Eloquent Address
At Stone Church

Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody Preached on the Subject "The Church and the Age."

Those who had previously heard that Rev. Dr. H. J. Cody was an eloquent preacher felt that the half had not been told them when they listened to a magnificent discourse last evening on the subject of "The Church and the Age." St. John's (Stone) Church was filled with a large congregation. Many of the words spoken by Rev. Canon Cody will linger in the memories of his hearers and his illustrations be long remembered for their picturesqueness or their literary value.

Rev. Canon Kuhring conducted the service, Miss Lorraine Bishop Richardson pronouncing the benediction. Rev. William Armstrong was also in the church.

The Church Defined.

The church was defined by Canon Cody as the "organized force of Christianity with Christ as the head and those who trust in Him, the body." The Anglican Church has been noted for her love of liberty, her serene after truth and her insistence upon reality. The Church is a worshipping body. Public Worship is the full dress parade of the Christian army, the Church is a teaching body especially in dealing with the young.

The Church bears witness to a Person not a system, to a Living Christ, who died, rose again, who reigns on High and dwells in the hearts of the faithful. As an evangelizing body, the Church must go ahead not stand still, teach not to keep quiet. Mission is the title which should be a challenge to all to serve.

The Church is essentially a humanitarian body, not only caring for the man who falls among thieves but seeing that the road from Jerusalem to Jericho is well policed, and that the robbers are trained to a better mode of living.

Reforming Body.

The Church was described as a reforming body and as a power for national righteousness. It was said that politics, the science of government, should not be taken part in by the Church, but should not be despised and men should be led to consecrate themselves to serve the state honorably. The critical nature of the age was explained, reference being made to the new era in Canada, the rebirth of the national spirit in Asia and the decadence of non-Christian religions.

The necessity for Anglo-American friendship was pointed out. The Church must present a united front, it must be adventurous and go forward in high hope because of its great faith in its Lord and Master who will give the ultimate victory. Before the service a recital was held under the directorship of D. Arnold Fox of Stone Church. The following fine programme was given:

Organ selections—First and Second Movements of Mendelssohn's Second Sonata—D. Arnold Fox.

Vocal Solo—"Open the Gates of the Temple" (Kipp)—Mrs. W. S. Harrison.

Vocal Solo—"Entrust Me not to Leave Thee" (Gounod) Mrs. G. K. Bell.

Vocal Solo—"The Lord is My Light" (Aitken) De W. Cairns.

Artificial Lashes
Worn By "Chickens"

Chicago, April 12.—When a fair young thing looks at you mistily through long, curling lashes, do not fall until you investigate. The long, curling eyelashes may not be hers except by right of purchase.

Artificial eyelashes are the latest trick of the fair to agitate the susceptible males. Originally they were intended for stage beauties who could not get the desired effect with a shoe blacking "beard."

The effect was too grotesque for "street wear," so the artificial lashes came into being.

The fringe, or artificial eyelash, is attached to the eyelid with adhesive and can be removed with a little oil. They are calculated to impart to the face of the wearer the "doll baby" start, so much affected by the wily legions.

COMMERCIAL CLUB
HELD CONFERENCE

The executive of the Commercial Club held a conference last evening with George Cushing, of Cushing & Co. Ltd., and Fred C. Baile, of the Stetson Cutler Co., lumber dealers, to discuss the raising of the new C. P. R. bridge at the Reversing Falls. The club deferred action until the Board of Trade meeting this afternoon, when they will co-operate with the Board in representations to be made to the Common Council.

ment, Second Sonata (Mendelssohn) D. Arnold Fox.

At the Offertory, William McEachern sang "Rock and Aria Ye People. Read Your Hearts, from 'Elisheh.' The singing throughout the service led by the choir, was excellent.

AS A WOMAN THINKETH

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)
The Great American Bachelor

America is the home of the Free Bachelor. The Bachelor is a product of the U. S. A., and indigenous to American soil.

He grows, he flourishes, he flowers here, like the maize and the golden-rod. He is one with the American Eagle, bin of Freedom. Other countries may have their strays, bachelors, here and there; but nowhere else will you find eight million of them!

Think of it! Eight million potential husbands, roaming this fair Land, safe and carefree! And nobody to stop them!

The vision makes an unmarried girl dizzy! In other countries, bachelors are rare and almost always accidental. But the "confirmed," or intentional, bachelor is a distinctly American institution—like green corn, and watermelon, and rocking-chairs, and chewing gum, and prohibition, and love-marrriages, and simplified spelling, and simplified divorce.

In England, a bachelor is usually a morose or pathetic creature, the victim of a bad liver, a depleted fortune, or a broken heart. On the Continent he is a freak; and in the Orient, he is an object of scorn, pity, or suspicion.

But in America, any bachelor of other thirty-five is invariably a BACHELOR-BY-CHOICE! And by the grace of Heaven!

He is a martial "Bohémian"—a revolutionist against feminine tyranny, and anarchy; and, above all, against the tyranny of the "spoiled and pampered American woman!"

He has looked cynically on, while other men gay, carefree and debonaire as himself were caught, blundered and backed out of the troopship of matrimony—and, when landed broken to double harness or hitched to the domestic plough.

He knows, only too well, that the snaffle and the curb are waiting for him; and he is wary of apples and sugar!

He builds a wall around his heart, throws up bulwarks of caution, and entrenches himself in a bachelor's fort, surrounded and defended by all the modern comforts: valets, home-brew, chafing-dishes, hole-proof socks, flirtations, and the attentions of many admiring matrons and dowagers.

He fights—he fights hard to escape! He has much—oh, SO much to lose—and nothing to gain, except a slight reduction in his income tax. At least, so it looks to him.

But, he is good cheer, oh ye damsels. He seldom dies with his bachelor-buttons on! There always comes "der tag"—the day, when he is weary, or careless, or bored, or peevish. The day when he succumbs, at last, to some violet-eyed flatterer, who calls him "Papa," and makes him chaporone her at dances.

The day of the Marrying Mood! Let him flutter along in his lightsome way, while he may—poor butterfly!

For, after all, a bachelor is merely a husband, "before taking"—Bachelors are what women marry!

And what chance has a chicken crossing the Boston Post Road—Or the Great American Bachelor in a Woman's World?

"I'm So Tired"

There is such a thing as being temporarily tired as a result of hard work. This condition is relieved by a good night's rest.

But when you are continuously tired at slight exertion and feel the ordinary daily tasks too much for you, it is time to consider the condition of the nervous system.

You find yourself easily irritated and worried, you have not the energy and strength to carry out your usual daily program, you do not sleep well and get up tired in the mornings, you may have headaches, and you feel down-hearted and discouraged.

Your nerves are tired, weak and exhausted, and you need the assistance which is best supplied by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Miss Amy L. Metcalf, R. No. 3, Arthur, Ont., writes:—

"I have used Dr. Chase's Nerve Food with the most favorable results. One spring I was very weak and run-down, and did not sleep well. I was very nervous and would cry for any little thing. My heart was weak and my head ached almost constantly. The doctor's medicine did me no good, and finally I began to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. After using six boxes of this medicine I felt fine. I have never used anything which has done me as much good as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I have also found Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills an excellent remedy."

(This is to certify that I know Miss Amy Metcalf, and believe her statement with regard to Dr. Chase's medicines to be truthful and correct.)—A. J. Springer, Methodist Minister, Arthur, Ont.

Screen Star Plays
Devil-May-Care Role

May Allison at the Imperial in
"Are All Men Alike?" Develops Mania for Reckless Driving.

Voices of director and cameramen awake strange echoes in the corridors of one of the most exclusive homes in the Berkshire Square section of Los Angeles one morning as the filming of May Allison's new Metro special production, "Are All Men Alike?" now on at the Imperial, was begun within its walls.

Miss Allison as the intemperate "Teddy" of the Arthur Ringer story, romped out of the house in jumpers and surprised neighbors by her expert handling of the internal mechanism of an outcast automobile. Having got those parts to rights, she sprang into it and caused the spectators to catch their breath in amazement as she all but ran down an elderly gentleman who chanced to be standing near the rush-hydrant drive.

The "elderly gentleman" was John Elliott, the veteran film actor, who plays the part of the uncle of the harum scarum heroine of the piece. In spite of his unimpaired confidence in Miss Allison's ability to drive a car under any and all circumstances, he showed evidences of nervousness as he picked himself up from among the roses while her machine careered around the corner and disappeared at a speed unknown even among Los Angeles' speed-mad motorists.

All of which is by way of showing how thoroughly May Allison enters into the part of one of screen characters, and how she is fairly launched in portraying the role. In "Are All Men Alike?" Miss Allison plays the part of a rich young girl who is simply fed up with the idea of being taken for a ride by a man who is taking such joy in risks to life and limb.

The plot of the story, published in Motion Picture Magazine under the title of "The Waffle Iron," calls for a long succession of reckless adventures on the part of the star. The story, which opens with a burst of reckless driving of fast automobiles by the girl, moves swiftly on to Greenwich Village, where under the influence of the long haired men and the short haired women of New York's far famed Bohemian settlement, "Teddy" becomes convinced that she must take up some of the "wicked things of life."

A two-reel Buster Keaton comedy rounded out a great show and the same bill will be on tonight.

Tomorrow, Zane Grey's story "Don't Get Lost" is to be the notable attraction, also the serial.

Results of Rosebud
Day Announced

Fell Short of Last Year's Contribution by Over One Thousand Dollars.

Rosebud Day results, as announced last evening, amount to $12,445. This does not include the $1,000 which will be canvassed on Saturday next. The amount collected is less by over a thousand than the sum given on Rosebud Day last year when $22,228 was given to the Children's Aid, but it is a record for the city.

The banks were counted yesterday at the Bank of Nova Scotia by a committee consisting of Mrs. W. Edmund Raymond, Miss Alice Ealey, Mrs. A. W. Ealey, Mrs. J. H. Doody, Mrs. T. L. Coughlan and Mrs. J. H. Frink. The Bank management courteously sent two clerks to assist in the counting and invited the ladies to lunch on at the Bank.

MOBIL WOMEN FORBIDDEN
STAGE

Constantinople, April 13.—The appearance recently of a number of Turkish women on the stage has resulted in an order by the Sheikh-ul-Islam, the religious chief, to the police to forbid women of the Moslem faith from appearing on the boards.

Work-Worn Women

Care and Home and Children
Often Causes a Breakdown.

The woman at home, deep in household duties and the cares of motherhood, needs occasional help to keep her in good health. The demands upon a mother's health are many and heavy. Her own health trials and her children's welfare come, heavy tolls, while hurried meals, broken rest and much indoor living tend to weaken her. No wonder that the woman at home is often indisposed through weakness, headaches, backaches and nervousness. Too many women accept these visitations as a part of the lot of motherhood. But many and varied as her health troubles are, the cause is simple and relief at hand. When well, it is the woman's good blood that keeps her well; when ill, she must make her blood rich to renew her health. The nursing mother needs more than any other woman good blood, and plenty of it. There is one way to get this good blood necessary to health, and that is through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills enrich the blood, and through their use many weak, ailing wives and mothers have been benefited. If you are ailing, easily tired or depressed, it is a duty you owe yourself and your family to give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial.

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 60c a box or six boxes for $3.00 from Dr. Williams' Pink Pills Company, 233 N. 2nd St., New York, N. Y.

WEDDINGS.

The German St. Baptist parsonage was the scene of an interesting event on yesterday afternoon when the Pastor, Rev. S. S. Poole, united in marriage Harold W. Manning, of Norton and Lydia L. Fanjoy, of Cumberland Bay. After a short wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Manning will make their home at Cumberland Bay.

He Thought Hard
And Voice Came Back

Minneapolis, April 13.—After thirty months' speechlessness, Paul Robertson, Brooklyn, N. Y., wounded, gassed and shell shocked soldier, has found his voice. "Faith in his power to talk" evoked the cure, said Dr. James McLaughlin, who was called to attend Robertson when he was "hooked queer" just before the vocal chord articulated the first word in nearly three years.

The vocal chord itself had not been damaged, said Doctor McLaughlin. "It simply happened that yesterday Robertson's subconscious, but suppressed wish to talk found expression in the conscious. That sort of thing is happening every day."

IT IS PUNCHY STORY THAT NEVER LAGS and never drags from the first reel to the final close-up.
