EXECUTIVE RULES MATCH REPLAYED

Hampton-Drury Cove Tourney Will be Played Over on August 2.

At a meeting of the executive of the Suburban Tennis League yesterday afternoon at 4.30 o'clock, called by the president, Roy Willet, to deal with the protest from the Drury Cove club respecting the Hampton-Drury Cove match on July 5 last, it was the unanimous opinion that the most sportsmanlike way of settling the dispute was to play the entire match over again. As a result, the executive ruled that the match would be re-played on the Hampton club's courts on Saturday, August 2.

Mr. Willet presided at yesterday's meeting and the following members and representatives were present: Randolph J. P. McInerney and S. E. Clarke; Westfield-Alfred Stephenson; Grand Bay—A. H. Wetmore; Pandemac—Roy Willet; Drury Cove—A. C. Clarke and C. H. Scott; Hampton—Ren Smith and H. Demings.

Mrs. Ernest Canning was pleasantly surprised last evening when a large number of friends called at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Fred Miller, 11 Millage street, and tendered her a surprise party on the eve of her departure for her new home in Portland, Me. During the evening she was made recipient of a fine traveling bag. The presentation was made by William Vail. Mrs. Canning thanked all for the gift and the kindly feeling which prompted it. She expects to leave this weekend for her new home. The evening was spent in games, music and dancing and refreshments were served. Mrs. Miller was assisted in serving by Mrs. Harold Northrup and Mrs. Charles Bridgen.

BASEBALL IS AN UNCERTAIN GAME

Take Nothing for Granted in National Pastime, is Advice.

Take nothing for granted in baseball, says Billy Evans. That is the only theory that can be successfully followed in the national pastime. A ball game is never over until the last man is out, although it may often seem that way. Incidentally nothing takes more out of a club than to lose a game that it has apparently won.

During a recent series between New York and Washington, with the two clubs battling for first place, I saw the Washington club lose one of the toughest games of my career. When Roger Peckinpaugh, shortstop of the Washington club, touched outfielder Hendricks of New York for what appeared to be the 27th out of the game, Washington looked to be the winner, 4 to 3. The crowd surged on the field as the base umpire waved the runner out, the many exits from the grand-stand being thrown open. The Washington club began to race from the field, the New York club hurriedly started for its dressing room with the signal of out from the umpire, in order to avoid the crowd. The Washington fans had already started to celebrate. Then to the consternation of the Washington club and fans, the umpire shifted his sign to safe, the palms of the base being extended downward. Peckinpaugh had dropped the ball. A runner had scored from second on the error, the game was tied up. After the field had been cleared of the crowd the game was resumed. On the very next play, a drive to right, Hendricks, who was safe because the force of his slide had knocked the ball out of Peck's hands, started for the plate, hoping to score the run that would put New York out in front. The throw beat him to the plate six feet, Catcher Ruel waiting with the ball had Hendricks

PEANUTS IN HOCKEY LEAGUE IN CANADA

Has No Connection With Any Other Existing Professional Bodies.

New York, July 25.—Although the opening of the season is still a long way off, things are moving fast in professional hockey circles in Canada, where, with much talk in the air of international competition with the United States, next year's hockey authorities apparently are anxious to get their plans made early. Greatest interest is now being shown in the report that a new International Hockey League is being planned by a Montreal man, said to have strong financial support.

The league, so it is understood, is to be composed of teams in New York, Boston, Philadelphia and Montreal, but is in no way connected with any of the existing professional clubs, teams or associations. It is connected with the National Hockey League of Canada. Among those sponsoring the project in Canada are said to be a number of prominent financiers connected with the erection of the new West End Arena in Montreal. An important meeting of the National Hockey League was held recently in Montreal, where arrangements were tentatively outlined for next season. Probably the most significant action taken at the meeting was the approval of a new offensive and defensive agreement which has existed for some time among the four clubs in the circuit, the Canadiens of Montreal, the Ottawa Senators, Hamilton and Toronto. Despite the fact that the present agreement still has a number of years to run, the contract was renewed for a period of five years after the expiration of the present term. There still are a few details, however, which will have to be effected before the renewed contract is complete.

In addition to this meeting, another important meeting was held by prominent rink owners. The session was attended by representatives of the Ottawa Senators, Hamilton and Toronto. The Hamilton rink and the new West End Arena which, it is reported, has just received a loan of $500,000, has distributed $400,000 stock, most of which has been paid for. Although no official announcement was passed out, it was understood that the Ottawa Senators were to form an offensive and defensive combination and that another meeting would be held in the near future to which the representatives of the Canadiens have played in past years, would be invited. No representative of the Mount Royal Arena was present at the first session.

RENEWED INTEREST IN BIG RACE MEET

Announcement of the dates for the running of three International Specials and of the entries of the American horses which have been nominated to meet Epinaud over the different distances has created renewed interest in these competitions, which surely will stand out as the great events of the year on the American turf, says the New York Times. Twenty-five of the fastest sprinters were named for the six-furlong dash, which will be run at Belmont Park on Labor Day, Sept. 1, and among them are two notables which have come back into training after a season in the stud—Grey Lag and Snob II.

Four full weeks will elapse before the running of the mile and a quarter dash, which will allow the American horses, as well as Epinaud, plenty of time to prepare for the second special. The problem of racing Epinaud fit for his three races will be no more difficult than that which will face many of the American trainers, for a dozen horses have been named to defend the home honors in all three tests, and it is not improbable that several will start in all. Between the second and third specials only two weeks will elapse, as the mile and a quarter dash, the Latonia course of the Kentucky Jockey Club has been fixed for Saturday, Oct. 11. That will allow plenty of time, however, for shipping Epinaud and for the tightening up gallops on the scene of the final battle. All of the best horses in training, East and West, have been named to defend the home honors, including Black Gold, the winner of four Derbys.

Black Gold's final standing in the American three-year-old year may be settled when he meets Epinaud and the best of the American distance runners at a mile and a quarter, the only one of the special in which he will appear. He carried his Derby weight in the Raceland event of that name on Saturday, giving eight pounds to Bob Tail and Altawood, who finished ahead of him. Meantime the remarkably fine performance of Ordinance in the Empire City Derby, with 130 pounds up, stamped him as a great horse, and the son and daughter of Dona Roca will be one of the main reliances, with his stable companion Lakdin, in the defense of American turf honors.

Spurred for the past week has been enjoying life at Belmont Park, regaining his land legs, eating American fodder with much gusto and taking a number of easy canter every morning. He will go to Saratoga the last of this week to begin in earnest his preparation for the International Specials. Rough riding has persisted to such a degree that the stewards of the meeting at Empire City have made a drive during the past week in an attempt to stamp it out. A number of boys are on the ground for various periods for the dangerous practice of cutting across their fields, crowding and roughing generally. Crowding resulted in the serious injury to Cooper when his mount went down on the first turn a week ago today and for a time his life was in danger. Such accidents are bound to occur when the rules of racing are violated and punishment should continue as long as such practices are persisted in.

GHOSH-LIKE HORSE Wins Game Which Puts Detroit Again on the Top Rung.

New York, July 25.—The Detroit Tigers' victory over the Yankees yesterday elevated them to the head of the list again, half a game in the van of the world champions and the Senators, who are tied for second place.

Detroit put over the deciding tally just in time to annex a 5 to 4 win before hostilities were stopped at the end of the eighth to enable the Yankees to catch a train for the west. Bassler, whose fatal error in the final game of Wednesday's hectic contest permitted Schang to score the tying run, registered the winning marker on his triple and pinch hitter Wingo's single in the last round.

In spite of Walter Johnson's blow-out in the fifth inning, Washington finally emerged victorious over Chicago for the fourth time in the five game series, by a score of 7 to 5. St. Louis dropped the last game of the series, 5 to 0, to Philadelphia.

Boston staged a 10 to 9 triumph in ten innings over Cleveland. Play in the National League was confined to Pittsburgh, where Brooklyn lost the last game of its western trip to the Pirates by 5 to 1.

JOE CONNOLLY SENT TO SAN ANTONIO BY SOX

Joe Connolly, the outfielder procured from Cleveland by the Red Sox last winter, has been sent to the San Antonio Club of the Texas league under option.

Since the Red Sox were forced to recall Geygan to play short while Lee is recuperating, the team has numbered 26 men, one more than is allowed. One had to be cut, and Connolly fell under the axe. He had no chance to play with the locals, with Boone, Flaggstead, Veach and Collins all available, but is sure to be back in the big show before long.

MONCTON WINS.

Moncton, July 24.—Moncton took the third game in the series with Halifax this evening by the score of 7-3. King, who pitched for Halifax, was touched for 13 hits, while Doucette and Leader for Moncton, held Halifax to mour safeties.

CHAUTAUQUA IS BROUGHT TO CLOSE

Russian Sextette is Heartily Received—Leaders Say Farewell.

The Russian Cathedral Sextet was very heartily received and enthusiastically applauded throughout their very fine musical entertainment last evening at the Chautauqua tent. The excellence of the concert made a fitting close for the successful week of varied entertainments and lectures. The Russians sang with melodious voices. They wore Russian costume, picturesque and very handsome.

The pianist was a Mexican, and played the piano with consummate skill, his technique for the delicate passages and difficult runs being marked for their perfection. Their singing in English was good, but they were at their best in the folk songs in their own Russian language. The church selections were tuneful and devotional, sung without accompaniment, except for "In Church," by Tachlakowsky, when the piano simulated bells.

Elmer Willis Serl, Chautauqua superintendent, said farewell to the large audience, which almost filled the large tent. He told them of the purpose of Chautauqua, which was religious and educational. It is also a non-profit making organization, which statement, he said, could be officially proven by sending to headquarters at Philadelphia. It was with hearty applause that Mr. Serl left the stage.

The afternoon programme was interesting. Local juniors had been trained in five days to do stunts and sing songs. The girls and boys carrying out Mother Goose rhymes in pantomime gave a presentation which reflected credit on their teachers and upon their own powers of taking instruction. Miss Martha Dougherty was junior leader, assisted by Miss Dorothy Denlinger. The physical instructor for the boys was Joseph Hannah. He was successful in teaching many difficult stunts in the short time allotted. Miss Geneva Jenner, a young St. John girl, was pianist. There was much interest in the work of Frederick Trappe, who followed the junior programme with some excellent ventriloquism. He received an ovation.

Regular trails for walking parties have been made throughout the White Mountain Forest of New Hampshire. He received an ovation.
