WILL NOT TRY TO BOYCOTT REFERENDUM

Windsor Liberty League Launches Its Anti-Prohibition Campaign.

WINDSOR, March 22.—Windsor Liberty League launched its anti-prohibition campaign here tonight, when a public organization meeting was held at league headquarters.

Most of the discussion resolved about a memorial, to which the league throughout Ontario will attempt to secure 500,000 signatures. The memorial will be presented to the Ontario Government following the election, should the result of the vote prove favorable to the referendum, and should a large percentage of qualified voters fail to cast ballots.

The question of attempting to boycott the vote was also discussed at some length, but was finally abandoned on the ground that the time was too short for concerted action throughout the province.

During the meeting, ex-Mayor C. R. Tuson, who acted as chairman at the recent meeting at which Dr. A. S. Grant was chief speaker, was attacked by E. H. Raymond, president of the Walkerville branch of the G. W. V. A.

BRING IN VERDICT AGAINST WARLOW

WINDSOR, March 22.—Bringing in a verdict that Mrs. Louisa Warlow came to her death as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted by a revolver in the hands of her husband, John Warlow, with intent to kill, a coroner's jury tonight inquired into the circumstances attending the slaying of Mrs. Warlow in Walkerville on Saturday night. John Warlow is in the Hotel Dieu suffering from a self-inflicted gunshot wound following the shooting of his wife.

DECLARES DOUGHTY SAID THAT SMALL COULD BE KIDNAPPED

Evidence of Witness Admitted Despite Strong Objection of Prisoner's Counsel—Mrss. Small Says She Would Get $1,500,000 Under Will of 1903.

TORONTO, March 22.—Considerable progress was made in the trial of John Doughty in the county criminal court here on a charge of stealing Victory bonds to the value of $105,000, the property of his former employer, Ambrose J. Small, wealthy theatre owner, who has been missing from Toronto since the evening of December 2, 1919. Doughty was Small's secretary, and he is also under indictment on a charge of conspiring to kidnap Small. The trial on the theft charge will probably be concluded tomorrow afternoon. Seven witnesses were examined in the trial today, including Mrs. Ambrose Small.

Strong Objection.

One feature of today's trial was the evidence of a printer, Fred T. Daville, and frequent objections thereto by I. F. Hellmuth, K.C., counsel for Doughty. Mr. Hellmuth strongly objected to Daville's evidence in part and in whole, and contended that it had no direct bearing on the theft charge against Doughty, but was calculated by the crown to prejudice the jury against Doughty. Daville's evidence bore upon the conspiracy charge yet to be brought before the court, and Doughty's lawyer claimed that as it could not be answered by the defence during the trial for alleged theft, it should not be allowed. He characterized the admission of Davilles' evidence was "unfair." Still it was admitted by the court. The defendant's counsel expressed the opinion that Daville had talked matters over with the police before going on the witness stand.

Was Much Annoyed.

Daville's evidence went back to March, 1919, when he had called at the Grand Opera House to see Mr. Small in connection with the printing of theatre programs. He was annoyed, he said, because Small had not kept an appointment with him and used profane language to Doughty about the theatre owner. He said he told Doughty that he would like to "smash" Small, because the latter was always breaking appointments. Doughty replied, said the witness, that there was another way in which he could get at Small. When asked what it was, Doughty, according to the witness, said that Small could be kidnapped. The witness said Doughty suggested that they could get Small to sign certain letters which could be posted at intervals to Mr. Cowan, manager of the Grand Opera House here, instructing Cowan to pay certain specified sums of money to Doughty.

Suggested $250,000.

Daville said Doughty mentioned $250,000 or some similar amount as what they would likely obtain in this way.

Mr. Hellmuth, in his objections to Daville's evidence, pointed out that at the preliminary hearing in the police court Daville did not mention any specific sum of money as having been spoken of by Doughty. He also objected that Daville previously had not used the word "kidnapped." To these objections witness Daville replied that his memory was better today than on the previous occasion of his testifying.

Last To See Him.

Mrs. Ambrose Small's evidence included the fact that according to what Doughty had told her on the night of December 2, 1919, by telephone, when she called him up, Doughty was the last person who saw Mr. Small, and she saw Doughty the day of Doughty's disappearance on December 28. Doughty told her that Mr. Small was extremely nervous on the evening of December 2, when dictating letters to Doughty in the theatre office about 5:30. She had questioned Doughty, she said, as to whether he thought Mr. Small might have been affected by loss of memory, but Doughty did not seem to think so. So far as she could see, her husband and Doughty were on friendly terms.

She did not know that Small had appointed Doughty with full power of attorney in dealing with the vault. She presumed that when Doughty was under contract he had authority.

"You knew that Doughty was another Mr. Small as far as that vault was concerned?"

"No, I would not say that."

She did not remember even having rung up Doughty previous to December 2, but she would not swear to this.

Was to Get $100,000.

The bonds which Small handed her on December 2 were in fulfillment of a promise he had made previous to the sale of his theatres to give her $100,000 for charity, when the deal was consummated. None of the money had been so disposed of, because her husband had disappeared, and she was to have distributed the money under his direction.

Her husband's estate amounted roughly to $1,500,000, which becomes her property under his will made in 1903.

In pressing Mrs. Small for definite answers, Mr. Hellmuth said he did not intend to let any witness get by him, with such a charge hanging over Doughty.

EVE OF FIRST OF MAY IN GERMAN LEGEND.

The eve of the first of May is known in German legend as Walpugis Night. Then witches and other workers of evil hold high revel and offer sacrifices to the devil as their lord and master. The scene of their festival in Germany is the Brocken, a famous peak in the Hartz Mountains, 3,745 feet high. This annual festival was in the popular belief conceded to them in recompense for the loss they sustained when by Saint Walpurga, the Saxons were persuaded to renounce paganism with its rites for Christianity. Saint Walpurga was an English nun who, in the middle of the eighth century, went as a missionary to Germany. She was very successful and was held in high honor by those she converted.

NEW BILL GIVES CONTROL OF GAS TO MINISTER

Empowers Him To Disregard All Franchises and Agreements.

CAN CLOSE ANY WELLS

May Fix Rates Regardless of Any Existing Contracts.

[Special To The Advertiser.]

TORONTO, March 22. — Complete control of the Western Ontario natural gas supply is vested in the minister of mines or his representative by legislation introduced into the Ontario Legislature today by Hon. Harry Mills. The bill empowers the minister to disregard all contracts, franchises or agreements in dealing with the natural gas problem. Similar legislation was introduced at the last session of the House, but subsequently withdrawn on protests from municipalities fearful of increased gas rates. According to the minister, the bill as presented is the result of conferences between the municipalities and the gas companies.

Given Wide Powers.

In the bill provision is made for the exercise of the widest powers by the minister or his representative in dealing with production, transmission and sale of gas. According to its terms, he or his representative can close any gas well, cut off the supplies of individuals, companies or districts, and fix rates, notwithstanding any contract, agreement or franchise already entered into.

Appoint Referee.

A referee is to be appointed to whom appeals can be made in case of dispute. This official will pass on all cases brought before him for adjudication, and if he sees fit may refer a stated case to the appellate division of the supreme court. A clause in the bill makes it incumbent on the minister, before exercising the powers conferred upon him, of giving due notice and opportunity to appeal.

During the day the House devoted itself wholly to discussion of items of legislation, giving second reading to Hon. Peter Smith's bill increasing the corporation taxes, and first reading to a measure to provide for the establishment of Long Point Park on Lake Erie.

MOTION TO CUT RACING PROGRAM WAS SHELVED

Retail Merchants' Association of Windsor Taking No Action.

WINDSOR, March 22.—Members of the Retail Merchants' Association at a meeting here tonight, unanimously decided to shelve a resolution sponsored by Major Geo. H. Wilkinsonu, favoring a curtailment of the number of racing days in Windsor during the summon months. Prospects of a division of members on the resolution attracted a record attendance, a majority averting a vote by having the resolution sent to the board of directors for their consideration.

POISONED BY PILLS.

MOUNT BRYDGES, March 22.—As a result of taking two tablets each last evening, William Fox, a young farmer of the 5th concession of Caradoc, and his father-in-law, Robert Arnold, had a narrow escape from poisoning. Before retiring both took the tablets and early this morning became dangerously ill. Dr. W. H. Wood was called. He inquired what they had eaten on Monday, and discovered all occupants of the house had partaken of the same food except the tablets. The doctor stated today that he was having the pills analyzed. The patients' condition today is much improved.

APPOINTED POSTMASTER.

WOODSTOCK, March 22.—Thos. A. McClennaghan, who has been the assistant postmaster here for the past forty-two years, was this afternoon notified that he had been appointed postmaster, his term of office to commence July 1, this year.

H. J. Finkle, who was appointed postmaster about 15 years ago, has been superannuated, the same to take effect July 1.

DEFENDS FARM PRICES.

BRANTFORD, March 22.—Prof. A. D. Leitch, of the O. A. C., Guelph, addressed a gathering of Brant County farmers at a meeting of the board of agriculture here tonight. He offered a defence for the prices of farm products, and argued that farmers were not, as a rule, profiteers. The county board of agriculture held its annual meeting this afternoon.

HOPES TO SAVE GARFIELD.

WOODSTOCK, March 22.—Rev. Wilfrid Gaetz, Norman Garfield's spiritual adviser, is in Toronto today starting activities, it is said, for the purpose of having the death sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

The prisoner is in good spirits at the jail, giving no trouble and eating and sleeping well. His girl wife, who is staying at the Y. W. C. A., is allowed to see Garfield twice a day. In the morning she spends an hour with him in his cell, and again in the evening is allowed the same privilege, but always with the guard in attendance. Rev. Mr. Gaetz is almost a daily caller on Garfield.

VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA

Joseph Giroux Dies at Tilbury After Brief Illness.

Tilbury, March 22.—Joseph Giroux, Richardson avenue, died yesterday after a week's illness with pneumonia. He was a retired farmer, and was born in the province of Quebec, in 1866. When a lad of 4 years, his father, Joseph Giroux, who is now a resident of Tilbury Town, moved to Tilbury North Township and took up a farm in the pioneer days. Joseph followed the calling of a farmer until he retired to Tilbury about eighteen months ago. He leaves his widow and three daughters, Miss Eliza of Arnald's drug store staff, and Misses Madeline and Laura at home. Other surviving relatives are five brothers, Ephraim, grain merchant, of Tilbury; Solomon farmer, Tilbury East, and Hermidos, David and Ernest, farmers, of Tilbury North, and two sisters, Mrs. A. Audette and Mrs. Henry Chauvin of Tilbury Town. The funeral will be held on Wednesday morning, with services in St. Francis' R. C. Church, and interment in St. Francis' Cemetery.

WOULD FIGHT ANY ATTEMPT TO SEIZE GOLD

Germans Hold This Would Be Violation of Peace Treaty.

BERLIN, March 22.—The Reichsbank will sternly oppose any attempt by the Entente to seize its gold reserve to apply to the reparations demands, the Kreuz Zeitung learns. Any such move, the bank's directorate is quoted as saying, would not only be inimical to holders of German certificates, but a violation of the treaty and in contradiction to the practice observed by Germany on French territory and the French army on German soil, when the deposits in state banks were treated as private property.

The Reichsbank announces it will not surrender its gold voluntarily, and that seizures of gold would instantly result in devaluation of the currency, of which immense quantities are privately held abroad, notably in the United States, Holland and Scandinavia. These are estimated at twenty billion marks, while German bank credits abroad total another thirty billion.

The Reichsbank's gold reserve, according to the last statement, was 1,091,000,000 marks.

SERIOUS FLU OUTBREAK.

COBLENZ, March 22.—Influenza in epidemic form has broken out here among soldiers belonging to the United States occupation army. One battalion has been quarantined. There have been no deaths so far.

SERVICE IS OUR MOTTO

Service is something more than attention, something more than earnestness, something more than salesmanship; it is likewise much more than the sum total of all three. It is thoughtful, kindly, human, and not a mere impulse to automatic action. It depends not alone on courtesy and consideration of individual requirements, but, rather, on a pleasant anticipation of personal wants and desires. It means far more than routine activity. It means feeling, sincerity, initiative, the giving of something that cannot be purchased. This, alone, is SERVICE.
