WELL SOLD.

A farmer was one day selling wool to a carrier, and after weighing it in the yard he went into the house to make out an invoice. Coming back he missed a cheese, which had been standing on a shelf behind the outer door, and, glancing at the bag of wool, he observed that it had suddenly increased in size.
"Man," he said to the carrier, "I have clean forgotten the weight of this bag. Let's pit it on the scales again."
The carrier could not refuse. Being duly weighed the bag was found to be heavily by the weight of the cheese inside. A new invoice was made out, and the crestfallen carrier went away.
The farmer's wife rushed out to her husband, saying that the cheese had been stolen.
Farmer—Na, na, Meg, I have just sold the cheese for two shillings the pound!—English Paper.

A GREAT SOCIAL SUCCESS.

NEW YORK, March 18.—The Evening Journal says that fifty prominent society and business men, one half of them being residents of Boston's fashionable Back Bay District, witnessed a lively 15-round fight at a private club at Westbury, L. I., last night. According to the story the Boston men, including two supreme court judges, were the guests of New Yorkers. The contestants were Jack Lowery, of New York, and Jimmy Lowe, of Boston. They went 15 rounds and Lowery was awarded the decision by referee Charles White.

The experiment, it was said, had not proved successful.

FOR ACADIA.

Dr. Trotter Gives Details of Rockefeller's Donation.

Dollar for Dollar up to $100,000—
Rockefeller's Part Will be Paid Quarterly for 5 Years.

Rev. Dr. Trotter returned today from New York, where he has been in the interest of Acadia University. As a result of his visit he has John D. Rockefeller's pledge of support for the institution of which he is president to the extent of $100,000. With the promise and the plans he has arranged, Dr. Trotter is full of confidence in future for Acadia.

The general conditions of Mr. Rockefeller's donation have been outlined in the Star before. As a result of representations made to him by Dr. Trotter, he will give a dollar for every dollar raised by the governors of Acadia up to $100,000. The collections may start at any time and Mr. Rockefeller's portion will be paid quarterly until the $100,000 dollar mark is reached or until January first, 1903.

This is the proposition which Dr. Trotter had in mind when he visited New York and his success in obtaining it is more than gratifying to friends of the institution. The whole matter has meant great labor on his part, for Mr. Rockefeller does not give money without being thoroughly convinced that his gift is going where it will do the most good. Dr. Trotter has had to explain to him with voluminous information regarding not only Acadia, but also all other educational systems in this part of Canada; the public school systems, social and economical conditions and every thing else that could possibly bear on the future usefulness of Acadia.

When he went to New York Mr. Rockefeller was down South and the president was received by C. T. Gates, the man who has charge of the financial philanthropic schemes. With him the matter was gone over thoroughly, and through him the representations were made to Mr. Rockefeller, which resulted in the proposition stated above. Mr. Gates, says Dr. Trotter, had an acquaintance with maritime province educational affairs which astonished him.

Asked regarding his plans today Dr. Trotter said that nothing definite had yet been arranged except that the canvassing campaign would at once be prosecuted. As soon as he returns to Wolfville the matter will be laid before the executive of the board of governors which has power to arrange all details necessary.

"There will undoubtedly be some difficulty in raising our $100,000," said Dr. Trotter, "at least under present conditions. There are many schemes before the churches now notably the women's mission people have to deal, and they are often pretty hard to manage. To make the movement a success, those who are well-to-do must give liberally at the beginning for it is my idea that the canvasses at first must be among individuals with perhaps a later appeal to the churches to complete the fund."

"Then money when raised will go first toward the wiping out of the debt which burdens the various branches of the institution. When this is paid—about $60,000 in all, the balance of the $200,000 will go toward increasing the endowment of the university and the income will be at the absolute disposal of the governors. But nothing at all will be done in the way of improvements or the establishing of new chairs until every penny of debt is cleared away."

"Have you decided to remain in the presidency?" Dr. Trotter was asked.
"Unreservedly, yes. The way things had been I had felt unwilling to give my whole life to a work that must, by financial conditions, have always crippled the college. The college would certainly have gone to the wall, but through success and at a fearful strain to the ruling man at its head. Never since its foundation has Acadia been solvent. But now that we will be able to release the institution of its embarrassment and place it on the highway to thorough efficiency I have more hope and feel that if my services are of use to the college I cannot withdraw them. This movement when completed will practically double our resources, and though even then we shall not be able to indulge in luxuries until all the way of advancement that we would yet we will be in a position to do far better work than ever before."

Dr. Trotter will leave for Wolfville tomorrow.

LAKE NAVIGATION.

MUSKEGON, Mich., Mar 19.—The Barry line steamer Alice Stafford, with 20 passengers aboard, bound for Chicago, is fast in a huge flow of slush ice about five miles off and one mile north of this port. The strong southwest wind is rapidly driving the ice toward shore.

THE C. P. R. STEAMERS.

LONDON, March 19.—The Beaver line steamers recently purchased by the Canadian Pacific Railway, will run between London and Montreal, the new owners having abandoned the plans for a Glasgow-Canada service, which it was announced was to be started in June.

THE PASSOVER.

The next feast in the Jewish calendar is that of the Passover, which commences in three weeks and continues for eight days. During the fast days members of the congregation are allowed only the unleavened bread described in the Bible. Large quantities of this bread, which resembles pilot biscuit, is being imported from New York. It is made in the same manner as that eaten by the Israelites, but stoves are used for baking it instead of the rays of the sun.

Rabbi Rabbinoitch, who was formerly in charge of the congregation here, is expected to return this week. He will again take charge of the synagogue. The present Rabbi will also remain here. His duties will include among other things, the teaching of the children and the killing of animals for the people. Rabbi Seigel is well educated in Jewish, but Rabbi Rabbinoitch has the drop on him in English.

POLICE COURT.

Dennis Murphy and Coke O'Brien got on an early drunk yesterday and were scopped by the cops between three and four o'clock. This morning they were fined eight dollars apiece each for both of them, Coke and Dennis.

John Lynch, a young boy, happened to fall in with a disorderly crowd who were trundling their war whoops round a bonfire on Brunswick street. Lynch was arrested by Officer W. J. Sullivan but this morning was let go, after giving an explanation of his conduct.

Yesterday afternoon Annie Francis went to jail for one month for selling beer in her place on Sheffield street. In this case, the police of the police was not so much to have the woman punished for selling beer as to break up the house she was starting.

The funeral of the late Miss Maud E. Roulston took place at half past two o'clock from her late home on Charlotte street, Carleton, to St. George's church. Rev. W. H. Sampson conducted the services and the body was interred in Cedar Hill. Relatives acted as pall-bearers.

UNRULY CATTLEMEN.

Although no disturbances of a serious nature have occurred this winter at the Seamen's Mission, the persons in charge of the place have their own troubles in handling the cattlemen who make use of the shelter there. These cattlemen are the worst class with whom the mission people have to deal, and they are often pretty hard to manage.

Yesterday two of them got into a fight in the shelter and when Mr. Williams tried to act as peacemaker they, with three others, turned on him. But they got away without being seriously injured. The cattlemen themselves are a pretty rough looking lot and many of them carry cuts or bruises as relics of drunken fights.

WHITTAKER WRIGHT.

LONDON, March 19.—The case of Whittaker Wright, who is under arrest in New York, came up in the Guild Hall police court this morning, this being the day the summons obtained against him was returnable. Formal notification was given the court of Wright's arrest in New York and of the government's application for his extradition. In the summons John Flower, chairman of the shareholders' committee of the London and Globe Finance Corporation, described as the "informant," charged Wright with "publishing a false balance sheet."

THE HUGGERMAN.

Lower Cove is now getting a share of attention from the huggerman. About ten o'clock last night a lady who was going to her home on Charlotte street was assaulted between St. James and Britain streets by an unknown man. She screamed for assistance and this evidently scared the fellow, who ran away. The lady was taken to Donohoe's drug store in a fainting condition and it was some time before she was able to proceed on her way.

TONIGHT'S MEETING.

The Fabian League holds this evening, the first of its public meetings at Odd Fellows' Hall, Union street. The public are invited to take part in the discussion. E. C. Shuckey the chairman of the league will give an address on the "Need of a Factory Act in New Brunswick," and Scott E. Morrell will speak on a "Better System of Ballot in This Province." These questions are deserving of a large audience.

THE FISH MARKET.

The scarcity of supply in the Lenten fish market continues. Today the stock in the hands of the several retailers was hardly sufficient to supply the demand for today and tomorrow, and the wholesalers had little to replenish the stock with. Some arrivals of fresh fish from the other side of the bay are expected today. The only fish in the market this morning were halibut, cod and haddock. Prices on these were unchanged.

STANLEY AND MINTO.

The Stanley succeeded in forcing her way through the blockade of ice of Pictou harbor last evening and shortly afterwards the Minto was towed in and docked. This morning the I. C. R. received the following: "The Stanley left Pictou for Georgetown at 7 a. m." It is considerably more than two months since this happened before. The Minto will have to be repaired before going on her route.

New Dressmaking Department.

We have much pleasure in advising the women of St. John that on Monday next we will open a new Dressmaking Department in connection with our rapidly growing business. We have been doing a successful skirt making business for some time, but the demand for other garments has been so great that we have decided to take up the art in all its branches. A new Dressmaker, MISS ANNIE NELSON, for a number of years forewoman for Miss Spence, one of St. John's leading dressmakers, who comes to us very highly recommended, will have charge of this department. Miss Nelson will be pleased to give any information about the best styles for 1903, and take orders for any kind of a garment for women or girls.

Assuring you of our best services,
We are, yours truly,

WELL KNOWN IN HALIFAX.

Ernest Hayward Who Spent Last Summer Here, Shoots Brother-in-Law Dead.

(Halifax Herald.)

Ernest Hayward under arrest at Raleigh, N. C., charged with the murder of his brother-in-law, J. F. Skinner. The tragedy occurred on the street. The men quarrelled and Hayward shot Skinner dead. He fired two shots. Hayward is a lawyer. He spent last summer in Halifax, having leased a residence in the fashionable part of the city. He was accompanied by a handsome woman, about thirty years of age, and two children and a colored maid. The couple spent lots of money here, but, although they gave their names as Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Hayward, yet it was known that checks payable to the woman were made out in the name of Mrs. Tucker. Mrs. Hayward explained that Mr. Hayward was her second husband. The name of the first was Tucker. Hayward was the law-yr engaged to settle up the Tucker estate. One of the children was under the treatment of Dr. Tucker for spinal trouble.

The shooting of Skinner by Hayward at Raleigh, North Carolina, was the result of a dispute over Mrs. Tucker. From information received here, it appears that Hayward had some words with a sister of Mrs. Tucker. He was charged with having caused the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Tucker, and during periodical visits to Raleigh; during the lease of the house in Halifax he denied that he had married Mrs. Tucker and said he had no knowledge of her whereabouts. However, last fall, Hayward and the woman, who accompanied him to Halifax, returned to Raleigh and more trouble followed. Hayward, who was a brother-in-law of Hayward, met Hayward near the post office, words passed and Hayward shot Skinner dead. Three lawyers have been engaged to defend Hayward. It is claimed on his behalf that he shot in self-defence.

A TRUE LENT.

To show a heart-grievant;
To starve thy sin,
And that's to keep thy Lent.

Herrick's lines on To Keep a True Lent (of which the last stanza is quoted above) were written when England was but just recovering from the first shock of the great Civil War. It was a time when men thought clearly about religion, because the contending parties were divided largely by questions of faith. We are coming upon days of wide religious tolerance—God forbid that we should not be thankful for it—but we are tempted to think that any creed is good if a man lives up to it, and we therefore need to be somewhat forced to think out our religious position.

Nor custom, nor example, nor vast numbers
Of such as do offend, much less the sin,
Is an old truth, but it is very easy to forget that sin is
