What We See in Looking Over Our Exchanges.

The great city of London is said to be so clean that cholera will have no chance there.

It is hot enough in Toronto, but it is hotter in New York city. The people are dying of heat there.

Learn to labor and to wait, especially to wait. Jacob Buckler, a wealthy butcher of Milwaukee, got tired of the heat and hanged himself on Wednesday. The next day it turned cool. Jacob should have waited a day or two.

The wealthiest man in the world is the Chinese banker Han Qua, of Canton. He pays taxes upon an estate of $150,000,000, and is estimated to be worth a billion taels, which, in our money, to be about fourteen hundred million dollars.

Canadians are a nation of grumblers. While other countries are being ravaged by plagues and famines, torn up by cyclones, washed out by floods, and wrecked by wars, all is serene in Canada, and yet Canadians are always complaining about something.

Lord Dufferin has been appointed viceroy of India. He is probably the man that England could put in the place. He was the most popular governor-general Canada ever had, and he has shown himself to be an accomplished diplomat.

A new method of finding a husband has been tried by a young lady of Albany. She sent up a toy balloon, to which she attached a card bearing her name and the further inscription, "If any good-looking young bachelor or widower finds this, will he please return it?" After a week's absence the balloon was found by a young farmer, who returned it with his compliments and photograph.

A Minneapolis artist who has been in Alaska during his summer vacation says that all the members of his party, and there were seventy-five of them, agreed that the Greek church at Sitka is the finest church in America. It is built on the plan of a Greek cross, and the interior is a mass of gold and silver, of the magnificence of which the writer says he can give no idea. The walls are hung with portraits of royalty and the priesthood, sent by a Russian princess who took this temple under her patronage. Who would have thought of going to Alaska for an architectural masterpiece?

Bees sometimes take up their abode in strange places; and some years ago a swarm flew into the roof of Stourmouth church, near Wingham, and as the vicar would not allow them to be disturbed, they bred and multiplied, and accumulated good store of honey in that elevated position. But now another vicar has arisen who does not sanction the busy bees within ecclesiastical precincts; so they have been destroyed; and their carcasses filled a couple of good casks, while their honey turned the scale at two hundred weight. This is not an isolated instance, for bees swarmed into the parish church of Coston, in Buckinghamshire, just at its restoration; in an old tower in Bony park, near Nottingham, there are bees and vast quantities of honey.

The Exchange bank's premises, Montreal, have been sold and delivered.

China is willing to submit her difficulty to the arbitrament of any friendly power.

It is estimated the deaf and dumb institute at Belleville will have 270 pupils before Christmas. The attendance nearly reaches that now.

The steamship Oregon has just arrived at Queenstown, having made the passage in six days, eight hours and thirty minutes—the fastest on record. The ocean vessels will soon rival the railway trains if they keep on increasing their speed in this way.

A great many children on Amhurst Island are prostrated with a malignant form of diarrhoea. It is almost impossible to arrest the disease till after nine days, by which time the little sufferers are terribly emaciated. Dr. Kennedy of Bath, is on the island attending to cases daily.

THE PRACTICAL

Home Physician,

A New Medical work of 1100 pages, well illustrated. Written by four of the prominent physicians of the United States.

I have carefully examined the work entitled The Practical Home Physician and am so well pleased with its truly scientific character that I do not hesitate to recommend it as eminently fitted to serve the purpose for which it is written, surpassing any effort of the kind I have ever seen. The introductory plate of itself, conveying so faithful an idea of the inner structure of the human body, is by no means the least unworthy feature of the work.
C. B. CORNELL, M.D.

The object of the Practical Home Physician is to convey to the general public an exact or general knowledge of the diseases incidental to the human body and the most approved methods of their treatment from the highest medical sources. Composed not for any special class but for the direct use of the public at large, got up with vast labor and care on the most important subject connected with the human life, the knowledge of disease and the most approved methods, and medicines to restore the sick to health, in language so plain that "he who runs may read." I hail the work with the greatest satisfaction and most cordially recommend it as a household book to the general public.
