

ST. JOHN LADIES SUSSEX HONORS

The St. John Contingent Won Many of the Prizes in Yesterday's P. R. A. Shooting Under Adverse Conditions--Wind Tricky and Light Bad--The Scores in Detail.

Special to The Standard. Sussex, Aug. 10--Headed by Sergt. I. A. Archibald, 3rd R. C. A., the St. John contingent to the Provincial Rifle Association meet here, led all the rest under adverse circumstances in the match for the H. H. McLean Silver Cup, and $100 in prizes. The St. John boys also got off with a lot of prize money this morning. Sergeant Archibald hammered in 10 bull-eyes at 300 yards in the McLean match in a shifty wind and a bad light, making the possible of 50 and walking off with the silver cup donated by Col. H. H. McLean, M. P., president of the association, and the $10 additional given by the association as first prize. The sergeant also grasped $6 this morning, coming fourth in the association competition with a score one point below the highest made, 96. He is also the modest winner of some extra series prize money. Three points below the St. John champion in the McLean cup match is Capt. W. E. Forbes of the 73rd regiment, winner of about $15 prize money as today's wages. Capt. Forbes came one point ahead of Sergt. Archibald this morning in the total for the 200, 500 and 600 yard ranges in the association match thus tying with Pte. L. Clark of the 67th, and P. H. Price of Grand Falls for the association cup. As Mr. Clark made the biggest score in the longest range and Mr. Forbes 2nd largest, the first mention-

Table with columns for names, scores, and ranks. Includes names like Pte. L. P. Clark, Capt. W. E. Forbes, F. H. Price, etc.

Maiden Aggregate. Score D. Conley, St. John R. A.,41 J. P. Pours, Grand Falls,41 J. P. Coates, 3rd R. C. A.,41 Corp. O. Dick, 3rd R. C. A.,41 Rev. J. J. Pinkerton, M. R. A.,41 W. J. Coates, 3rd R. C. A.,41 F. L. Dixon, Grand Falls,41 G. A. Belmore, Blackville,41 A. D. Jonah, M. R. A.,41 P. R. Semple, Florenceville,41

KILLED BY WAGON OF HIS FATHER. Malden, Aug. 10--James M. Fay, five-year-old son of James R. Fay, of Grafton Court, was instantly killed this afternoon when he fell from the seat of his father's wagon in Faulkner square.

PRISONERS SAW BARS IN ESCAPE. Hartford, Conn., Aug. 10--Timothy A. Sheedy, one of the most notorious burglars in the country, escaped last night from the county jail here, where he was being held until there was room in the Wetherfield State prison to which institution he had been sentenced for 30 years for burglaries committed in this city.

AN AVIATOR FALLS FROM GREAT HEIGHT. Aeroplanist Heim Dropped 225 Feet During German Meet Yesterday--Not Killed, But Very Badly Hurt. Johannisthal, Germany, Aug. 10--The aeroplanist Heim met with a serious accident at the aviation meeting here today. While flying at a height of about 225 feet in a Wright machine, one of the propellers broke. The other continued to run, causing the craft to turn over several times. It fell with a crash and was completely demolished. Heim was carried off the field unconscious. Later he regained consciousness, but his injuries are considered very grave.

THE LABOR MEN AND THE TECHNICAL COMMISSION In Face of Building Trades Council Meeting for Friday Night, Labor Men Feel That Time for Selecting Workmen to Go Before Commission Might be Extended.

As a special meeting of the building trades council has been called for Friday evening to consider the question of sending representatives before the royal commission on technical education, the action of the committee of the board of trade in fixing upon Friday as the last date for receiving applications for a hearing has caused some dissatisfaction in labor circles. It is felt that the board of trade committee could not have been aware of the intentions of the labor representatives, or it would not have taken action barring the representatives of the building trades council from the opportunity of placing their views on technical education before the commission.

After investigating the educational efforts incidental to the trade, Henry Turner Bailey, editor of the School Arts Book, has given the public another instalment of his views. In an eastern magazine, reviewing the work of several printing schools, Mr. Bailey says: "But perhaps the most significant movement of recent years is a movement on the part of a great printers' organization, the International Typographical Union, which has resulted in the establishment in Chicago, under the management of the Inland Printer Technical School, of a course of instruction in printing, which may be followed by correspondence.

The correspondence school now has about 1,500 pupils (now more than 1,600--Ed.), and new ones are being added at the rate of four or five a day. Pupils are located in every state in the union, in England, Australia, and other far-away places. Local unions, in many cases, pay part of the tuition of pupils from their district.

The course offered is a happy combination of the technical and the esthetic. Based on wide practical experience, and on thorough knowledge of the elements of beauty as embodied in printing art, it begins at once to transform the student's ideals and to improve his work. From the outside drawing plays the important part in this discipline. The first lesson is the drawing of handsome Roman capitals. The results of instructions, which may be seen at any time at headquarters, are of astonishing variety and excellence. Some of the best sheets are produced by students more than 50 years of age. When a labor organization turns its attention from educating its members to believe only that they must receive a maximum wage, whatever the quality of their work, to educating its members to produce good work, whatever their wage may be, the naturally right standard of the master craftsman of the middle ages has reappeared, and a new day of hope has dawned for the workman and for his craft.

By the establishment of this correspondence school, the International Typographical Union has proved itself a leader among labor organizations. It has adopted the one method whereby the best interests of its membership, and therefore its own best interests, can be promoted; namely, the method which improves the individual man. It has adopted the one method which can work good and only good to all concerned.

Letter to Step-son. This was startling news indeed, for it happened that Mrs. Crippen had told her friends that she was not on good terms with her stepson, and that indeed, "she would never have anything more to do with him." But it was not until she had asked her mind, and visited her stepson, that a letter was sent to him, asking for definite news of Mrs. Crippen's death. He sent this astonishing reply, addressing it to the secretary of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, Los Angeles, Cal., May 9, 1910.

Dear Madam--Received your letter forwarded to me from the County Clerk, April 23, 1910. But owing to many misfortunes, sickness, and death of my son, I overlooked your letter until this date. The death of my stepmother was as great a surprise to me as to any one. She died in San Francisco, and the first I heard of it was through my father, who wrote to me immediately afterwards. He asked me to forward all letters to him, and he would make necessary explanations. He said he had, through a mistake, given out my name and address as my stepmother's death place.

I would be very glad if you find out any particulars of her death, if you would let me know of them, as all I know is the fact that she died in San Francisco. Yours very sincerely, H. OTTO CRIPPEN. So Mrs. Crippen had not died, after all, at the house of her stepson. The mystery had deepened strangely. The time had now come when the case should pass out of my hands into those of the authorities at Scotland Yard.

White Slaver Jailed. Boston, Aug. 10--Louis DeFranzio, a stylishly dressed young man, pleaded guilty to a white slave charge yesterday afternoon in the Superior Criminal Court. He was sentenced to nine months in the House of Correction.

Sturgeon Disables An Engine. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 10--A 15 lb. sturgeon nearly sent a party of three in a motor boat over the falls late last night. Opposite La Salle, two miles above the falls, the fish leaped for the searchlight in the bow, missed it, struck and seriously injured Miss Nellie Johnson, of this city, and then thrashing about in the boat, disabled the engine. The sturgeon, which measured 6 feet 8 inches, was finally speared by cars, wielded by Frank Mensdale, of this city, and Sebastian Smith, of La Salle, the other occupant. Meanwhile the boat was being swept rapidly toward the cataract.

Two Boys Drowned By Prank. Boston, Aug. 10--Richard McCarthy, a 12-year-old Roxbury boy, lost his life in the Charles River at Needham Heights, yesterday afternoon in a vain attempt to save the life of John McKinnon his 8 year old chum whom he had pushed overboard in play. The boys, with another, Fred Hall, had been tramping along the river near the Dedham line. McCarthy, who lives at 17 Anita avenue suggested they go in swimming. He and McKinnon lived at Marcella street undressed. They played for a while on the bank. Finally McCarthy gave the other a shove. He fell into the river at a point where the bank shelved off to deep water and floundered about helplessly. McCarthy seeing that the boy would drown, dived in after him. While Haller screamed for help, McCarthy struggled for 10 minutes before he became exhausted and sank with his chum.

Long Term For Thirty Cent Theft. Boston, Mass., Aug. 10--Three years in the house of correction for stealing 30 cents was the sentence meted out yesterday afternoon to Henry Smith, of Charlestown, who was found guilty of robbery by a jury in the superior criminal court. Smith, who is but 29 years of age, has spent the greater part of the past four years in the various jails of the county for petty crimes. The robbery was committed in Charlestown, near the Charlestown State prison, and the money was taken from Alfred N. Wadman, a boy of about 15 years. He was passing along the street when Smith met him. It was claimed that Smith was under the influence of liquor. The evidence showed that Smith grabbed the boy by the neck, threw him to the ground, and took the 30 cents from Wadman's pocket. Smith was not captured until nearly an hour later.

Obituary. Fredericton, N. B., August 10--Ashley Johnson, oldest son of Ex-Alderman Johnson, died this evening at the home of his parents after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. In former years he was employed in the grocery business here and later went to North Sydney to reside, returning here a few weeks ago in a weak condition and in last stages of the dreaded disease. He was about 30 years old and his death will be learned with regret by his many friends.

THE LABOR MEN AND THE TECHNICAL COMMISSION

In Face of Building Trades Council Meeting for Friday Night, Labor Men Feel That Time for Selecting Workmen to Go Before Commission Might be Extended.

As a special meeting of the building trades council has been called for Friday evening to consider the question of sending representatives before the royal commission on technical education, the action of the committee of the board of trade in fixing upon Friday as the last date for receiving applications for a hearing has caused some dissatisfaction in labor circles. It is felt that the board of trade committee could not have been aware of the intentions of the labor representatives, or it would not have taken action barring the representatives of the building trades council from the opportunity of placing their views on technical education before the commission.

After investigating the educational efforts incidental to the trade, Henry Turner Bailey, editor of the School Arts Book, has given the public another instalment of his views. In an eastern magazine, reviewing the work of several printing schools, Mr. Bailey says: "But perhaps the most significant movement of recent years is a movement on the part of a great printers' organization, the International Typographical Union, which has resulted in the establishment in Chicago, under the management of the Inland Printer Technical School, of a course of instruction in printing, which may be followed by correspondence.

The correspondence school now has about 1,500 pupils (now more than 1,600--Ed.), and new ones are being added at the rate of four or five a day. Pupils are located in every state in the union, in England, Australia, and other far-away places. Local unions, in many cases, pay part of the tuition of pupils from their district.

The course offered is a happy combination of the technical and the esthetic. Based on wide practical experience, and on thorough knowledge of the elements of beauty as embodied in printing art, it begins at once to transform the student's ideals and to improve his work. From the outside drawing plays the important part in this discipline. The first lesson is the drawing of handsome Roman capitals. The results of instructions, which may be seen at any time at headquarters, are of astonishing variety and excellence. Some of the best sheets are produced by students more than 50 years of age. When a labor organization turns its attention from educating its members to believe only that they must receive a maximum wage, whatever the quality of their work, to educating its members to produce good work, whatever their wage may be, the naturally right standard of the master craftsman of the middle ages has reappeared, and a new day of hope has dawned for the workman and for his craft.

By the establishment of this correspondence school, the International Typographical Union has proved itself a leader among labor organizations. It has adopted the one method whereby the best interests of its membership, and therefore its own best interests, can be promoted; namely, the method which improves the individual man. It has adopted the one method which can work good and only good to all concerned.

Letter to Step-son. This was startling news indeed, for it happened that Mrs. Crippen had told her friends that she was not on good terms with her stepson, and that indeed, "she would never have anything more to do with him." But it was not until she had asked her mind, and visited her stepson, that a letter was sent to him, asking for definite news of Mrs. Crippen's death. He sent this astonishing reply, addressing it to the secretary of the Music Hall Ladies' Guild, Los Angeles, Cal., May 9, 1910.

Dear Madam--Received your letter forwarded to me from the County Clerk, April 23, 1910. But owing to many misfortunes, sickness, and death of my son, I overlooked your letter until this date. The death of my stepmother was as great a surprise to me as to any one. She died in San Francisco, and the first I heard of it was through my father, who wrote to me immediately afterwards. He asked me to forward all letters to him, and he would make necessary explanations. He said he had, through a mistake, given out my name and address as my stepmother's death place.

I would be very glad if you find out any particulars of her death, if you would let me know of them, as all I know is the fact that she died in San Francisco. Yours very sincerely, H. OTTO CRIPPEN. So Mrs. Crippen had not died, after all, at the house of her stepson. The mystery had deepened strangely. The time had now come when the case should pass out of my hands into those of the authorities at Scotland Yard.

White Slaver Jailed. Boston, Aug. 10--Louis DeFranzio, a stylishly dressed young man, pleaded guilty to a white slave charge yesterday afternoon in the Superior Criminal Court. He was sentenced to nine months in the House of Correction.

Sturgeon Disables An Engine. Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 10--A 15 lb. sturgeon nearly sent a party of three in a motor boat over the falls late last night. Opposite La Salle, two miles above the falls, the fish leaped for the searchlight in the bow, missed it, struck and seriously injured Miss Nellie Johnson, of this city, and then thrashing about in the boat, disabled the engine. The sturgeon, which measured 6 feet 8 inches, was finally speared by cars, wielded by Frank Mensdale, of this city, and Sebastian Smith, of La Salle, the other occupant. Meanwhile the boat was being swept rapidly toward the cataract.

Two Boys Drowned By Prank. Boston, Aug. 10--Richard McCarthy, a 12-year-old Roxbury boy, lost his life in the Charles River at Needham Heights, yesterday afternoon in a vain attempt to save the life of John McKinnon his 8 year old chum whom he had pushed overboard in play. The boys, with another, Fred Hall, had been tramping along the river near the Dedham line. McCarthy, who lives at 17 Anita avenue suggested they go in swimming. He and McKinnon lived at Marcella street undressed. They played for a while on the bank. Finally McCarthy gave the other a shove. He fell into the river at a point where the bank shelved off to deep water and floundered about helplessly. McCarthy seeing that the boy would drown, dived in after him. While Haller screamed for help, McCarthy struggled for 10 minutes before he became exhausted and sank with his chum.

Obituary. Fredericton, N. B., August 10--Ashley Johnson, oldest son of Ex-Alderman Johnson, died this evening at the home of his parents after a lingering illness of tuberculosis. In former years he was employed in the grocery business here and later went to North Sydney to reside, returning here a few weeks ago in a weak condition and in last stages of the dreaded disease. He was about 30 years old and his death will be learned with regret by his many friends.

Vertical text on the right edge of the page, including names and fragments of articles.