

Visions

I SEE as the shadows of evening fall
A vision, my dearest, of thee,
Like the prettiest rose
That did ever disclose
Thine infinite beauty to me ;
And I linger alone
When the daylight is gone
And fondly sweet mem'ries recall.