

IN PULPIT AND PEW

PRESBYTERIAN

Rev. J. A. MacKellan of St. John has been in Toronto this week attending a meeting of the Assembly's special committee on church union.

Rev. Wm. Oldwood of St. Croix, N. B., whose health during the winter months was somewhat impaired, is taking a few weeks' rest at his home in Prince William, N. B. He assisted Rev. Robert Dewar at the communion service a fortnight ago.

Rev. Archibald MacKinnon of St. Matthews Church, Inverness, C. B., accepted the call extended to him by St. Andrew's Church, Lunenburg, N. S. He will succeed Rev. A. J. MacDonald, now chaplain in the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade.

Rev. Robert Haddow, D.D., of Toronto, editor of the Presbyterian, and the Westminster Magazine, has been making a short visit to his former home in Dalhousie, N. B.

Major the Rev. Dr. John Pringle, who has been on leave of absence from the front for a few months, sailed recently for England to resume his duties as senior chaplain of the Canadian Scottish Brigade on the western battle front. His leave of absence from his congregation, St. Andrew's church, Sydney, N. S., has been extended.

C. G. Pugsley, who has been chaplain in the mission field of Millbank, and Oak Point, presbytery of Miramichi, since the first of May, has returned from the field to undertake work in British Guiana under direction of the Foreign Mission Board.

A student missionary is needed for work at Harrington Harbor, Labrador, and Rev. Robert Johnston of Halifax, convenor of the Home Mission Board will welcome an application from a young man ready to undertake the work.

Much sympathy will be expressed with Rev. Thomas Sedgewick, D.D., of Tatamagouche, N. S., in the death of his wife a few days ago, after a protracted illness. She was a sister of Hon. J. D. McGregor, ex-governor of Nova Scotia. Dr. Sedgewick is the venerable clerk of the Synod of the Maritime Provinces and has already passed his ministerial jubilee.

Rev. A. F. Thompson died at his home in Toronto, N. B., July 18, from heart failure at the age of 74 years. He was a native of West River, Antigonish Co., N. S., a graduate of Dalhousie University and Halifax Presbyterian College. He held pastorate at Mabou, C. B. Bonaventure, N. B., Bathurst, N. B. After spending several years in the work of the Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., he returned to Canada and for a few years he filled appointment as minister of St. Mark's, Sydney, N. S., from which he retired a few years ago.

At the re-opening services of Hampton Presbyterian Church, P. E. I., July 16, after a period of renovation, the preacher at the morning service was a Baptist, Rev. E. P. Calder; in the afternoon, a Methodist, Rev. George Morris; and a minister of the Church of Scotland preached in the evening, Rev. James MacDonell. The pastor, Rev. J. S. MacKay presided at all services. There was exemplified a fine Christian fraternity.

The Presbyterian and Methodist Churches in the town of Morris, Manitoba, have united to form one congregation. This followed shortly after the action of the General Assembly on Church Union. After conference and discussion a ballot was taken resulting in a vote of 225 in favor of uniting and only 7 against. Rev. John Archibald of the Presbyterian congregation resigned in order to facilitate union. The new minister of the united church will be Rev. J. W. Johns.

METHODIST

There passed away at Spokane, Wash., N. B., in June last, Rev. Alexander, eldest son of Mr. Elijah Tuttle of Pugwash, N. S. He was born February 18th, 1832. In early life he, under the influence of Godly parents, gave his heart to Christ. After teaching for a time he proceeded to Mt. Allison and later to the Northwestern University. In 1858 he became a probationer in the Eastern British American Conference, was ordained in 1862. He filled some fifteen circuits in the Maritime Provinces, becoming supernumerary in 1900. He was a man of deep devotion to God and his calling. He acted on the thought, "This one thing I do." He had a passion for saving men and on every circuit he travelled he had many souls to his ministry. He was a true friend and greatly beloved by all who knew him.

Rev. Henry Penna, who has been forty years in the active service of the church in the N. B. and P. E. I. Conference and retired this year, is with Mrs. Penna, visiting their daughter, Mrs. Masters, Hazen street. They purpose visiting Gagetown, a former circuit of Mr. Penna's, and then taking a trip through Nova Scotia.

If you were in Nizamabad you would know that it is an important town in the Nizam's Dominions in South India, and the head of a circuit in the Hyderabad District. Fifteen years of hard and faithful labor yielded little fruit. The Gospel was preached, schools opened, the sick and suffering were cared for in an untiring ministry of healing, few converts were made, but the seed germinated and in the last six months 3,000 people have been baptized. Four thousand more are waiting for baptism, and the numbers are growing. Every circuit must train emergency students or there will be danger ahead. Twenty good married men have arrived; thirty more are needed at once. The Wesleyan Missionary Society under whose care they are has voted three thousand dollars as an immediate aid, and a company of business men are making appeals by advertisements for larger aid from the church in England. The recent Irish Wesleyan Conference sitting in the Carlisle Memorial church, Belfast, under the presidency of Rev. Waddy Moss, D. D., sent a telegram to King George expressing unabated loyalty, horror at the recent insurrection in Ireland, and determination to support the government in every effort to bring the war to a speedy and successful termination. On a reply from the king, expressing satisfaction at the resolution, being read, the entire gathering rose and sang the National Anthem. The English delegates, Revs. Simpson Johnson and John Ferrier Hulme, M. A., and Sir John Randle, were welcomed.

The Rev. W. J. Kirby after 44 years of successful and happy service in the various circuits of N. B. and P. E. I. Conference has been called to fill, in settling in his own home at Point de Bute purchased some time since. On Wednesday evening, the 12th, after the prayer meeting the friends sprang a surprise upon Mr. and Mrs. Kirby by bringing in some very acceptable gifts of furniture, lamp, etc. Even the children of the congregation would not be left out so brought their contributions.

BAPTIST

Mr. Lloyd George was present on Sunday afternoon at the annual flower service at the Castle street, London, Welsh Chapel. Following the rendering of "The Creation" by the choir, Mr. Lloyd George, speaking in Welsh, said he was glad to be present to hear this delightful interpretation of "The Creation." It was a rest to him in the midst of his work. Mr. Lloyd George added that at the present time we were passing through a period of gloom. But did not the first creation come out of chaos? And we had the same thing today, for the great and fearful elements were crashing as of old. It was a day of tribulation, distraction and despair. It was not only the day but the night—the night which preceded the dawn. When the dawn would come he did not know, but the present was a period when the dawn was in sight. And when the dawn came, said the Secretary of War, we would find a new era. The old world would be changed, and from the sound of battle and the tribulations of war there would be a new earth—a new heaven for us all. For when the night was gone the sun would rise.

To see a Sunday school which has not taken part in the general decline, and still more to know the reason why, one had but to attend the anniversary services of Lakerod Chapel Sunday school, Portmouth, on July 25. The day was commenced with a prayer meeting, and a praise meeting finished it. There was no preaching except that incidental to the telling of a good story, and on that Sunday there were told three such: The stories of John Bunyan; Christians; and the Immortal Dream. At the evening service the chapel, which holds 1,500, was packed, and the sight of the pastor, Rev. S. Pearce Carey, M. A., surrounded by his teachers and scholars, who did the reciting and singing, either singly or en masse, was inspiring. Mr. Carey has reincarnated the spirit of his great ancestor. The Sunday school is his constant care. On an anniversary the entire programme is written, arranged, and the reciters all trained by himself. The preparation is arduous, but Mr. Carey has his reward in the devotion of the boys and girls.

Between forty and fifty wounded and sick soldiers and sailors enjoyed a delightful outing on Friday, accompanied by the pastor of St. Budeaux church, Devonport (Rev. Arthur W. Wood), and members of the committee. The party were taken in buses through some of the most beautiful scenery in Devon to Ivybridge. Two members of the Urban District Council visited the men while at tea and spoke words of welcome and cheer in the name of the Ivybridge townfolk. The church rejoices in the honor recently conferred on two officers on its Roll of Honor—Captain (since promoted Major) Arthur and Lieutenant Basil Stephenson, sons of Mrs. Stephenson, who have received the Military Cross.

Rev. Austen T. Kempton, pastor of the Broadway Baptist church, Cambridge, Mass., has been paying a visit to his native province. He is a son of Rev. S. B. Kempton, D. D., of Dartmouth, N. S. He spent, also, some of vacation at Milton. He has now returned and will spend the remainder of the month at Oak Bluffs, Martha's Vineyard. During August he will again occupy his pulpit, and make preparation for the Sunday campaign. On June 25 and 26 the church at Sutton celebrated a most memorable anniversary. It was memorable for the great messages delivered to the people on the Sunday morning by Dr. Dixon, of the Metropolitan Tabernacle, on the Monday evening by Rev. Thomas Phillips, of Bloomsbury, and on the Sunday evening by the pastor (Rev. John Thomas). It was also memorable for the congregations that gathered to hear the messages, and for the spiritual enthusiasm that breathed through all the days. A spiritual quickening which has been growing through the months came in a tide for the anniversary services. A welcome consummation of Mr. Thomas' nine months' ministry. There was a great movement among the children of the Sunday school, many of whom are to join the church. Another group too young for church membership has been enrolled.

A unique record is that made by Rev. C. K. Morse (Acadia '03). He and two of his sons are now serving the Empire overseas, and all enlisted as privates in the Canadian Expeditionary Force. Mr. Morse enlisted at Winnipeg, but he is a Nova Scotian. The Tremont Temple Brotherhood, under the leadership of Rev. David Lockrow and Rev. Charles E. Eaton, holds services on Boston Common on Sunday afternoons at half-past three. Large audiences and frequent conversions are gained.
