license to cut much of the lumber; that to commute his rights nearly a million dollars would have to be paid by the province.

But there are no such incumbrances in the Nipigon country.

The railway, if located in such a park, would have to provide a wide clearing like that made by the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway in the Timagami forest reserve.

A great park at Lake Nipigon would be one of the tourist attractions of the continent, would draw thousands and thousands to that country and be a source of revenue to the whole province.

Ontario's country up north is her best asset, and one way to keep a big piece of it for all time for its people would be by way of a park.

The future of Canada depends largely on the unbroken connection between the east and the west, on the opening up that part of Ontario that lies about Lake Superior. It can be a country of mines, of industries, of agriculture, of timber and pulp, and of tourism more attractive than anything on the continent. Would it be a strange thing if all Northern Ontario clear up to Hudson Bay should be in the near future the summer home of many thousands of people?

A wise policy of railway building, fire protection and park appropriation would work this out. Let such a park be a part of the negotiations with the Canadian Northern or any other railway in that district.

OVER THE BORDER.

The Republican party in the United States is trying to save itself in a most heroic way.

The session of congress just closed has seen a surprising number of reform measures passed, and the Republicans, if in the forthcoming fall elections, they retain their hold on the country, will be pledged to still more legislation of a similar kind.

The president and his cabinet and the progressive leaders are determined to save their party if it can be saved by striving to pass and enforce the legislation that public opinion has demanded as against the corporations, trusts and privilege holders of one kind or another.

All the talk of the political and financial disorder in the States as being the result of Roosevelt and his policies has ceased; the nation sees and the trusts and companies have had to admit that high finance, combines, excessively high tariffs, graft, corruption, in alliance with public men and parties, have been the real causes, that all these things must be wiped out, and that the men who help to wipe them out and to put something honest and reasonable and democratic in their place are doing a patriotic work.

The trouble with American securities (whether railway or industrial) is largely overcapitalization; and the managers of these concerns are sorely put to it to try and pay interest charges and dividends. The result is high rates and prices to the public with constant efforts to get them up still higher. Concessions to workmen of better wages make the situation all the harder.

The next problem that faces the American people is that of revaluation, and if it is undertaken, as it must be, then there will be charges of repudiation and confiscation. There is much turmoil yet ahead of our neighbors. They are being forced to remodel their methods in many directions. But they've started in to do it, and to do it courageously.

Mr. Roosevelt has lectured England on her policy in Egypt. What about the United States in Cuba? One gathers from a reading of the American magazines that the people of Cuba would prefer to be back again under Spanish misrule as against the conditions that have succeeded American occupation. The Cubans curse Americans and the day they came to the island. Roosevelt says you must rule natives with a strong hand. To the American claim that they did that in Cuba, the reply is that they left the island and turned the people over to grafters and exploiters of all kinds so that the condition of affairs today is worse than ever.

A SAFETY VALVE.

All the world will read prize fight literature for a week to come, and some of us will denounce the brutality in round terms in order to justify ourselves for the perusal. The old religion, used to appoint an annual review as a safety-valve for the year's restraint. Perhaps it is better that we do our fighting by proxy now and again rather than go to it ourselves, declare war and fight bloody battles with neighboring nations. By and by we can taper off from the prize fight into fighting crickets, as the Chinese do, and then drop the stale old struggling business altogether. There's lots more sense fighting a new homestead.

It is tactfully announced that King George never writes any letters except to his relatives. None of us will feel slighted now.

They are seeing snakes around St. Catharines. A man killed one with a horn on its tail, he says, and burned it. We fear there have been too many horns elsewhere.

Inspector Kennedy has ruled that Billkins is merely vulgar. Unfortunately we cannot be protected from vulgarity, but labeling the article will help.

Francis cabled appeals to His Majesty the King to save the lives of condemned murderers in Canada as so foolish as they are useless, they do attract attention to the counsel in the case.

Editor World: Please answer the following questions: What is the population of Glasgow and what was the height of the late King Edward?

I. L. O.

The estimated population of Glasgow for 1910 is between 850,000 and 900,000. Including the independent burghs of Govan and Partick, which are not suburbs but surrounded by the city, the population is over 1,000,000.

King Edward's height has been stated at from 5 ft. 7 in. to 5 ft. 7 1/2 in.

Healthfulness of Town Endangered by Dust Nuisance

A sharp, swift campaign is being advocated by those who feel strongly in the matter of the annexation of North Toronto to the city. The necessities of the case, these individuals contend, demand immediate action and suggestions of leaving the vote over until the next municipal election means an unnecessary delay which can produce no beneficial results. It will be fortunate if the town's water supply holds out during the present dry spell, and it is certain that before another summer season transpires the people of the town will not be satisfied short of a full and adequate supply available for road water, for household purposes and for keeping the lawns in respectable condition.

This is the most pressing matter at the present time, and it is not impossible that the city might find a way by which the North Toronto water supply might be aided even before the completion of the new pump at the island plant.

North Toronto citizens recognize the strenuousness of the present position and are not feeling aggrieved at the council because of the shortage of water supply, other than that it is felt that if prompt measures had been adopted early in the season at the old waterworks property, larger reserves could have been made which would have prevented any trouble during the present season.

The whole town just now is suffocated with dust. The atmosphere both along Yonge-street and on most of the side streets is heavily charged with dust particles, which are thrown up more especially by the street cars and the motors on Yonge-street. Those who have reason for their healthiness in keeping down dust in a residential community like North Toronto. The benefits of the attitude which the town council and its corresponding goal supply of airfare totally lost because of the dust nuisance which has never been worse in the town than it is this year.

The situation is made worse because of the dry spell which is now in effect, but some relief will likely transpire up during the next few weeks and everyone will have to be content to make the best of the situation.

Those in charge of the annexation movement will endeavor to have a petition circulated within a few days, asking council to submit a bylaw to the people for their ratification. If this is carried, and the promises are strongly in its favor, it is believed that the city will view the town's application in a most light and take over the municipality at an early date as can be mutually arranged.

Electric Light Offer.

The board of control will this morning take up the offer of the Toronto Electric Light Co., whereby the company seeks to enter into partnership in the hydro-electric scheme. It is stated that G. T. Blackstock, K.C., will appear for the company.

Municipalities Convention. The convention of the Union of Canadian Municipalities will open here on Aug. 31 and will last three days. Some of the topics for discussion are: uniform municipal accounting, automobile legislation, public utility commissions and present status of the hydro-electric commission.
