Ald. G. W. Cowan reports that he has received a communication from the American firm with which the Industrial committee has been in communication with a view to having them locate here and that the firm is willing to accept the proposition made by the council at its last meeting provided some changes are made in the offer. The offer of the council was a free site costing $500, exemption from general taxes for ten years and a limited amount of free water. Mr. Cowan is quite confident that he has secured the factory, but refuses to divulge the name of the concern until the city's proposition is finally accepted.

SOIREE.

Excellent Concert Given at St. Joseph's Hall Last Evening—Dr. Thornton's Address.

The second entertainment of the Royal Course of entertainments being given in St. Joseph's hall was held last evening and notwithstanding the unfavorable weather, the hall was well filled. This concert, called the "Soiree", was gotten up by the ladies altar and aid society and the ladies deserve much credit and praise for putting on such a successful and enjoyable concert.

Dr. W. Thornton, the popular Chatham orator, gave a delightful and entertaining address on "Ireland and the Irish." The address was well given and very interesting.

The numbers given by Ed. and Howard Minor, sons of the local artist, were highly appreciated and they had to respond to several encores.

Ted. Robert, of Detroit, did some very clever juggling and button swinging. Rev. Father Herbert opened the concert with a most little speech.

Miss Hanna and Mr. Nichols gave a vocal duet.

Miss Gavin gave a vocal solo.

Ed. Minor gave a selection on a violin made of a cigar box and a broom handle, making very sweet music. He had to respond to an encore playing "Irish airs."

Miss Nellie Carson and Frank Phelps were the accompanists of the evening.

G. O. I. NEWS.

The Band of Mercy, a new society in the history of the school, is being organized. Its pledge reads: "I shall try to be kind to all harmless living creatures, and shall do my utmost to protect them from cruel usage." In view of the fact that some young people—and others not so young—are wantonly and thoughtlessly cruel, there is plenty of scope for the beneficent operations of such a society. The young ladies canvassing for subscribers to the pledge report that two lads when asked refused to sign it. It will be interesting to notice the career of these young men, for it is out of such material that criminals are sometimes made.

The work in English classics to be read for the Xmas examinations, supplementary to the regular class work in literature, has been announced. For all rooms, Exodus, chapters 1-20; Form 3B, Tennyson's Princess, second half; Form 3A, Milton's Paradise Lost, Book II.; Form 2B, Scott's Lady of the Lake, second half; Form 2A, Washington Irving's Sketch Book, completed; Form 1B, Longfellow's Evangeline; Form 1A, Longfellow's Courtship of Miles Standish.

The twenty best shots are to be chosen today, that they may enter the competition for the Back shield. The marks obtained by the pupils at the late bi-monthly examinations are being reported day by day. Averages, percentages and rank are absorbing topics among the pupils.

The Literary and Musical Society held a good meeting yesterday afternoon in the Assembly Hall.

The Young People's Literary Society of the First Presbyterian church held their regular meeting last evening, when Ray Peck gave a chat talk. This talk was mostly of a humorous nature and it was much enjoyed and appreciated.
