

RUBBER COATS AND OIL SUITS!

WE HAVE ON HAND—200 Suits, SINGLE YELLOW OIL SUITS; 100 Suits Double Yellow Oil Suits; 200 Drab Cambric RUBBER COATS; 200 Heavy Lined RUBBER COATS; 100 GOUCHINONS, RUBBER COATS; 144 New Check Twill Rubber Coats; 100 Pair Sclabro RUBBER LEGGINGS; 6 do RUBBER SPONGE BAGS. Lowest Prices.

EVERITT & BUTLER.

WHOLESALE WAREHOUSEMEN, 55 and 57 King Street.

OAK AND PITCH PINE TIMBER

For Ship Building purposes, constantly on hand. Also WHITE PINE BIRCH, &c., &c.
H. A. GREGORY.

Office—FOOT OF SIMONS STREET - - - Portland, St. John, N. B.
References—GUY, STEWART & CO., R.D. LEWIS & CO., DR. J. E. GRIFFITH, Dentist.

Office, corner Germain and Duke Streets, (OPPOSITE VICTORIA HOTEL).
SAINT JOHN, N. B.

42 Teeth Extracted without pain by the use of Nitrous Oxide (Laughing Gas)

MARITIME WAREHOUSING AND DOCK COMPANY!

Storage in Bond or Free. Cash Advances on all descriptions of Merchandise. BANKERS' CREDITS granted to Importers Application to be made to T. W. LEE, Secretary.

COTTON WARPS.

MANUFACTURED AT THE MISPECK MILLS, - - - St. John, N. B.

THE trade would do well to place their orders for Warps early. PRICES ARE LIKELY TO BE HIGHER AS THE SEASON ADVANCES, in consequence of the RISE IN THE PRICE OF COTTON.

Warehouse, - - - Reed's Building, Water Street.

J. L. WOODWORTH, Agent.

HOMESPUN!

The subscribers have on hand a large stock of

MISPECK AND OTHER MAKES HOMESPUNS,
At Prices Ranging from 40 to 70 cts per Yard.

The Cheapest and Best Goods in the Market.

WHOLESALE ONLY.

T. R. JONES & CO.

THE ACCIDENT INSURANCE COMPANY, OF CANADA.

President—Sir A. T. GAULT, Manager—EDWARD RAWLINGS, Esq.

LOCAL DIRECTORS.

Chairman, A. CHIPMAN SMITH, Esq., Mayor.
J. W. NICHOLSON, Esq.,
JAMES HARRIS, Esq.,
BOX T. R. JONES, JAMES DONVILLE, Esq., M. P.

Business Society Limited to Insurance against Accidents. The only Accident Insurance Company giving its Policy Holders a Definite Bonus.

Railway and General Travelling Tickets are now on sale at the principal Esplanade Hotel and Station, and at Mr. W. H. O'Brien's Ticket Office. 25 cents a day will insure $50 a week if travelled or $100 a week if not travelled within three months after the accident ceasing the policy. For particulars longer than five days the rate is reduced.

General Agent for New Brunswick and P. E. Island, C. E. J. JARVIS, St. John.

37 ACTIVE AGENTS WANTED.

JOHN McARTHUR & CO.,
Dispensing Chemists,
ACADEMY MUSIC BUILDING,
GERMAIN STREET.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC REMEDIES.

DR. SWEET'S
French Medicated Pastilles!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC NERVE CURE.

DR. SWEET'S
MAGNETIC LINIMENT!

The Daily Tribune.

J. L. STEWART, EDITOR.

FRIDAY EVENING, MAY 28.

The Carleton Fire—Water Pump.

Carleton has experienced what every body has been predicting—a big fire.

Rows of wooden houses and piles of seasoned lumber will burn, when once a fire gets hold of them, as long as there is anything left to burn, unless water can be thrown on in sufficient quantity to stop the progress of the flames. But water is scarce in Carleton, owing chiefly to the mismanagement of the Commissioners. It has long been suspected, and often positively asserted, that Job-bery has been practiced in connection with the water supply, and the worth-lessness of a reservoir that cost a very large sum, and other facts, have a very bad look. Jobbery or imbecility, and it is of little account which. One is as disastrous in its results, if not so bad in a moral aspect as the other. The people are blamed for unwillingness to be taxed for the improvement of the water supply, but it must be remembered that this unwillingness was chiefly caused by the feeling that the money would benefit certain ward politicians and civic officials more than it would increase the supply of water, and the result of the last special assessment has fully justified the fears of the people in this respect. The new reservoir was a costly thing for the people, a fat thing for those who handled the money and manipulated the contract, and no good at all to the town. There should be a thorough reform. Those who are incompetent, as shown by the results of their stewardship, and those who are suspected of jobbery, should be kicked out, and a new era inaugurated. The people, rather than pay enormous insurance rates or leave their property uninsured, will willingly consent to be taxed for whatever sum is required to provide the town with a full supply of water if they can depend on the honesty and efficiency of those who will have the management of the works. The wonder is that fires are not more frequent, not that they occur at all, and the owners of houses factory buildings, and other structures find it cheaper to increase the water supply than to pay the Insurance Company for carrying the extra risk. All the voters are not interested in injurious property; perhaps a majority of them are not, and our inquiries system of assessment—a system which has men's daily wages five times as much as it taxes real estate—causes a great many voters to resist assessments for fire purposes, as they know that they will have to pay more of the tax than the owners of the property to be protected.

Business Administration.

There is only one remedy for the financial distress that has resulted from undue inflation in commercial matters and patience. Our merchants seem to know that, and wait and watch with commendable hope and steadfastness. There seems to be no discouragment. Every body believes in the soundness of the business constitution, and has faith in the curative effects of time and economy. The banks are carrying a great many on their broad shoulders, as they ought to do, and houses are carrying small concerns.
Nobody seems willing to push anybody to extremities, and a good feeling prevails among all classes. Those who have money to lend exact a good price for it, as they have a perfect right to do, and the borrowers are glad to get it at any figure. The situation may not change until our market improves and the money market becomes easy, or some great failure may shake public confidence and cause a serious panic. It is to be hoped that this will not occur, and the prospect now is that of the period of stagnation will pass on without any such disaster.
But only time and patience, and considerable of both, will remedy the evils under which business labors now.

A New Strike.

It will be seen by an advertisement of the Executive Committee of the merchants who recently subscribed a fund of $100,000 for the purpose of freeing the port from the tyranny of the L. B. A., that it is proposed to strike against that society—to refuse to give employment to any member of it. Should the shipping merchants agree to this, with a like approach to unanimity, there can only be one result—the overthrow of the society. After a short period the men with families to support would have to sever their connection with the society, and those who retained their membership would be forced to seek employment elsewhere. We pointed out, the other day, the fact that the members of the L. B. A. were systematically endeavouring to squeeze the guaranteed men out of their places, so that the field would be clear for a new strike when new vessels were in port, and remaining of the merchants that the golden moment for striking the port of the nuisance had been allowed to pass unimproved.
The leading shippers, however, seem to think that it is not yet too late, and have resolved that no member of this society shall work for them. It is to be hoped that the majority will do so, and there will not probably ally with them, but the majority will do so, and there will be work for but very few of the members of a society that has done much to injure the reputation, retard the growth, and lessen the commerce of St. John.

The Incorporation of the Municipality.

The Incorporation of the Municipality is officially announced in the Royal Gazette.

A young man named Ward has been committed for trial for robbing the Post Office at Hopewell Cape. He was caught in the act by Postmaster Broadman and another person who had secreted themselves in the office expecting a repetition of a previous attempt to rob it.
Ward entered the office at the window by removing a pane of glass.

The Monoton Times learns that a wager of $100 has been staked by two Mon-tonians that Henderson can't run 150 yards in 14 seconds. The trial will take place on Thursday next.

In the House of Commons, Monday night, Mr. Fawcett, member for Hackney, moved that in the opinion of the House the Government's measures of reform of local taxation are inefficient and not in accordance with its promises, and that the delay in the matter impedes the progress of the country. The motion was rejected by a vote of 175 to 219.

Great crowds of people continue to attend the revival meetings of Messrs.
Moody and Sankey in London. Services were held last Sunday in Bow Hall and over 20,000 persons were present, and a thousand visited the nightly rooming houses. The revivalists are especially popular, especially the World and Standard, upon the movement of Messrs.
Moody and Sankey, are highly interesting. The house-visiting committees organized by the revivalists are severely criticized by the press.

The Archbishop of Canterbury writing to a Peer says: "I have consulted with my Episcopal brethren concerning the movements of the Society, and I am impressed with the view that the Society is in a state of decay, and that it is impossible not to take the deepest interest in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest, but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so consistently approved of. I confess that my original objections still remain. I cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I am convinced that the Society is in a state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so
differently and so widely represented.
Those clergymen who have held office
have not done so from a lack of interest,
but from a want of sympathy. The
Society's cause, circumstances attended
the movement, which has been so
consistently approved of. I confess that
my original objections still remain. I
cannot see that the councils given after
the meetings are of any value, and I
am convinced that the Society is in a
state of decay, and that it is im-
possible not to take the deepest interest
in the movement, which has been so