Come, my young comrade, he said, 'you must take life a little more gaily. What can make you so sad?

'Can you ask that question,' replied Fridolin, you who have refused the boon on which I had staked my happiness? What, do you still think of marrying my daugh-

'Always, my heart will never change.'

Master Peter rubbed his hands anew. He had found the means to enjoy his newly acquired wealth without being persecuted by public curiosity and his wife's rapacity.

'My young friend,' the old man resumed, 'I will grant you my daughter's hand; now listen on what conditions. I am rich; I will give you much gold; you must say that you have inherited unexpectedly from some wealthy relative. As you were not born in Rotenburg, you will be credited. You will make a formal proposal for Lucy's hand to my wife, who will not refuse you, I warrant. Come to my room and you will know the truth.'

Fridolin listened in a sort of stupor to the revelations of Master Peter; he began to fear that the poor man was bereft of his senses. But when the contents of the mysterious barrel were revealved to his astonished gaze, and he had pinched himself into the assurance that he was not dreaming, he gave way to his joy, and expressed feelingly his gratitude towards the kind father who had consented to make him the happiest of mortals.

Having fully agreed upon their plans, the two travelers left Ellrich the next day, and proceeded gaily to Nuremberg. There Fridolin bought a suitable outfit, and started on his errand of love, while Master Peter remained to select the furniture and other housekeeping requirements, which he was to forward as soon as his son-in-law would advise him of the success of his application.

'Be careful,' said old Peter to the young man as they parted; 'keep our secret; reveal to no one what I have told you, except to your betrothed, who must be anxious about her poor father.'

Master Peter lived to a good oldt age, enjoyed peace and all the comforts of wealth; but nobody ever suspected the fortunate expedition he had made to the Harz mountains. Fridolin lived happy and contented with his gentle Lucy, and became finally Governor of Rotenburg. Strange to say, Bess never quarreled with her son in-law, and very rarely with

To give an idea of the wealth brought from the spirit's cave, we will add that it gave rise to the saying, common to this day among the good people of Rotenburg, who, when speaking of a rich landholder, say: 'He is as wealthy as the son-in-law of Peter Block, the inn-keeper, used to be in old times.'

THE END.

THE PROGRESS OF A LUXURY - For thirty years the fashionable world has been perfumed with MUR-RAY & LANMAN'S FLORIDA WATER, and its fame has been spreading as time flew. Having taken precedence of all toilet odors in the United States, it passed to the Southern Peninsula, and thence to all Spanish America, continental and insular. When Oalifornia became a State, she demanded it; and then Australia received it. With every civilized community in the Western world its name is a household word, its fragrance and refreshing power a household blessing. And still its reputation extends, and is likely to extend, to wherever an exquisite floral perfume is appreciated.

Purchasers are requested to see that the words " Florida Water, Murray & Lanman, No. 69 Water Street, New York," are stamped in the glass on each

CONSTITUTIONS IN RUINS. - The idea that the constitutions is runed is in most cases a vulgar error. ity of the vital forces is marvellous .the experiment of renovating them with that most powerful and genial invigorant—BRISTOL'S SAR—SAPARILLA. You may be feeble, attenuated, lethargic, infected with constitutional disease of the skin, the glandular system, the fleshy fibre, the nerves; but under whatever complication of disabilities or maladies you may labor, local or general, do not fancy, until you have tried this great re-storative in vain, that your constitution is shattered past help. In seventy-five cases out of a hundred it will re-establish a so-called ruined constitution.— It is important to use BRISTOL'S VEGETABLE PILLS at the same time with the Sarsaparilla, as they carry off from the system large quantities of morbific matter set free by the Sarsaparilla, thus hastening cures that would otherwise be slow and tedions. 511

SICE HEADACHE, NERVOUS HEADACAE, AND BILIOUS HEADACHE, all proceed from derangements of the stomach and liver, and no medicine yet discovered, so certainly, speedily, and thoroughly cleanses, tones, and regulates these organs as BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS. The warrant for this unqualified assertion is a mass of testimony, which any jurist in the land would pronounce conclusive. For example: Edward Warren, of Clinton Street, Brooklyn, writes, under date January 14, 1862 :-'After having suffered eight years from constantly-recurring sick headache, two vials of BRISTOL'S SUGAR-COATED PILLS cured me. This was five months ago, and I have had no relapse.' Mrs. Mary Wilson, wife of Robert Wilson, of Great Jones street, New York, says: 'Your Pills have restored my enjoyment of life. WHAT DID IT!-A young lady, returning to her country home after a sojourn of a few months in New York, was hardly recognized by her friends. In place of a rustic, flushed tace, she had a soft, ruby complexion, of almost marble smoothness; and in-stead of 23, she really appeared but 17. Who is this PROF. VELPANT? He was a man of obscure birth, but he has given the world a Remedy for bald heads and grey hairs, that will make his name immortal. Hair Restoratives are multiplying on every hand, but the great desideratum is to find an article that will accomplish the purpose for which it is designed without a thick unpleasant and offensive sediment.

Prof. Velpani has discovered a method of dissolving the ingredients, and holding them in solution, so that there shall be no deposit, and yet without destroying the essential properties of the ingra-dients. It is pleasantly perfumed, may be used at any time, is a splendid hair dressing without oil, and absolutely prevents the hair from falling off or turning prematurely grey.
