CARLETON CO.

Woodstock, N. B., Dec. 31.—The proceedings in the election case have gone over until January 12th, when the final hearing will be in St. John. The main point taken by Messrs. Curry and Connell for Mr. Hale, is that the voters' lists containing the names of the three petitioners are not proper evidence, not having been proved; also that the ten days' notice set forth as necessary, where copies are used in sec. 15, chap. 31, statutes 1893, was not complied with, was not given. This point will be further considered and judgment given on the 12th prox.

Albert Brewer and Harry B. Smith, two of the petitioners, gave evidence today. Objectors asked Mr. Brewer's taking the oath on the ground that he was an unbeliever, but he said he was a member of the English church, and believed in a future punishment. When Mr. Connell asked him if he knew the meaning of the word "Dures," used in the allegations, he said he did not. He believed that Mr. Hale had offered to give A. B. Connell, the examining attorney, a judgeship if he would contribute $200 towards the election case.

Sussex, Dec. 30.—Valley lodge of I. O. F., opened their regular meeting at 8 o'clock. The new brick block last evening, their first business being the election of officers for the ensuing year as follows: H. H. Dryden, noble grand; E. Burgess, vice grand; John Thompson, recording sec.; W. B. McKay, permanent sec. After the business of the meeting was disposed of the members, with a large number of invited guests, sat down to an excellent supper, which had been prepared by R. Kay, waiter at the restaurant. The customary loyal and other toasts were fittingly proposed and as fittingly responded to by members of the lodge and guests, and a real pleasant evening was spent. Valley lodge is now located in the new building at the best appointed hall in the province, and deserves a "well notice" than I have time to give it. The hall is lighted by electricity. The furniture, carpets and other fittings are of the best. On the walls hang the pictures of several deceased members. To these may be added a piano and organ, which will not only be used for lodge purposes but for social events during the winter. The installation of the officers elect will take place at their meeting on Tuesday evening next, when a new start will be made in the career of this popular lodge.

Sussex, Dec. 31.—In my report to the election of officers for Valley lodge, I. O. F., for ensuing year the name of Geo. H. White was in some way omitted. He was elected treasurer, and no doubt he will make a good one.

Sussex, Jan. 2.—Among the many social events in connection with our churches and Sabbath schools during the holiday season that which came off last night in the Presbyterian church, furnished music for the occasion, and executed by twelve little girls was something very new and something that was a pleasant surprise to the vast audience present. Miss Cougle, the organist of Trinity church, furnished music for the occasion, and Miss Laura Murray, sister of Dr. Murray, who had charge of the event, is much praised for so successfully carrying out this affair, and she is being urged to have it repeated, as many could not get into the hall, and it is admitted that those who did would willingly go again.

Moncton, Dec. 31.—Theodore Harris Cusack, one of the Scotts, witnesses who has figured so prominently in this county the last few weeks, was brought before Judge Wells at Dorchester yesterday under the Speedy Trial Act. After hearing the evidence of several witnesses who were in court when the accused gave the testimony in which the alleged perjury was committed, the judge dismissed the charge and ordered the release of the prisoner.

The case against Captain Harris Cusack was not pressed, and he was also discharged. The liquor men, it is said, intended preferring other charges against the Cusacks, but the temperance people were too quick for them, and took the Cusacks under warranty to hold them as witnesses in Scott's case now pending, and their present whereabouts is not generally known.

The evidence in nine Scott's act cases heard before Justice Cahill of Sackville have been extracted from his office by some person or persons unknown. What the effect will be on the cases in question is not generally known.
