ROMANCE OF REAL LIFE. We have seldom met in works of fiction with a more touching incident than the following, which actually occurred a few days since in our own State: A young man, who was convicted of bigamy at Newburyport last spring, lately served out the term of punishment for which he was sentenced. At the railroad station he was met by his first wife, who station he was met by his first wife, who took him with her, gave him a new suit of Christopher Arthabaska; To facilitate clottes, and presented him with three hundred dollers, which she had earned since the period of his desertion. They left together for their of authorize the town of Chatham to disp former home, in new Hamsphire. We cannot believe that the generosity, the truly Christian forgiveness, the rich confidence of this noble woman, will fail to redeem the heart this noble woman, will fail to redeem the heart this noble woman, will fail to redeem the heart this noble woman, will fail to redeem the heart the confidence of the canada; To amend the charter of the canada; of the erring man on whom these treasures were bestowed. Let us believe, for the houor of human nature, that this "angel of the household" will be rewarded, even here on earth for her trust and her affection.

A farmer and his wife of our acquaintance hired a respectable young man to work for afsa, Bureau, Cameron, Christie, Co thera, and as is usual in our agricultural towns, Charles Daoust, Darche, Delong, DeWitt the employed dined at their table. Tache is the last man to meet the difficulty of the present hour. He may command the confidence of a majority of Lower Canadians—though we would regret to believe it; but the present crisis has been brought on mainly by the dissatisfaction in Upper Canada. Unless the new Administration can obtain stronger support in Upper Canade than its predecessor, it must fail. If Col. Tacha has any political sympathy in Upper Canada, it is to be found among the extreme men of the Tory porty; he could not get one man whom Sir Allan McNab had not; and if Sir Allan's policy and measures that outrage the feelings of Upper Canadians of all parties in what manner could Col.

The Dundas Warder states that the house of the Rev. Mr. Goodson, Methodist Minister of that town, was forcibly entered by robbers on the 20th inst. The rascals effected their entrance by the parlor window, from benches are generally required to wipe out whence the robbers found their way to the econd story and entering the bed-room of Mr. Goodson took his silver patent lever watch, chain and seals, a small cabinet box. together with $63 from the pocket of his nanaloons, which was hanging on a chair by his edside. Mr. Goodson had, it appeared, received a portion of his stipend but a day or two before, had he been permitted, intended aying off some liabilities during the day. During the same night, the opposite house occupied by Mrs. J. B. Ewart, was also broken into; but the plunderers having failed to get into Mrs. Ewart's bed-room, the dear of which was secured inside, they entered that occupied by Mr. Babington, and riffing his purse, containing only 11s 6d cy., they decamped. Mr. Babington's gold watch. lay ing on the dressing table, fortunately escaped

CORONER'S INQUEST.

On the 26th inst., an inquest was held by the selection of Colonel Tache. But we look D. J.
