FREE DISPENSARY.

The September report from the free dispensary conducted by the St. John Association for the Prevention of Tuberculosis, shows that during the eight days in which it was open to adults, forty-five persons applied and forty-three prescriptions were filled. There were four days open to the children, and there were fifteen applicants and four prescriptions were filled.

The report also shows that the patients now under charge include eleven new cases, twenty-two under observation, twenty-one exposed in infection, and twelve patients suffering from tuberculosis.

The discharged patients included three absolutely cured, three referred to the public hospital, nine negative cures, three left town and one who died. There were fifty-five names registered at the free dispensary October 1.

There are at present two patients receiving milk. During the last month one house was reported for fumigation, and two others for being unsanitary. Sixty visits were made in September.

MORE BIG PROJECTS ON WHICH ST. JOHN OUGHT TO BE GETTING BUSY NOW

There is a new forward movement on foot, aimed to push ahead certain big projects which it is felt must be got under way if St. John is to reap the full benefit of its unique position as the Atlantic terminus of the C. P. R., the Grand Trunk Pacific, the Intercolonial, the Canadian Northern and the Valley Railway, and as the commercial metropolis of a province rich in natural resources.

This is to be the best-equipped Atlantic port nearest the Old Country. It is expanding rapidly, but those behind the new forward movement think more steam and more definite aims are immediately necessary. They want to see—

1—The breakwater moved a great deal farther out, so that the basin it will shelter will be big enough for the shipping already fairly in sight, when the new fleets of the transcontinental railways are here and when the port will be busy in the summer as well as the winter.

2—The reclamation of ninety acres south of Reed's Point, and of a smaller area near the dry dock—in order that the city shall have proper sites for a big steel industry, and for other new industries, and for the expansion of industries that are already here. It is said on good authority that new projects whose coming would mean a local expenditure of $10,000,000 are awaiting a progressive decision in regard to these reclamations.

3—The launching of a real campaign of publicity—accent on real-involving the engaging of a strong and up-to-date secretary by the Board of Trade; a big man for a big job.

4—The beginning of practical work in securing new settlers for the province, including colonization after the fashion in which it is carried out by big companies in British Columbia, in addition to a live immigration development and the retention of our native population.

This is not a formal programme adopted by any body of citizens, but merely a glance at some of the lines along which an immediate advance is deemed necessary by many St. John business men who have been giving thought to these matters, and who are convinced that a progressive spirit right now, showing itself in bold, decisive action, will bring to the city several enterprises of great magnitude which may go elsewhere if hesitancy, neglect or inaction are not counteracted.

BOAT CLUB-BUYING

LAND FOR EXPANSION

St. John Power Men Purchase From Luther Jordan and Will Build Another Haul-up

Another illustration of the progressive city which has always governed the St. John Power Boat Club is found in the arrangements which have been made for the accommodation of the members' craft during the winter. The club already has one railway haul-up for taking the boats out of the water, but this was not enough. They have now completed arrangements for the purchase, from Luther Jordan, of the field adjoining the club house, which will give them ample room for expansion. A new haul-up is to be constructed and when it is completed, there will be accommodation for at least 175 boats. The railway haul-up for taking the boats out of the water, but this was not enough.
