THE "WINDOW-DRAPERY" GOWN A NEW WHIM

There is more than a little suggestion of a luxuriously draped window in this dinner gown for week-end wear. A lambrequin arrangement of brocade in shades of American Beauty rose is draped over a frock of filmy lace frills, and the rounded cut of the drapery, and its trimming of massive silk tassels increases the suggestion of a handsome lambrequin falling over lace curtains. A draped girdle of the tunic material rises over a simple bodice of the lace, a cabuchon brooch set with rubies holding the high sash at the point of the décolletage—an effect very smart just now.

ON THE RETURN TRIP WITH THE WOMEN'S PRESS CLUB

REGINA, June 25.—Vancouver, recent years since the sub-division craze has been before the country, had to be left behind at last. However, as we have had to tear ourselves away, some of our party going to spend several days at Victoria—others on to Seattle, and back by the "Crow Nest Pass"—a few to the mountain resorts again for more explorations—but our little cotem of party leaving for Winnipeg. One missed the Oriental and little "Jap" porters which greeted you at every turn in British Columbia. However, our colored porters took very good care of us in the Pullmans as we journeyed eastward. The mountains not quite so much of a novelty perhaps as on our outward journey, and every minute possible spent out on the rear platform of the observation car, breathing in that glorious and invigorating mountain air. We drew in and out of half a dozen rain falls—the white clouds almost closing us in—but everything looked so fresh and lovely after the rain. Rainbows of glorious colors following and touching the sun-clad peaks.

Short stops were made at Field, Glacier, Lagan, Banff—then on and back to Calgary, which we reached in a pouring rain also. A half hour at this point, then on again to Medicine Hat, a live looking little city, now enjoying a great "boom" they told us, owing to the wonderful natural gas resources, and American oil men also locating there very rapidly. Moosejaw in the wee small hours of the morning—and now Regina where we are to remain, until the "Imperial Limited" comes along at 6:50 p. m., when we go on through without pause to Winnipeg. This city, while not large, has many fine buildings, substantial looking banks, on every corner—beautiful, collegiate institute, good hotels, and splendid parliament buildings, which while guests of the Canadian Club, we are to visit later in the day together with other places of interest.

Fortunately we are prepared for all kinds of weather, and it is just as well, for it is a very weepy sky above us. "In regret for our departure," the western hostess tactfully tells us. Rain coats are pretty close to the door, and Regina mud sticks closer than a brother.

One should not draw comparisons, but to us Edmonton and Vancouver stand out as the choicest localities along the line—as either of these cities to settle would be ideal, and those who were fortunate enough to take possession in the "early days," now reap their reward. The Pioneer tells wonderful stories—and best of all they are really true. In

The lower section of the skirt is of the net while the embroidery tunic was of the embroidery reaching below the knees and opening at the left side. A girdle of pompadour silk with sash ends completed the costume.

A cotton girdle, has a waist in jumper effect, with the jumper, cuffs and fancy low collar finished with fagoting, a touch of handwork which adds an air of distinction to numerous summer gowns. The skirt is tucked around the hips and has a deep insertion of heavy lace around the bottom. The under portion of the waist showing vest and sleeves is of the lace. A velvet ribbon girdle with long ends encircles the waist.

DAILY FASHION HINT.

Lady's Four Gore Skirt.
This is a good model for part of a costume or for use with separate waists. It may have the normal waist or the high style of finish. It has four gores, with a tab extension at the knee in front and a wide panel effect in the back. It is here that the closing is placed.

Serge, cheviot, satin, silk, linen, sponge and the like may be used for a skirt of this design.

The skirt pattern, No. 6218, is cut in sizes 22 to 30 inches waist measure. Medium size requires 4½ yards of 38 inch material. Width of skirt at lower edge 2½ yards.

This pattern can be obtained by sending 10 cents to the office of this paper.

Eight days must be allowed on receipt of pattern.

Can Brantford stop St. Thomas? The fans will know by Wednesday night when a four game series is concluded here.

Peterboro has just taken three out of four from Guelph, while Hamilton has copied the series from London. Ottawa was expected to beat Berlin but they have to fight hard for the rest of the games. The league surely looks a funny one.

Manager Kane says his club will have to fight hard for every game that they win from now on. The race is getting so close that no club is easy to beat. Kane believes that the Red Sox will climb although he expects a hard battle each time.

There will be a double header at the Park to-morrow, Dominion Day. St. Thomas will fill both morning and afternoon engagements. On Wednesday the game will be called at three o'clock to allow both the Saints and Red Sox to get away east.

Brantford has 14 players but the club is within the salary limit. As lines are still out for new players, there may be releases this week. The release of Tesch, has already been announced in this column. It was premature, for which we apologize to Tesch. But if he happens to be let out, we hope he lands a berth elsewhere to good advantage. It is our opinion that he doesn't fit in exceedingly well with the Red Sox. At that there are others whose measured pants are not good, but they may improve.

The work of Spillane on Saturday, for a youngster breaking into good company, favorably impressed everybody. He did not get a safe hit, but
