Dublin, July 19.—Brackenbury, Director of the Criminal Investigation Department of Ireland, has resigned on account of a difference with the Lord Lieutenant, who did not agree with him in allowing the police to join secret societies in order to turn informers. Some new rules were also promulgated by Brackenbury, which offended the resident magistrates, several of whom lately retired.

London, July 20.—The crops in the north-west of Ireland are in a frightful condition. The hay is lying cut in the fields surrounded by water, and the potatoes are blighted.

Col. Brackenbury resigned the director-ship of the Irish Criminal Investigation Department in order to offer his services for the campaign in Egypt.

Gladstone stated Viscount Monck would be the fourth Land Commissioner under the Arrears Bill.

Dublin, July 20.—The position resigned by Brackenbury will be at once filled. Jenkinson, one of Earl Spencer's Private Secretaries, is mentioned.

London, July 21.—At a meeting of one hundred Conservative peers it was decided to allow the Irish Arrears Bill to pass its second reading in the House of Lords, but introduce amendments in committee. The amendments will not touch the question of loan or gift, but deal decisively with other portions of the Bill. London, July 21.—In the House of Commons Trevelyan's new clause of the Arrears Bill passed the second reading by 335 to 20. It gives boards of guardians power to borrow money at three and one-half per cent, to promote emigration, and empowers the boards to make a free grant of one hundred thousand peunds to impoverished unions of Belmullet, Clifden, Newport, Aughterard and Swineford for the same purpose

THE EGYPTIAN WAR.

There is little to chronicle as to the movements of Arabi during the past twenty-four hours, and that little is all uncertain. His army remains entrenched in its position, and is receiving daily additions. All that has been said as to its being in a state of mutiny and disorganization is untrue of the present force. The villagers are indignant at their plundering propensities, but dare not utter any remon-strances lest Arabs should take vengeance strances lest Arabs should take vengeance on them. He has spies everywhere, and the very magistrates themselves are his creatures and tools. The British troops, who were yesterday joined by the 3rd Battalion of the old 60th Rifles, are clamorous for an advance, and to-day General Sir Archibald Alison was more than half inclined to take the law into his own hands and march out against the insolent enemy. The immediate cause of his anxiety to attack Arabi was his work his anxiety to attack Arabi was his work on the Mahmoudieh Canal, and the con-sequent danger of a water famine here. He has, however, determined to await the instructions from home for which he has Arab spy says, has been flooded by the damming of the Mahmoudieh Canal. The water stands knee deep in some places, rendering the ground so soft that the movement of guns is impossible. Sir Archibald Alison leaves to morrow with engineers and sappers and a strong force to blow up the obstructions in the canal. It is not improbable that he will meet

It is not improbable that he will meet with some opposition from Arabi, and that this will form the first stage in the warlike operations which are expected.

Marines and blue jackets are all inside the city, except the newly arrived Rifles, who have occupied a fort about 400 yards outside the Rosetta Gate. They are excessively proud at being the only troops outside the city, and liable to bear the brunt of the attack at any moment. The country people around them are bitterly hostile to them. In fact they also show the effect of Arabi's proclamation, which the effect of Arabi's proclamation, which here as elsewhere has already effected a marked change in the attitude of every native. Servile civility has been exchauged for a sullen and insolent attitude.
Arabi's camp is visible from the tower of a house at Ramleh. His position is on a narrow strip of land flanked by two lakes, narrow strip of land flanked by two lakes, and is a very strong one. His troops are being constantly exercised. Admiral Seymour, in his despatch to the Admiralty giving his account of the bombardment of Alexandria, says that the Egyptains fought with determined bravery, firing until they must have been decimated. The situation regarding the water supply is becoming alarming. There has been a fall of two inches in the Mahmoudie Canal, and unless more troops arrive soon to enable Sir Archibald Alison to drive Arabi Pasha from the pumping soon to enable Sir Archibaid Alison to drive Arabi Pasha from the pumping stations, the consequences will be terrible. It is not likely that it will be attempted just at once, as it cannot be effected without artillery. A battery is on the way from Malta; but as it has been shipped without horses, which cannot be obtained here, the guns will be useless till the arri-val of the mules which are en route from Portugal. The city is waking up to business again. The markets and the Bourse are being re-opened and refugees are returning to the city. They are not wanted, however, as water is so scarce.

As there are constant rumours of an attack, vedettes are being posted within feel of each other outside the walls for feel of each other outside the walls for a distance of seven miles. As yet they have had no cause of alarm, though they have had the intelligence brought them that Arabi's troops are still further damaging the canal at Bayadieh, and that thirtysix more Europeans have been massacred at his camp, where it appears he has a number of them prisoners. Pressure is therefore, being nut on the Khediya to therefore, being put on the Khedive to proclaim Arabi a rebel and murderer. Alexandria, July 22-General Alison is moving with two regiments of infantry and a mounted squadron in the direction of Arabi's entrenchments. The movement will probably lead to an engagement. Port Said, July 22—Fresh earthworks have been thrown up by Egyptians at Fort Guernial, six miles from here. Arabs at Ismailia are murdering Copts. Every European has now left Cairo. London, July 22.-It is said the British force in Egypt will soon number 15,000 available men. The Duke of Connaught, Generals Alison and Wood will command the brigades.

London, July 23.—An Alexandria correspondent gives the following account of the movement of Gen. Alison in the direction of Arabi's entrenchments :- A company of engineers started first in the with gun cotton and mining, with the object of blowing up the railway and isth-mus between Arabi's centre and Alexan-dria, and preventing him attacking us in other way than straight before the Rosetta gate, where we are very strong. Six companies of infantry, twenty-four mounted infantry, and a company of rifles followed. As soon as we replied to the Egyptian fire the Arabs took shelter. After the engineers had worked an hour we got a signal mine dug all round, when a great column of smoke arose, followed by a loud report. The isthmus divided, the rails were severed, and the work was done. The troops then returned to Alexandria.

Afterwards Arabi advanced on the Alexandria waterworks, just outsid the lines, and sent word that he intended to blow down the place, but, having altered his mind, retired. His men sacked part of Ramlet during their retreat. We lost nobody during the skirmish. The enemy's loss is unknown. Scouts report Arabi has three lines entrenched with strongly-armed artillery. 7 p. m.—Arabi is now making another naisance. Scouts report his cavalry in Ramleh. London, July 23 .- The Times' Alexandria special says it appears tolerably certain that Arabi Pasha's force is composed of 8,000 men, 36 field pieces, 6 Gatling guns and an unknown number of smooth bores, taken hence and placed on earth-works in front of his position.

St. JEROME'SCOLLEGE, BERLIN, ONT.

During the administration of that most zealous prelate, Rt. Rev. Dr. Crinnon, Catholicity has made great strides in the diocese of Hamilton. This fact is proven by the many churches, schools, convents, asylums, and kindred institutions that have, during that time, sprung up everywhere. But one of the most noteworthy events in the history of Catholicism in this diocess has been the founding and completion of St. Jerome's College, Berlin, by the fathers of the Resurrection, from Rome.

This institution, situated in the most beautiful and healthy part of Waterloo Co., was begun by Rev. Dr. Louis Funcken, C.R., some twenty years ago. The Rev. Dr. was then a newly-ordained priest, unaccustomed to our manners, and a stronger in our

was then a newly ordained priest, unaccus-tomed to our manners, land a stronger in our land. As a consequence he met with many revises and trials in carrying out his design. Such great efforts as his could not, however, long remain unrewarded, and the college, after some years of doubt and per-plexity, is now a great success. The cellege has been completely improved and rebuilt, and at present St. Jerome's, both frem an architectural and educational standpoint, ranks with the first Catholic in-standpoint, ranks with the first Catholic in-stitutions in the province. In the improve-ments great care has been taken to insure ments great care has been taken to insure the comfort and health of the students, and the dormitories, classrooms, refectory, study, corriders and recreation grounds are spaci-ous and well arranged; these are also well lighted, heated (in winter) and well veati-lated. The aim of the institution is to fit young men, by a thorough classical and literary training, to enter upon the higher professional studies at seminaries and uni-versities. That this aim is being carried versities. That this aim is being carried out is seen from the fact that among the graduates nearly all are filling respectable and responsible positions in society as priests, lawyers, physicians, missionaries, teachers and business men, in Canada, the United States and Europe.

United States and Europe.

The college is directed by the Fathers of the Resurrection, well-known in America and Europe as able trainers and educators of young men. The discipline is mild and paternal, the fathers always striving to paternal, the fathers always striving to make of the students a happy and united family. St. Jerome's is under the patron-age and has the full and cordial approba-tion of the Lord Bishop of Hamilton and His Grace of Toronto. During the last year the college was very prosperous and successful in its work, as was well shown by the successful examinations and com-mencement exercises in June last. For this year there were eight graduates. They are mencement exercises in June last. For this year there were eight graduates. They are as follows: Messrs Henry Koenig and Ben. Henry, both of Detroit, Miehigan, Andrew O'Brien, Hamilton, Ont.; P. McGuire, St. Catharines Ont.; D. Gartland, Philadelphia, Pa., C. Droste, Westphalia, Michigan, John Donovan, Morris Run., Pa., and John A. Lally, Detroit, Michigan. Altogether we believe the Catholics of Ontario may well be proud of St. Jerome's of Berlin, and, we are stree that the many friends of the institution will be delighted to hear of the success will be delighted to hear of the success and will join in wishing it a hearty "God-speed" on its glorious mission—the Catho-

A DAY'S PLEASURE.

Annual Picnic of St. Mary's and St. Patrick's Sanctaary Boys.

Hamilton Times.

Hamilton Times.

Yesterday the sanctuary boys of St. Mary's cathedral and St. Patrick's church held their annual picnic at Dundurn park, when an enjoyable time was spent by the boys and a number of their friends. A good programme of games had been arranged, the prizes for which were a handsome writing desk, autograph albums, pencils, kalediscopes, balls, and a well selected lot of other useful and ornamental articles. At one o'clock a game of base balliymas started between the two nines from both sanctuaries, the result of which, after several innings, was a victory for St. Mary's by a score of 16 to 11.

Following are the names of the players; St. Mary's—D. McCowell, p.; T. Halloran, c.; J. Buckle, J. Arland, N. Bucke, W. Bucke, F. Puffy, J. Hennessy, T. Williams. St. Patricks—E. O'Brien, p.; Jas. Cummings, c.; John Cummings, James O'Brien, John O'Brien, P. Donovan, James Cox, P. Padden, and R. Macauley. All the boys showed considerable knowledge of the game, which was very interesting. At the first annual picnic, held last year in Dundas, St. Patrick's boys completely paralyzed st. Mary's team, and they were surprised at their defeat this year. Following is the report of the games; One hundred yard race, seniors, 1st., J. Cox: 2nd, N. Buckle; 2nd, F. Duffy and J. Hen-
