INCREASES TAXES OF BRITAIN'S "IDLE RICH"

Lloyd George Needs $49,000,000 More Chancellor Will Make No Change in Earned Income Rate Will Also Favor Those Who Have Made Improvements on Property—Super-Tax on Big Incomes and a Boost in Death Duties—Will Reach Big Tax Dodgers, He Says in Budget Speech.

(Canadian Press.) London, May 4—David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, introduced the budget in the house of commons today, and estimated the deficit for 1914-5 at $49,000,000. Adding in the charges against the exchequer of $21,000,000 arising from readjustment of the relations between imperial and local taxation and a necessary margin of $1,000,000, the chancellor showed the need of increasing the national income for the coming year by about $49,000,000.

Mr. Lloyd George proposed to set up a national system of valuation under which "idle" property would be separated from "improvement" values, and under which relief would be afforded the man who improved his property in proportion to the amount he expended. These proposed grants of relief to local taxation for purposes of public health, education, road construction, etc. would cost the nation about $8,000,000 a year. The existing tax on earned incomes up to $5,000 a year would remain unchanged, but for incomes above $5,000 the tax would be 10½ per cent (approximately 21 cents), in the pound sterling (approximately 85), on incomes between $5,000 and $10,000 a year the tax would be one shilling (approximately 24 cents), while for incomes above $10,000 a year the tax would be 18 per cent (approximately 82 cents).
