A TERRIBLE PLOT FOUND OUT BY POLICE

Scotland Yard Gets Information of Suffragettes' Plans for Campaign of Crime — Will Even Kill.

London, July 1.—The Daily Express publishes a sensational statement to the effect that the authorities at Scotland Yard have received information of an astonishing character respecting the intentions of a small, but dangerous section of the militant suffragettes.

The full details, says the Express, are known only in the inner circle of the home office, but it is understood information has been obtained that beyond any doubt a few mad women have determined to add murder to the campaign of crime and outrage, and that the destruction will begin immediately after any suffragette dies in prison.

Should one militant die while under sentence, although, of course, death would result of her own action in hungerstriking, the life of no cabinet minister would be safe and the lives of two prominent in particular would be in greatest danger.

Every effort is being made to prevent the details of the plans made by the women from leaking out, and official details will doubtless be published.

NOTE TO MARINERS. Portland, June 27, 1913. Watch Rock Gas Buoy No 2 DR, reported extinguished June 26. Will be relighted as soon as practicable.

SUFFRAGETTES AND CAT AND MOUSE BILL

London, July 1.—The Daily Mail claims that the suffragettes plan of campaign now is to bend all efforts to the direction of breaking down the cat and mouse bill.

Instructions have been sent to all local suffrage societies to do everything possible by agitation, sending deputations to the ministers and the members of the House of Commons, by flooding them with letters and articles to enlist public sympathy and get the act repealed.

A Problem for the Editor. It has been asked whether stepping on a man's corns gives provocation for swearing. Answer: Keep the toes clear of corns by using Putnam's Corn Extractor. It's the best. 25c. at all dealers.
