It was further stated by local Liberal politicians who talked with Sir Wilfrid this morning, that what Le Vieux Cop" has heard since coming to Montreal last night, has served to strengthen his determination to stick to his guns.

At the prime minister's office this morning it was stated that two new but only one materialized. Sir Robert Borden later said that one a day was pretty good progress. It is generally supposed that the next new minister to be sworn in will be a representa-tive of labor. There is, however, a growing sentiment in favor of ap-pointing a returned soldier to the cabinet, and some of the western people are suggesting that the 500,000 recently entranchised women should be
