A MARKED CENT.

The Odd Way It Came Back to the Man Who Lost It.

Take an ordinary copper cent piece, stamp it with a private mark, put it into circulation, and what are the chances that you will ever see it again? There is one man who says that he tried the trick and succeeded at it. He is a business man who refuses to allow his name to be used in print about the story, but he tells the tale to many of his friends and he vouches for its truth.

In 1894, he says, he found a cent piece, dated 1893, in the restaurant of the Lafayette hotel. He pocketed it for luck and as a memento of a jolly little dinner scratched his initials on it just over the feathered head, while on the cheek he added those of the hotel. Until 1896 he treasured the coin, then drew it out of his pocket with a handful of other change and before he realized it the cent piece had gone the mysterious way of all money.

A year ago he chanced, being of a curious turn of mind, to fall into conversation one evening with a professional beggar at Broad and Chestnut streets. He upbraided the man for getting so much money for nothing.

"Oh," said the beggar, "I don't get so much. That's all I've got in the last hour." And he held up a cent piece.

At that moment the electric light fell upon the coin, and the business man, to his amazement, caught sight of the letters "H. L." on the cheek of the face. He took the coin and examined it more closely. Sure enough, there were his own initials just above the feathers where he had placed them a half dozen years before.

At once his prejudice against begging vanished. "I'll give you a dollar for that coin!" he cried.

The beggar grew wary at this eagerness and demanded $5. Needless to say, he got it and also of course the cent piece has never since left the business man's watch chain, which it now adorns.

Singers' High Salaries. Heinrich Corried, who has had so much difficulty in arranging the salaries of his artists that he declares their engagement to be the most difficult part of the work of putting on grand opera, has an explanation for the origin of the exorbitant prices demanded by foreign singers when America is mentioned to them. A number of years ago he was in Europe engaging artists for his comic opera company. He offered a certain singer $200 a week to come with him to America. The singer had been used to getting about a third of that sum and was on the point of accepting when he was approached by Anton Seidl and asked his price. He at once demanded $300 and finally compromised on $250. When he came to read the contract he found that, after the American fashion, he had been signed for $250 a performance and not for that amount per week. Fearing that Mr. Seidl might change his mind and try to break the contract, he took the first boat for New York and was on the ground two months before the opening of the season.

Girls in Turkey. In a recent book on his native country an intelligent Turk writes: "Formerly girls in Turkey were not allowed to learn the mystery of calligraphy. We have had some excellent postesses in days gone by but none of them could write; they dictated their inspirations. The common explanation given of this traditional prohibition—for it is a custom rather than a rule—was that if girls once learned writing they might have indulged in talismanic pastimes and eventually have become witches. As a matter of fact, the real reason was quite different. There was a fear, perhaps not ill founded, that, having once learned to write, they might hasten to make use of the accomplishment by composing love letters to young men with whom they could not otherwise communicate, for the strict seclusion of females cuts off all intercourse between young people of opposite sexes almost as soon as they have ceased to be infants."

The Unconquered Boers. A party of unconquered Boers has just arrived in Batavia, traveling to a Dutch colony under the auspices of a Boer relief fund committee. The government has assigned an abandoned estate for them to settle upon as small cultivators.

These Boers will be utilized for experimental purposes. There is much distress among the lower class of Europeans and Eurasians in Java. Many of them seek grants of land on easy terms, on which they could start cultivation in a small way. As most of them have no experience in farming, the government hesitates to put them on the land from fear of failure. The Boers, as practical colonists and farmers, are expected to show how to cultivate the land and make money out of it.

Meanwhile the dominant British faction in South Africa talk of filling the mines with Chinese coolies.

A Siberian Horror. As is well known, political prisoners in Russia and Siberia are treated with a rigor and cruelty unknown in any European country except Turkey. The mental sufferings undergone by prisoners who are sentenced to the latter form of punishment are so terrible that they do not infrequently go mad or lay violent hands on themselves. One of the most terrible cases of this kind recently occurred in the prison fortress of Tomsk, in Siberia, where, according to the St. Petersburg Life, one of the political prisoners, finding existence intolerable, killed himself by drenching his clothes with petroleum and then setting himself on fire before the warders could come to his assistance.

THE HOME DOCTOR.

To strengthen a weak throat gargle daily with salt and water for several months.

A paroxysm of coughing may often be arrested by taking a teaspoonful of glycerin in a little hot milk.

For local application to boils and carbuncles the best thing is water almost hot enough to scald (applied frequently with a small cloth). It must be hot.

Onions should be extensively used in the diet, as they are excellent for the nerves. They are also useful for coughs, colds, influenza, insomnia, constipation and for stimulating the appetite.

For relieving hoarseness try the following mixture: To the white of an egg add the juice of one lemon and a teaspoonful of sugar and take a teaspoonful at frequent intervals until the voice is cleared.

If you cut your finger, don't tie a rag around it. Let water run on the finger till it feels numb with cold, and then sprinkle a little salt on the place. It will ache for a minute, but the bleeding stops at once, and the pain is only momentary.

An Aid to Grace.

Every woman would like to be graceful, but very few women are by nature as graceful as they might be if they would take a little trouble in the matter. English women, as a rule, are far behind French and Italian ladies in grace of bearing, and the reason probably is that their bodies are not so carefully trained.

In Spain and Italy women of the higher class are generally expert swordswomen, for they esteem fencing as one of the best possible athletic exercises, valuable alike for giving strength and grace to the body and alertness to the mind. Young girls, therefore, are taught to fence as carefully as their brothers and as accurately, and there are many schools where ladies practice not only with the fella, but with the broadsword.

In America a few women of the "smart set" and a number of the younger actresses delight in fencing, but this form of athletics is by no means as popular as it deserves to be among the girls, and yet those few who take it up not only derive great physical benefit from it, but find it a most fascinating and exhilarating exercise.

Bubble Blowing For Beauty.

Physical culturists say that blowing bubbles is the most entertaining way of doing the deep breathing exercise now so widely recommended to improve health and figure, and also that the practice, if adhered to, will round out hollowed cheeks and improve the contour of the scrawny or too chubby throat. To blow bubbles seriously take a clay pipe, dip it in soapy water and blow as large a bubble as you can while seated. This must be done slowly and gradually or the bubble will burst. Then stand and do the same exercise when it has become quite easy. Now lie flat on your back on the floor, with shoulders well back and chin as high as possible, and blow your bubbles in this position. Another exercise is to lie flat on your face on a small square table, with feet extended and head and shoulders well back, then blow your bubbles. In both the last exercises it is well to first blow the bubble slowly and then blow after bubble as quickly as possible.

How to Boil Ham.

It is not nearly so easy as it looks to boil ham in such a manner as to retain its juiciness and good flavor, and yet there are few things more delicious than plain boiled ham when properly cooked. After selecting a ham, we will say, in the case of a small family, one weighing seven pounds, it should be soaked in cold water for twenty-four hours. This will reduce the extreme saltiness disagreeable to some palates. Next dry with a towel, put it in a pot, cover with cold water and boil steadily for three hours. Remove, take off the upper skin and dredge while hot with sifted bread crumbs, decorating the shank, if you choose, with a paper ruffe. Then lay the ham in a roasting pan and brown in a slow oven, which should take about twenty minutes. Garnish with parsley and serve.

Eye Brows and Lashes.

If one's eye brows and lashes are thin and short or inclined to fall out a simple treatment, if kept up, will have remarkable and gratifying results. Every night and morning gently pull, in a sort of pinching process, the brows, following their line as though shaping them into the penciled form; brush them with a soft brush and repeat the very gentle pinching process. This stimulates the circulation and strengthens the roots. Do the same with the lashes, pulling them very carefully, of course, from the lid, not from the lashes themselves. About once a month clip the tiny ends, and every night before going to bed apply a little vaseline on both brows and lashes. The growth will be stimulated and results noticed within a short time.

Women Who Wear Trousers.

At Kew gardens, in London, a small, intelligent, capable and scientific gardener of practical women gardeners is employed. They labor in the potting sheds, wield the pruning shears, study fertilizers and wear trousers. In summer their nether bifurcated garments are of dark blue linen or brown, as each wearer prefers. They have adopted long breeches strapped close to the leg below the knees and about the ankles to permit unimpeded stepping in and out among close set plants. A blue smocked frock loosely gathered in by a broad belt at the waist forms the remainder of their very sensible uniform. The public when visiting the famous gardens easily catches a glimpse of them.

WEALTH FOR YOU BECAUSE HEALTH FOR YOU.

Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder

Only 50 cents for bottle and tube, and is worth—as much as your life is worth. Catarrh kills thousands through colds, bronchitis, pneumonia and consumption, and Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder cures all of them when other prescriptions have failed. It will relieve colds and catarrh and cure headache in ten minutes.

FRED H. HELB, JR., the well known distiller of Railroad, York Co., Pa., states:—"I have had catarrh of the head and stomach for two years in the worst form. I tried all the medicines I ever heard of, but without relief. I used two bottles of Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder. It cured me entirely, I am now a well man."

In thirty minutes Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart will add strength to that organ. Feeding the body by a full supply of blood it fills life with the old time vigor.

Sold by Messrs. Gunn and McLaren, Druggists, Chatham.

LOSS OF APPETITE.

Is commonly gradual; one dish after another is set aside till few remain. These are not eaten with much relish, and are often so light as not to afford much nourishment.

Loss of appetite is one of the first indications that the system is running down, and there is nothing else so good for it as Hood's Sarsaparilla—the best of all tonics.

Accept no substitute for Hood's.
