EDISON FAVORS PREPAREDNESS BY THE UNITED STATES

Would Have Weapons Ready to Multiply Efficiency of Each Man by Twenty

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Thomas A. Edison, chairman of the United States naval advisory board, was in Chicago on his way to San Francisco. He favored a giant plan for an United States fleet.

"Our next war will be a machine war," he said. "In my opinion we should substitute machines for men, so that the efficiency of each man in time of war could be multiplied by twenty through the aid of machinery.

"But the country must be prepared for the ordeal. It would be economy for us to erect a machine which would be turning out just twice as much powder as is being shot away each day in Europe. These factories would not be so expensive if kept in readiness to turn out powder when it is needed."

I appeal earnestly to all men who are able-bodied and can be spared to respond to the call, unless they are satisfied to allow the enemy to give by their gallant fellow townsmen to have been given in vain. Effective Work of British Submarines

London, Oct. 16.—A Copenhagen dispatch to the London Daily News says:—

British submarines have now cleared the Baltic and the Gulf of Bothnia, entire of German commercial steamers. Every German ship which was on her way south from Swedish ports, when the submarines action started, has been sunk or forced to run ashore.

Of a total of fifty German steamers engaged in carrying metal and metal ore from Sweden to Germany, thirty seven are now practically interned in Swedish ports, fully loaded and have orders to remain for the present. The scheme is to let several ships pass together, surrounded by German warships.

Germans have lately been gathering in a big number of warships in these waters. If the import of Swedish metal ore stops, a dangerous situation will arise for German ammunition manufacturing.
