

Remnants of Tweed

By the Pound at
Removal Sale Prices

COME in to-day and look through our tweeds by the pound—you'll pick up a bargain here in an excellent quality—better than are usually sold by the pound.

We are showing some high-class pure-woollen tweeds that we have priced to make a complete clearance before removing to our New, Modern Store, in the West and are offering them now at a third less than the original price.

Come and see the patterns—we are sure the qualities will give entire satisfaction—you can select a piece here to make a man's coat, a pants, or a pants and vest and it is just possible that the piece you'll select will give you from two to five years constant wear—you know how a well-woven piece of pure-woollen tweed wears, better than we can tell you.

When you call take your time and look through the lot of eight hundred pounds, because the very pattern you are needing may be at the bottom of the pile—we'll wade through them and help you to be suited—a piece large enough for a man's pants may weigh 2 pounds and perhaps much less.

Removal Sale Price a pound $1.00.

Splendid pieces amongst this lot suitable for making garments for sturdy school boys.

We also have a special lot of Union tweeds, in Men's Suit Lengths, in a variety of neat dark patterns. Regular a pound 90c.

NO CONFIDENCE IN BOWRING OR MUNN

(Editor Mail and Advocate.)

Dear Sir—As regards the Bowring and Munn outrage, I would say that the fishermen should never again place confidence in such men. They have again placed Kean master of a steamer. Surely Munn and Bowring do not think that Newfoundlanders are so forgetful as to forget Kean's criminal act of 1914, when so many of our noble men died on the ice-foe.

Men of Newfoundland, consider for one moment the suffering of our brethren on that awful night of March 31 and April 1 last. Then ask yourself the question: Was Abraham Kean fit to so Master of a sealing steamer again? I say no, and so does every right-thinking man in the country. Let us all work together in this matter and turn him down. If all the sealing captains were like Kean, Bowring's business would not be kept up very long.

Let us show Munn and Bowring that Kean will not be allowed to escape his just deserts. Let Bowring's search Newfoundland and see if they cannot find men who know how to handle a vessel and how to treat their fellow creatures like men.

A CONSTANT READER

(Editor Mail and Advocate.)

Dear Sir—I am a constant reader of the Mail and Advocate, but I very seldom see anything in it from or about this place. Its not because the union men here are cold unionists; for they are all together the contrary, which some of the outport friends would see if they were to come to this ancient settlement and see what have been done with the Union store since it has been started.

I tell you Mr. Editor that the "Apple Merchant Graballs" are pulling in their horns since this Union store has been started, and it has been hinted that one of them said it was just as well for him to leave this place now. I say it is too and the sooner they all pack their "doodle bags" and get the better. Last summer when the union store closed it was great for the grab-balls. They said that, that would be the end of all the union stores and the union too. Now sir, who got the best fun, the Union men or the grab-balls? I will answer that question for you and say its the Union men, they laughed last, and they will laugh loudest.

Well Sir, there is great sale made of the Mail and Advocate here now. You want to be on time to get a paper (its not so with other papers.) Crowds of people are waiting every day for the mail to come, and then every minute is an hour to the people.

I have often went there and have had the door pushed in my face when trying to get in for our mail, and by no one else but those lookers on, who of course were plotting against the Union folks. I bought a paper the other day that was so black from lying down under Postmaster's feet and against the stove. I could scarcely read it. But we believe the time is near at hand when we shall be better accommodated. If some of the money Kaiser Morris spends on his picnic tours was put towards a post office we would get our mail in better condition than we do now.

We are proud of the stand you have taken in Bowring-Kean business. The Union men here are at your back and voo to Kean if they got him in their clutches. You got an instance of what the Port de Grave men would do when they tried to stop you from going through Bay Roberts. Go ahead Mr. Coaker you will be sure to come on top.

We had some molasses from the Union and later we had some from a grab-all merchant and the union molasses came on top, for it was no trouble to know one from the other, the union molasses was so much better.

What I said before I repeat it: "Go ahead Mr. Coaker we are at your back and you will be sure to come on top." Thinking I have taken up too much of your valuable space I will close.

UNION PARADE AT WOODS' HR.

(Editor Mail and Advocate.)

Dear Sir—Please allow me space in your esteemed paper to make a few remarks on our first F. P. U. parade which we held on the 10th of February. We had with us the Chairman and seven friends from Frenchman's Cove council, and the Deputy and six friends from Lark Hr. and a few friends from Penguin Arm council. We left the C. of E. school and went west to the other end of the harbour and then took the ice and travelled to the east end of the Island where we received a grand reception, hunting guns and fog horns greeted us on the arrival. On the East End we met an old fisherman 88 years old, Joseph Perry, and he gave us a grand address.

We proceeded to our destination and sang God Save the King on return to the hall. The ladies had supper provided for us there and we enjoyed it heartily. An address was given by the Chairman of this council on behalf of Frenchmen's Cove, and Lark Hr. and Penguin Arm councils. Our friends and ladies enjoyed themselves in dancing.

We had an old lady with us aged 78 years. She walked three miles to be present at our entertainment. John and Earnest Barnes sang the F. P. U. We had a splendid address from the Deputy of Frenchmen's Cove on the excellent way in which they were treated by the ladies of this council.

Remember Mr. Editor it is all F. P. U. women as well as men in this harbour. We then gave cheers for the F. P. U. and the President. Thanking you for your space Mr. Editor, and with three cheers for Mr. Coaker and the F. P. U.

Yours,
JOHN C. ROURKE,
Chairman.

GREECE DIVIDED INTO TWO CAMPS ON WAR QUESTION

(Editor Mail and Advocate.)

Rome, via Paris, March 8.—Special despatches to Italian newspapers from Athens describe the situation in Greece as grave. Correspondents are of the opinion that the intervention of Greece on the side of the Allies already has been agreed upon and that the crisis which now is apparent is artificial, having been arranged to make it easier for King Constantine to decide against Germany, to which he has felt under some obligations for family and political reasons. The influence of Germany is supposed to have been responsible in a considerable measure for Greece obtaining possession of Kavala and Saloniki on the Aegean Sea at the end of the Balkan War.

London, March 8.—Special despatches received from Athens by the morning papers express doubt whether M. Zaimis will be able to form a stable Government for Greece. He is Governor of the National Bank of Greece, and is not definitely attached to either party.

The despatches assert that popular opinion seems to incline in favor of the policy of M. Venizelos, and the correspondents express the belief that under these circumstances Venizelos will prevail and that the crisis will subside as rapidly as it arose. It is further asserted that for three days Athens daily has been expecting a declaration of war, the factor which changed the situation being the Allies attack on the Dardanelles.

"The Zaimis partisans," says The Daily Mail's Athens correspondent, "favor a neutral attitude with a flavor of benevolent interest in the Triple Entente. Their policy, in fact, is that of sitting on the fence. The temper of the people seems to desire a simpler and more decided action. Their feelings naturally are somewhat confused at seeing even a temporary difference of opinion between two such national heroes as the King and Venizelos, the joint architects of the present prosperity of Greece."

Athens, via London, March 8.—The Journal Paris, which is regarded as a Venizelos organ, gives the following account of the crisis in Greece: "During the second sitting of the Crown Council, Premier Venizelos proposed that only one division of

OBITUARY

JONAS WATKINS
(Editor Mail and Advocate.)

Dear Sir—Kindly grant me space in your esteemed paper to record the death of my uncle, Jonas Watkins, one of the heroes of the "Clan MacNaughton." He was a loyal member of the L.O.A. and also of the F.P.U. When the call for volunteers came he was one of the first to answer the call of his King and Country. His tragic death has cast a gloom on our settlement.

He leaves a mother, father, brother, and four sisters to mourn the loss of a good and true son, a fond brother and companion. To his parents and relatives I extend my sincere sympathy.

LEANDER PRITCHETT

Dear Sir,—I wish, through the columns of your widely-read paper, to record the death of one of our best-known residents in the person of Mr. Thos. Leander Pritchett. Deceased, while hunting on Feb. 20, had the misfortune to get his left arm shot away by the exploding of his gun. All that medical aid could do was done for him in the Hospital at St. John's, on March 1 he passed away. The news of his death cast a great gloom over our harbor. The deceased was well-known and highly respected, and was one of the type of men too quickly passing from our midst.

His funeral was the largest seen here. Interment was in the C. of E. cemetery. To his bereaved relatives we extend our sincere sympathy.

COAKER ENGINE CAN'T BE BEATEN SAYS FISHERMAN.

Mr. W. F. Coaker, M.I.A.

Dear Sir,—Just a few lines concerning the Coaker Engine that I purchased from the U. T. Co. this spring. I have used this engine all the summer without any trouble or difficulty; it really works like a clock.

We had our traps twelve miles from the schooner and that engine used to go there twice a day for a month, making its forty-eight miles a day back and forth, and used to tow another trap boat with her, which made a difference of about seven miles in forty-eight, so she actually ran fifty-five miles per day while at Belle Isle.

At Mugford's Harbor she averaged about thirty-five miles a day from the 14th of August to the 10th of September. I would not change this engine for any other six horse power engine on the market, either for speed or simplicity of operation. I passed motors this summer up to nine horse power. I haven't seen one to go with her this summer.

I advise all who want a good strong and reliable engine not to refuse the Coaker Engine, for she is certainly the best on the market.
