Wheat—With the exception of a sharp upturn, which occurred shortly after the opening on covering by the room traders, the market was heavy and finally closed 1½c lower than on Saturday. Both domestic and foreign news was discouraging to holders. World's shipments being somewhat larger, visible increased 1,50%,000 bushels, and primary receipts were equal to last year, while there is an element operating on long side of wheat, believing values must ascend to much The prices quoted below are for first-class quality; lower grades are bought at correspondingly lower quotations: Hay, car lots, ton, bales.$17.00 to $17.50 ment operating on long side of wheat, believing values must ascend to much higher levels, based upon the assumption that outside demands will be very urgent. There are, however, many who are in close touch with the general situation, who believe that the world's crop has been underestimated and think wheat will sell much lower.

Corn and Oats—Advanced from the opening level and altho there was a recession at the close, in sympathy with decline in wheat, corn and oats showed a firm undertone and we do not expect to see theim sell much lower.

Charles W. Gillett to Peter J. Morgan:
Wheat—Liverpool falled to respond to the strength in our market on Saturday, coming a fraction lower and offers to the other side by cable brought no acceptances. Of the total world's shipments $,344,000 bushels, America contributed 6,000,000 bushels and continental markets were comparatively steady. The visible increased 1,500,000 against a decrease of $5,000 bushels last year. About 2,000,000 bushels last year. About 2,000,000 bushels have been loaded out of Duluth the levators since Saturday, and all of the last at that centre will probably be wheat at that centre will probably be Prices revised daily by E. Carter & Co., 85 East Front-street, Wholesale Dealers in Wool, ilides, Calfskins and Sheepskins, Furs, Tallow, etc.: The following were the last prices made at the call board of the Toronto Board of Trade. Corn—The market showed considerable strength in view of the decline In wheat and cash markets here and elsewhere were higher. World's shipments were sinall and considerably less than last year. There were no deliveries on December sales and cash houses predict that 1 ecember receipts will barely supply the demand. A further advance in hogs at the yards and the damp condition of the new corn, which prevents shipments from the interior, caused covering by shorts in May and offerings were light. With the probability of acute congestion in Dec. corn, we are sikely to see higher prices this month, altho towards the end
