

FRIENDS DO HONOR TO GORDON NUTTALL

Birthday of returned soldier fittingly observed—Several presentations made.

GORDON NUTTALL.

The friends of Gordon Nuttall, one of St. John's returned heroes, to the number of about one hundred headed by St. Mary's band, of which he is a member, gathered at his home last night to celebrate his twenty-first birthday. Finding the house too small the party adjourned to the large hall of the Victoria Rink, across the street where a very pleasant evening was spent in dancing and various games.

The Daily Fashion Hint.

Silver lace under dress, upper part and train decoration of black jet on net. Rhinestone shoulder straps and tassels.

POPULAR ACTRESS IN HALL CAINE'S NEW WAR PLAY

Miss Elsie Ferguson, the famous actress, appears as the heroine in Hall Caine's new play, "Margaret Schiller," the first from his pen that has reached the stage direct and not from the pages of a book. Miss Ferguson's new role is that of a German girl. The story is told in a prologue and four acts. Up to the very last situation the tragic death of Margaret at the hands of her own brother, a German assassin whose intention was to slay England's Prime Minister, in whose house Margaret was employed as a governess, there is much to arouse the curiosity of an audience as to just how the author handles an absorbingly interesting plot.

SAYS HE'S A "CHAMP"

"TOMMY" MALONEY

"Tommy" Maloney, who is a New York boy, has jumped to the front and claims the welterweight championship. He says he has defeated the title against all challengers and rises to inquire why a pretender for his throne should be favored with any recognition. He also says he is ready to meet all contenders for the title, including "Willie" Ritchie and "Ted" Lewis.

During the evening the following presentations were made to him:—St. Mary's Band, through the Bandmaster, Charles H. Williams, presented him with a gold fountain pen. Mr. McLaughlin on behalf of friends presented him with a handsome silver ring suitably engraved; and Samuel Ritchie, on behalf of other friends presented him with a very nice silver wrist watch. He was taken by surprise, but returned his thanks to his friends for their kindness in a neat little speech. His elder brother Jack is still at the front doing good work and has sent home several souvenirs, among which is the nose of a German six-inch shell.

Those who have seen the opening chapters of The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke will not want to miss any of them. You may trust Joseph Louis Vance for a good plot and certainly you may trust J. Warren Herigan to play well the part of the Irish adventurer. He is approached in Cairo and asked to join in a conspiracy against Britain. He refuses but is trapped by the Princess Constantine, played by Carmen Phillips. Afterwards the Princess repents and when O'Rourke is assassinated she saves him and helps him to escape. He gets to the military headquarters of the British and has the satisfaction of knowing that the plot has been foiled. I must speak of the scenes in the Cairo streets with Arab shops, natives, soldiers, donkeys and their drivers. Also the rooms of the Princess with their eastern decorations. It is splendidly staged.

Charles Chaplin, national character in comedy moving picture, has been offered and flatly refused a salary of $350,000 per year—$1,000 per day that works out to. The man who made the offer is the authority for this statement, John McKeon, eastern representative of the New York Motion Picture Company. The comedian held out for almost double that amount. Unless he gets it Charlie plans to open a studio with his brother. We in St. John, can see this famous and highly valued man at the different theatres.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

NEWS of the THEATRES

K-Theatres xatiff ubth-2 ¼

The marriage of Kitty at the Imperial Theatre today is a very pretty comedy. It is a well worked out and most cleverly acted comedy and the girls in it wear some of the very prettiest dresses I have seen for a long time. Fannie Ward as "Kitty" scores a triumph when she brings the fickle Lord Reginald to her feet. She deserves all the praise written of her as an attractive comedienne.

The plot is of the "He fell in love with his wife" variety. Lord Reginald is in love with Helen de Semmano of the Gaiety Theatre. By his uncle's will he must marry before a certain date to inherit, but it must not be an actress. His lawyer has a ward, Kitty, who agrees to marry Lord Reginald and be divorced so that he may be free to marry the fascinating actress. The wedding is very funny for Kitty makes herself up most surprisingly ugly for such a beautiful girl. Lord Reginald leaves after the ceremony and Kitty has a lovely time with money and the Newport estate. There are some charming scenes taken at Newport. Of course her husband finds out she is a beauty and of course Helen (most excellently played by Cleo Ridgely, a very attractive actress) tries to hold him and even plots against Kitty, aided by her brother, but it all turns out right in the end. Jack Dean as the flirtatious Englishman was very funny. The whole cast are splendid.

Mary Pickford has signed a new contract with the Famous Players' Film Co. It cost the Paramount Company one-half million dollars ($500,000.00—looks even more) to put Mary Pickford's pictures in the Paramount Theatres during 1916. Miss Pickford is to be a partner in the firm to be known as The Famous Players-Mary Pickford Company, and the youthful star to have a half interest. Last year Miss Pickford's salary was only $2,000 per week or $104,000 for the year. The largest authenticated offer she received was for $6,000.00 per week.

"The Diamond from the Sky" is not an Irish diamond either. It's no shamrock. It is the real thing.

Those who have seen the opening chapters of The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke will not want to miss any of them. You may trust Joseph Louis Vance for a good plot and certainly you may trust J. Warren Herigan to play well the part of the Irish adventurer. He is approached in Cairo and asked to join in a conspiracy against Britain. He refuses but is trapped by the Princess Constantine, played by Carmen Phillips. Afterwards the Princess repents and when O'Rourke is assassinated she saves him and helps him to escape. He gets to the military headquarters of the British and has the satisfaction of knowing that the plot has been foiled. I must speak of the scenes in the Cairo streets with Arab shops, natives, soldiers, donkeys and their drivers. Also the rooms of the Princess with their eastern decorations. It is splendidly staged.

Charles Chaplin, national character in comedy moving picture, has been offered and flatly refused a salary of $350,000 per year—$1,000 per day that works out to. The man who made the offer is the authority for this statement, John McKeon, eastern representative of the New York Motion Picture Company. The comedian held out for almost double that amount. Unless he gets it Charlie plans to open a studio with his brother. We in St. John, can see this famous and highly valued man at the different theatres.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

Major S. Commenus Paleologos (it sounds like the name of a science) who plays in The Adventures of Terence O'Rourke, was born in Constantinople. He was an officer in the Turkish army and later a journalist and tourist agent. He joined the Universal Company for "The Campbells are Coming."

Tonight at the Unique is to be seen a picture called "The Winning of Jess," in which some of Bestock's wild animals are featured. The keeping of a regular menagerie for the production of plays in which wild animals are shown has become quite a part of the moving picture business. The Selig Jungle Zoo is very complete.

Cleo Ridgely to be seen today at the Imperial Theatre in the Marriage of Kitty, began her career by playing in the New York Hippodrome chorus in "The Arrival of Kitty." I don't think it is the same Kitty who has arrived at marriage.

The vaudeville specialties between the acts of the plays at the Opera House are very good. The singing and monologues of Mr. Ralph Heilston are enjoyable and the sensational escapes of Mr. Lindon Haverly are most mystifying. This afternoon after the matinee of "All of a Sudden Peggy," Miss Adams will hold a reception on the stage and each child attending will receive a small souvenir. The children should be delighted to have this opportunity of meeting Miss Adams.

The amateur performance of What Happened to Jones, given by members of the Y. M. C. A., was a decided success. They were coached by Mrs. A. C. Wilson, who has such decided talent in that line. The part of Jones was well played by Mr. D. Gordon Lindsay and Mr. Hilton Crowley gave a good representation of the professor. In fact it was a very creditable performance of this good old farce. The proceeds are for patriotic purposes.

The Unique had last night and has today a good comedy entitled Hearts and Clubs.

In order to devote himself more exclusively to Sir Robert Tree's forthcoming Shakespearean tercentenary festival, Percy Burton will shortly sever his association with Grenville Barker as partner in the production of "Androcles and the Lion." Mr. Burton will continue to act as general manager of Sir J. Forbes-Robertson. The show play "Androcles and the Lion," proceeded by the curtain-raiser, "The man who married a dumb wife," was in Toronto at New Year's. "Of all and words of pen or screen, the worst are these: 'That Night' I ween."

So far as can be learned Roy Clements, producer of joker comedies, is the first