

A DIFFICULTY IN CHURCH WORK

Speaker at World's Alliance
Deals With Denominationalism in United States.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 22.—One of the greatest difficulties confronting the churches in the fact that there are 175 varieties of churches in America, said Dr. Baxter P. Fullerton of St. Louis to the World's Alliance of Presbyterian and Reformed Churches here today.

Dr. Fullerton is secretary of the Presbyterian Board of Home Missions and was telling of the difficulties of home mission work in the United States. Denominations, he said, was one of the greatest, most serious of these. Each of the 175 kinds of church was endeavoring to promote its own work both in the city and the country, among native and immigrant alike and, consequently, there was not only overlapping but also overlooking since there had been no co-operation in the location and development of these various local churches.

Continuing he said that the greatest problem before the agencies of the Christian church is to "Christianize the church itself." He declared that there are communities in America where four or five different denominations are at work, each church receiving home mission aid, when one or two churches could be both self-sustained and self-respecting.

Efforts had been made, he said, to change this "shameful situation" but up to the present it existed "to the embarrassment of the work and a scorn of the ungodly." An attempt had been made to unite denominations having similar doctrine and government into one larger unit and in this way unite the local churches into one for better service for the community, but Dr. Fullerton said that extreme denominationalism prevents any very large application of this principle and strong peoples remain apart because of some unimportant or subsidiary question on which the salvation of no soul, or community depends. Dr. Fullerton said it was heartening to know that this condition of things was being considered seriously by churches and missionary agencies and pointed out that the organization of a Home Mission Council and Council of Women For Home Missions 14 years ago had become an outstanding evidence of a spirit of co-operation prevailing in the churches.

He pointed to the condition in Utah as an illustration of what had been accomplished by the Home Missions Council and said that today there were no communities in that state where two or more Gentile churches were at work except in the cities of Salt Lake and Ogden. Similar organizations for interdenominational home mission work had been made in Colorado, Montana, Porto Rico, Cuba, Alaska and Santo Domingo. Despite the hindrance of denominationalism, Dr. Fullerton reported that the spirit of evangelism prevailing in America was one of the most hopeful signs of the time.

Never in the course of a year had there been such an interest in bringing men into the church, he said. He recounted the difficulties in attempting to Christianize and Americanize the polyglot peoples of the cities and held it to be the mission of the church as well as of the state to solve the problems of sanitation and housing.

He said that, according to best information, there were now 18,500 men and women engaged in some form of missionary work in this country and more than $24,000,000 invested in the business of making and keeping America Christian for the redemption of mankind and the friendly service of the world.

MANY WANT TO GO TO FOREIGN MISSION FIELD

New York, Sept. 22.—More than 1,200 girls and women recently have applied for appointments as foreign missionaries, according to Miss Mabelle Rae McVeigh, candidate secretary of the Women's American Baptist Foreign Mission Society. Ages of applicants, Miss McVeigh said, range from 14 to 45.

"Probably one reason for the astonishing increase in the number of applicants," Miss McVeigh said, "is the fact that the war has made the world seem smaller, so that foreign lands no longer seem as distant as they formerly did."

CATHOLIC TRUTH SOCIETY MEETS

(Canadian Press Despatch.)

Montreal, Sept. 21.—The idea of discussion of the activities of the Ku-Klux-Klan as suggested recently, was repudiated by the convention of the Catholic Truth Society of Canada, which opened this afternoon under the presidency of Archbishop McNeil, of Toronto.

There were present on the platform with Archbishop McNeil, Bishop Fallon of London (Ont.), Bishop Morrison, Antigonish; Bishop Couturier, Alexandria (Ont.) and Bishops Gauthier and Donnelly.

The convention was opened by Bishop Gauthier, who referred to the numerous errors that creep into the secular press and said the society was doing much useful work in shedding light and propagating truth.

SEEKING OIL

Sydney, N. S. W., Aug. 23.—(Association Press, by Mail).—The search for oil which has been going on with meager results for years in the large island of Papua, has been extended to the portion known as German New Guinea, where it is said there are much better indications. This territory is now under Australian mandate.

Experts to the Anglo-Persian Oil Company, which has an agreement with the commonwealth by which each will share in the benefits of any discovery, are prospecting thoroughly. Several private parties also are in the field.

Oil prospecting is being retarded, however, because the Australian government has not decided on a land policy for mandated territories.
