

a College Chapel and the restoration of the Collegiate School; and they trust that those plans will still be accomplished, notwithstanding the loss of his able advocacy. They would gladly present to his widow and fatherless children a more substantial recognition of his services if it were in their power to do so; but, not having any unappropriated funds at their disposal, they are unable to offer more than this assurance of their hearty appreciation of the merits of the deceased and their sympathy with them in their deep affliction.

When by his death the Chair of Pastoral Theology became vacant, the President undertook the work of that department, and the Rev. W. E. Wilson, who was highly recommended and had had much experience in education, was appointed acting Professor of Classics.

The Board has this year been deprived of the services of J. C. Haliburton, Esq., who for nearly 50 years, was their Treasurer. During all that time Mr. Haliburton gave his services gratuitously to the College and was constant in the duties of his office; B. G. Gray, Esq., has been appointed Treasurer in his place.

The Governors have very great satisfaction in stating that Edward Binney, Esq., of Halifax, already a munificent benefactor of the College, has offered to build at his own expense the Hensley Memorial Chapel. They trust that this noble example will have the effect of arousing others so to exert themselves that next year they may announce that the whole amount required for the Collegiate School has been subscribed.

The prospect for the future of the College is bright and encouraging; the number of students has considerably increased and a still larger number is expected next year. In the advantages offered, King's College is second to none in the Maritime Provinces; these advantages are becoming more and more appreciated; and there is every reason to hope that a still wider sphere of usefulness is opening to the College.
