

OPPOSING FORCES IN WESTERN THEATRE OF WAR PREPARE FOR DECISIVE STRUGGLE

ENGLAND WILL NOT SHEATH SWORD UNTIL GERMANY'S CRUSHED

London, Nov. 9.—(Through Reuters' Ottawa Agency)—The Guild Hall banquet tonight, like today's assault with the dominion's troops participating, assumed an essentially military aspect. It was a brilliant gathering, including representatives of the allies, besides honored guests of France, Russia, Japan, Belgium, Serbia and Montenegro, the ambassadors of neutral powers, the usual splendid gathering of cabinet ministers, and representatives of every section of the community.

Right Hon. Herbert Henry Asquith, the prime minister, upon rising to respond to the toast of His Majesty's Ministers, was given a rare ovation.

"Never," he said, "has any government in our history more needed the whole-hearted confidence and unselfish co-operation of the community without distinction of party or class; never has that confidence been more ungrudgingly expressed, and that co-operation more generously offered.

"This was the seventh year in succession that he had responded for His Majesty's Ministers at the Guild Hall banquet, he said. During that time not only our own country, but the world outside, had experienced many strange vicissitudes.

Young Turk to Fore With Bloodless Revolution

It was not inappropriate to recall the European situation. It presented new features, startling and arresting, the significance of which was being left for time to unfold. First, there was the formal annexation of Bosnia and Herzegovina.

Advantage was then taken by Austria, with the confidence of another power to ride roughshod over weaker nationalities and set aside the public law of Europe. That was the first, though not the most important, of the causes which led to the present bloodless revolution; they had deposed Sultan Abdul Hamid; they had established, as all believed, freedom and constitutional government in the Ottoman Empire. Never were they so sanguinely entertained, deemed to bicker or more completely disappointed; and after six years we were reluctantly compelled to admit that the Young Turk reproduced the vices, without either the vigor or versatility of the old regime.

"When this war began," continued the prime minister, "we were in clear conjunction with our allies, the Turkish government that if they remained neutral their empire should not suffer in integrity or authority. The Turkish statesmen, valuing their council from day to day, allowed their true interests to be undetermined by German threats, by German ships, and by German gold. They were brought to one little outrage after another, the lawless bombardment of Russian open ports, the equally lawless invasion into Egyptian territory, continued until the allies, after observing unexampled patience in the face of vilest menaces and impudent equivocations, were compelled to yield to the logic of facts and to march the Turk as an open enemy. It is not the Turkish people, it is the Ottoman government that has drawn the sword, and I do not hesitate to predict that that government will perish by its own sword, as it is they, and not we, who have run from the death knell of the Ottoman dominion, not only in Europe but in Asia.

"With this disappearance of Turkey, the blight which for generations past has withered some of the fairest regions. We have no quarrel with the Mussulman subjects of the Sultan. Our sovereign claims among his most loyal subjects millions of men of the Moslem faith. Nothing further from our thoughts than to encourage a crusade against their creed. Their holy places we are prepared to defend, should the need arise, against all invaders, and to maintain them inviolate; but the Turkish empire has committed suicide, and dug with its own hands its own grave."

The Financial Conditions.

Turning to financial and economic questions, Mr. Asquith explained the measures taken by the government to deal with the abnormal situation at the beginning of the war. He thought that the results were very satisfactory. Foreign exchanges were working, in the case of most countries, quite satisfactorily. The gold reserve of the Bank of England, which was forty million sterling on July 22nd, and which had fallen on August 7th to twenty-seven million, now stands at the unprecedented figure of sixty-nine million and a half millions. (Cheers.)

The central gold reserves, after three months of war, amounts to eighty millions, almost exactly twice the amount at which it stood at the beginning of the crisis. Mr. Asquith pointed out that the bank rate, after fluctuating, now was about at the level at which it stood this time last year. Food prices had been kept on a fairly normal level, and though there had been curtailment in some directions, unemployment had been rather below than above the average. In this connection Mr. Asquith paid a tribute to the Corporation of the City Financiers for relieving the situation. He announced that the King, in recognition of this, had conferred a peerage on Sir Walter Cunliffe, governor of the Bank of England.

Mr. Asquith told his hearers that they should not be moved unduly by

TOBACCO FOR THE SOLDIERS

"Buy a Smoke for a Soldier" a Popular Slogan—Appeal Meeting With Ready Response.

As a result of the activities of the ladies who are organizing for tobacco and cigars to the British soldiers on the firing line, every smoker in the city has an opportunity to contribute to this patriotic object. At the hotels and tobacco stores about the city boxes have been installed bearing the label "When you buy a smoke contribute something to the soldiers."

The committee in charge of campaign to provide cigars and tobacco for the soldiers report that generous contributions are being made. At the clear and tobacco many packages of tobacco, cigars and cigarettes are being dropped into the boxes. In many cases people are sending in contributions of money to be used to purchase tobacco for the soldiers.

Those who have not yet contributed may send either money or tobacco to Miss Travers, King Square.

It is the intention to make a shipment of contributions received about the twentieth of the month. The tobacco will be sent to the British and allied soldiers on the firing line, and not to the camp on Salisbury Plain.

In other parts of the province the idea of providing tobacco for the soldiers is meeting with favor.

In a recent article in Everybody's Magazine Fredrick Palmer the veteran war correspondent, and the only American correspondent allowed at the front, stated clearly he always carried a supply of tobacco when visiting the fighters at the front, knowing that it was the most acceptable gift that could be offered them.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IS YOUR LAXATIVE

For sick headache, sour stomach, sluggish liver and bowels.

Get a 10-cent box. Put aside—just once—the Salts, Pills, Castor Oil or Purgative Waters which merely force a passage-way through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your "insides" pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you feel great by morning. They work while you sleep—never grip, sicken, and cost only 10 cents a box from your druggist. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never have Headache, Biliousness, Severe Colds, Indigestion, Sour Stomach or Constipated Bowels. Cascarets belong in every household. Children just love to take them.
