LAUGHTER RULED AT THE GEM, YESTERDAY

Great Story by Richard Harding Davis Aroused Much Mirth—A Winning Feature Bill

Mirth reigned supreme at the Gem Theatre yesterday when the five reel masterpiece of fun was offered for presentation, "The Galloper," by Richard Harding Davis, known to many as "The Yankee Tourist," a musical comedy in which Raymond Hitchcock, well known comedian starred. The play was even funnier than had been anticipated. The story was shown to have been written in Davis' best vein, for the adaption of it to scenario form not only retained the abundance of humor which characterized the story, but added largely to the many laughs in which the piece excels. It will be repeated for the last time tonight.

In addition to this big five-part feature, the Biograph players presented a drama of stirring action, "The Undying Fire," replete with tense situations, suspense, and romantic venture. It was well received. Helen Marr sang "Till the Sands of Time are Over," by Richard

There are still some people in remote corners of the earth that have not heard of the European war. And although over eight million pounds of "SALADA" were sold last year, we believe there are still some people in Canada who have not yet tasted "SALADA." If they see this and will send us a postal we will mail them a generous sample for trial. Black, Mixed or Green,
